COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Additional Readings:

Patrick Manning. Navigating World History: Historians Create a Global Past. New York: Palgrave MacMillan, 2003. ISBN: 9781403961198

Jerry Bentley, Herbert Ziegler, Heather Streets-Salter. Traditions and Encounters: A Brief Global History, Volume II. Third Edition. New York: McGraw Hill Higher Education, 2013. ISBN: 9780077412067

Additional required articles and readings for each week will be available in eCollege under DocSharing.

A Note about the Course Texts:

Students are expected to acquire the course texts prior to the start of class. Failure to do so will hinder a student's ability to keep up with the course, and the Instructor is in no way responsible for such an eventuality. Allowances will not be made for students who lack possession of any course books.

Course Description:

This course introduces the historiography of World History with a post-1950 emphasis. You might know the basic chronology and important events that shape the history of the world, but World History is much more than that! We will explore the development of this growing field and investigate some of the major questions historians are pondering in recent World History scholarship. We will also explore a wide variety of approaches to ‘doing’ World History, known as methods. Throughout the course, we will pay close attention to the links between World History research and teaching World History at the high school and undergraduate levels.

Student Learning Outcome:

Students will become familiar with dominant theories and methodologies used in world history teaching and research.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments:

The reading assignments and class sessions are listed for each week. I expect you to complete your readings on schedule. You will submit all written assignments electronically through eCollege so be sure to familiarize yourself with the application before any assignments are due. To access this course, go to MyLeo, login, click eCollege on the right side of the screen, then click My Courses on the left side of the next screen and look for this course.

Assignments:

Weekly reading summaries and questions (15 @ 20 each)	300 points
Three independent book/journal reviews (100 each)	300 points
Peer review of cohort submissions (50 each)	150 points
Sign up for H-World and one contribution to discussion	50 points
Theories & methods final exam	200 points
TOTAL:	1000 points

Semester Grades: A: 100-90%; B: 89-80%; C: 79-70%; D: 69-60%; F: 59% and below.

The general grading criteria for all written assignments in this class is based on the following:

A = Mastery of content and reading material; factual accuracy; thoughtful interpretation or argument that synthesizes original thoughts and ideas with content; technically clean

B = Good-to-excellent command of the majority of content and reading material; competent factual accuracy; a generally solid historical argument backed with adequate evidence

C = Fair command of content material; reasonable factual accuracy; ability to articulate a specific thesis or argument even if it is not original or is poorly supported by the evidence

D = Poor command of content; factual errors; no real argument driving the essay

F = Even worse than above; completely off topic; no work submission

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

The following information has been provided to assist you in preparing to use technology successfully in this course.

- Internet access/connection – high speed required (not dial-up)
- Word Processor (i.e. MS Word)

Additionally, the following hardware and software are necessary to use eCollege: Our campus is optimized to work in a Microsoft Windows environment. This means our courses work best if you are using a Windows operating system (XP or newer) and a recent version of Microsoft Internet Explorer (6.0, 7.0, or 8.0).

Your courses will also work with Macintosh OS X along with a recent version of Safari 2.0 or better. Along with Internet Explorer and Safari, eCollege also supports the Firefox browser (3.0) on both Windows and Mac operating systems. Students using Google Chrome report consistent errors and failure to load.

It is strongly recommended that you perform a “Browser Test” prior to the start of your course.

To launch a browser test, login in to eCollege, click on the ‘myCourses’ tab, and then select the “Browser Test” link under Support Services.

Citation Style:

Chicago (15th or 16th edition) or Turabian; footnotes with bibliography.

Late Assignments:

Late work will not be accepted.

Extra Credit:

There is no extra credit in this course.

Class Conduct:

I will treat you with respect and I expect the same in return. Please exercise common classroom courtesy as if you were in a traditional classroom setting.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is taking someone else's work and passing it off as your own words, thoughts, or ideas. This includes, but is not limited to, using direct quotes out of a book or from the internet as your own words, properly using quotation marks but noting the wrong person as the author, purchasing a paper or exam from friends or strangers, using material from the internet verbatim as your own words, and cutting and pasting entire papers or internet pages and passing it off as your own work. Cheating on any assignment or allowing others to copy your work is another form of academic dishonesty.

It is fine to use other people's words and ideas as long as they receive credit in citations. If you are unsure about the precise definition of plagiarism and/or think you may have committed this form of academic dishonesty, see the instructor or visit the Online Writing Lab before you turn in the assignment.

I have absolutely no tolerance for plagiarism! If a student commits academic dishonesty on any part of an assignment, the assignment will receive a zero with no possibility for make-up. If academic dishonesty is committed a second time, the student will immediately fail the course and I will pursue the maximum university discipline possible. This is not negotiable.

Writing Lab:

The TAMU-Commerce Online Writing Lab is a valuable service free to any student. They can help you get started on a paper, help with drafts, and answer specific questions about citation style, grammar, and spelling. While they will not write the paper for you, they are there to give feedback and guidance.

University Specific Procedures:

ADA Statement

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities.
