COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings:

Textbook(s) Required:

- Texas TExES Generalist EC-6 (191) w/Online Practice Exam by Luis A Rosado
ISBN-10: 0-7386-1051-8 or ISBN-13: 978-0-7386-1051-1
- Field-Based Teacher Education Program Handbook [revised July 2013].

Course Description:

The characteristics and challenges of English language learners will be explored. Attention will be given to the development of reading fluency and written communications in the content areas with second language learners. Language assessments including the SOLOM will be studied. This course explores the integrated nature of learning with reading as content focus. Seminars are conducted in CPDT centers; field-based applications take place in public schools under the guidance of public school teachers and university personnel that comprise the Instructional Leadership Team. Prerequisite EIED 300; Rdg 350, 370; admission to teacher education program; placement in a CPDT center; minimum overall GPA of 2.5 and must have passed TSI.

This course is taught in an integrated manner during seminar by Center Faculty and includes ELED 437, 438 and 443.

Student Learning Outcomes:

The following learner outcomes are specific to the EC-6 English language arts and reading standards. While engaged in learning and teaching, the intern will show evidence that s/he understands:

- the importance of oral language, knows the developmental processes of oral language, and provides a variety of instructional opportunities for students to develop listening and speaking skills;
- the fundamental language concepts and knows the structure and conventions of the English language;
- the processes of first-language (L1) and second language (L2) acquisition and the interrelatedness of L1 and L2 development;
- the ESL teaching methods and uses this knowledge to plan and implement effective, developmentally appropriate instruction;
- the importance of utilizing formal and informal assessment data to inform instruction;

- factors that affect ESL students learning and implement strategies;
- the components of phonological and phonemic awareness and utilizes a variety of approaches to help students develop this awareness and its relationship to written language;
- the importance of the alphabetic principle to reading English, knows the elements of the alphabetic principle, and provides instruction that helps students understand that printed words consist of graphic representations that relate to the sounds of spoken language in conventional and intentional ways;
- that literacy develops over and time and progresses from emergent to proficient stages and uses a variety of contexts to support the development of literacy;
- the importance of fluency to reading comprehension and provide many opportunities for children to improve their reading fluency;
- the importance of reading for understanding, know the components of comprehension, and teach strategies for improving students' comprehension;
- that writing to communicate is a developmental process and provides instruction that helps students develop competence in written communication;
- how students use and develop writing conventions;
- the basic principles of assessment and the use of a variety of literacy assessment practices to plan and implement literacy instruction for their students;
- the importance of illustrations and concrete examples with use of hands-on experiences, as well as content and vocabulary development for English language learners---example: use of cognates with English learners;
- that characteristics of dyslexia are typically exhibited as a deficit in the phonological components of language and that it is often unexpected in relation to other cognitive abilities and educational level;
- the recommendation process for dyslexia assessment and 504 procedures;
- the use of Response to Intervention (RTI) as a process to identify students at risk of dyslexia, as well as learning disabilities; and
- how to provide instructional modifications and early intervention strategies to support the needs of students at risk of dyslexia.
- how students will be able to view themselves as engaged citizens within an interconnected and diverse world

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments

Instructional methods in this course will be delivered in a seminar setting, including but not limited to, lectures, discussions, internet researches, modeling, displays and presentations, classroom applications of TEKS & TExES Competencies, state standards, mini-teaches, and classroom teacher presentations. Also, instructional strategies utilized by the instructor will stress the importance of illustrations and concrete examples with use of hands-on experiences, as well as modeling content and vocabulary development for English language learners--- example: use of cognates with English learners. Instructor will model effective lesson design.

Content Lesson Requirements:

Lesson Plan – each formal lesson that is evaluated should be developed around Lesson Design or the 5 –E model and should include:

- TEKS objectives
- accommodations and modifications, including but not limited to...ELL's, gifted, and/or special needs
- at least one visual aid
- integration of technology and children's literature is encouraged

Formal Lesson Evaluation Requirements:

- Turned into mentor:
 - lesson plan
 - self-reflection using the evaluation tool
- Turned into liaison:
 - lesson plan
 - mentor's evaluation of lesson
 - a copy of liaison's formal evaluation of lesson

Global Characteristics of ELL Students Requirement

Take a tally in your classroom of any multicultural literature that you find. You will incorporate one of these books into your content area lesson that is presented with your group during seminar.

Disclaimer: The instructor reserves the right to make changes to the schedule of the class. Any alterations will be announced in class or via email by the instructor. Students who are unable to attend class due to an emergency should check their email, and connect with class peer to obtain information missed.

Final Grading

Grading will reflect a combination of seminar and field work. Field focus: prior preparation, strength and delivery of lessons, knowledge of subject matter, utilization of lesson design, and assessment of student progress.

The following holistic scoring will be utilized:

- A (90 – 100%) = Commendable. Well above average in initiative, thought, organization, reflection, and implementing professional choices. Evidences extensive control of own decision-making and learning processes. Monitors, adjusts, and manages independently. Excellent attitude, attendance, participation and completion of assignments by due date
- B (80 – 89%) = Developing. Functional, but in need of instruction regarding initiative, thought, organization, reflection, and implementing professional choices. Evidences some control of own decision-making and learning processes. Monitors, adjusts, and manages--but requires intervention. Good attitude, attendance, participation and completion of assignments by due date
- C (70 – 79%) = Needs Improvement. Some lack of initiative, thought, organization, reflection, and responsibility. Evidences little to no control of own decision-making and learning processes. Does not adequately monitor, adjust, and manage. Sometimes exhibits poor attitude, attendance, participation and completion of assignments by due date.
- D (less than 70%) = Not recommended for teacher certification

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

The following technology is required to be successful in this web enhanced course:

*Internet connection – high speed recommended (not dial-up)
Word Processor (Microsoft Office Word – 2003 or 2007)
Access to University Library site
