Student Behavior: Disturbing the education of students by other students is taken seriously. Appropriate (as defined by the instructor) level of interaction/participation during discussions and all interactions is expected. It is my expectation that every student will have the utmost respect for their peers in class when discussing experiences of a sensitive nature.

“All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment.” (See Student’s Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct.)

Academic Honesty: The Student’s Guidebook addresses the issues of academic cheating and plagiarism. These are a breach of conduct, and students are subject to disciplinary actions.

Attendance: The student is expected to attend and participate through the course dates. University guidelines will be followed (See 2014-2015 Undergraduate Student’s Guidebook). Only University approved excuses (in writing) are accepted reasons to make up assignments, activities, or tests.

- a. You should log in on a weekly basis and contribute to online discussions.
- b. On average, you will be expected to read substantive materials weekly. Do not wait until the last minute to start your reading. It is advised to stay on top of the assigned readings.

A&M-Commerce will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status. Further, an environment free from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression will be maintained.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

This course is web based and will require you to work on ecollege an online course program. You will be required to connect multiple times a week and participate in class discussions. The technology requirements are outline below in that section.

Participation: Students are expected to make an active and personal effort to contribute to class, as a part of developing professional collegial skills. This will include such basic commitments as prior preparation, regular attendance (logging in), and participating appropriately in discussions and other class activities. I consider class participation to be one of the most important, yet underrated elements of a student's education.

There are numerous elements that go into class participation:

- a) Good attendance logging on multiple times a week
- b) Somewhat frequent, and preferably intelligent, contributions to class discussions
- c) On average, you will be expected to read assigned materials weekly. Do not wait until the night before the exam to start your reading. It is advised to stay on top of the readings.
- d) Polite and civil interactions with all members of the class (See Student's Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct).
- e) Online classes require special consideration to our written word and may require some additional thought and consideration, to state a point of view in a manner that indicates respect for the other party.

Evaluation and Assessment:

Method	Total Percentage
Weekly Assignments	60 %
Discussions	40 %

Assignments: 60% grade

Following instructions is paramount for full credit. There will be weekly writing assignments. The assignments will focus on comparing and contrasting or defining a concept in ethics. The writings are for your personal reflection/ exploration, of your values and ideals. Most of the assignments will have a minimum length of 3 pages (not including title page and reference page!), requiring the writer to be succinct and clear in their writing style and thought processes.

Your writing assignments must be formatted based on APA-style (6th edition). If you are unfamiliar with this style, check out the tutorial at <http://www.apastyle.org/learn/tutorials/basics-tutorial.aspx>. Not all of it will be relevant for this paper because it is a literature review rather than a full description of an empirical study, but it will still be helpful.

Your writing assignments must be double-spaced, with 12-point font (preferably Times New Roman), with 1-inch margins. Submit as a .doc or .docx. Also, be very careful not to plagiarize any of the literature you summarize. You must summarize in your own words, but if you feel you must include direct quotes, please do so sparingly. Surround each quote in quotation marks and put the page number source in parentheses at the end. For example, "this is the quote" (p. 576).

There are a few special writing assignments in which specific directions are given. There will be a due date requirement (turned in by Sundays at midnight) and No makeup assignments will be given. Assignments must be turned in on time to be graded. Examples of document formatting are provided, I behoove you to look at and follow the instructions.

Online Discussions 40% Grade:

1. Students are required to participate in the online discussions each week. In general, these assignments are designed to augment your comprehension of the material. For obvious reasons, there are absolutely no make-ups for these online class discussions.
2. Each student is required to post at least 3 responses, the first of which must be posted by Wednesday of the week to allow for ample feedback and discussion by all students.
3. Discussion postings must be substantive and thoughtful responses, to receive full credit. A substantive response includes content and contextual additions, add something to the discussion. "Wow I agree", or "How interesting", are not substantive responses. For full credit write at least a few sentences and some of your own original thoughts not just responses to your classmates.
4. The discussions are open from Monday 1AM through Sunday, midnight (11:59PM) of each week.
5. Each posting can earn 5 points each for a total of 15 points each week.
