Textbooks: Rathus, S. (2014). HDEV (3rd Edition). Belmont, CA: Wadsworth.
Halbur, K.M. & Halbur, D.A. (2010). Developing Your Theoretical Orientation in Counseling and Psychotherapy (3rd Edition).

Course Description: This class will explore the developmental growth of humans across the lifespan. It will focus on theories of human development as it pertains to cognitive and social and emotional development. In addition to development, this course will explore developmentally appropriate counseling strategies from various theoretical orientations.

Class Format: This course includes discussion formats as well as group activities. Each student is expected to come to class prepared to discuss the assigned readings.

Course Objectives: The primary purpose of this course is to familiarize you with the stages of human development across the lifespan as well as enhance your knowledge of psychotherapy strategies from various theoretical orientations.

Professional Conduct: All students are expected to conduct themselves as mature adults while in the classroom. Please refrain from using cell phones while in class. Please place all cell phones on vibrate prior to entering class. If you must take a call, please leave the classroom first. Also, NO children will be allowed in class. Students are allowed to use their computers while in class to take notes, however, if it interferes with class participation or becomes a distraction in any way, the ENTIRE class will not be allowed to use computers during class.

Academic Integrity: Cheating will not be tolerated. Any student found cheating will be subject to disciplinary processes described by the Code of Student Conduct. This also includes plagiarism. Do not use the words or ideas of another without giving that person credit.

Students with Disabilities:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:

Grade Determinations

Evaluation Breakdown:

	Total Percentage
Attendance	10%
Participation	20%
Group Activities	35%
Case Conceptualizations (2)	20%
Final Exam	15%

Attendance: Class attendance is mandatory and critical to your success in the course. Students are expected to attend class as scheduled. Students are also expected to arrive on time and stay for the entire class. Excused absences may be allowed under extreme circumstances with documentation (i.e. emergency room report). If you are absent for any reason, please make arrangements with a classmate to get any missed notes or assignments. Please note that attendance makes up 10% of your final grade.

Class Participation: Class participation is mandatory and a vital component to class discussion. All students are expected to contribute to the topic of discussion. Please note that class participation makes up 20% of your final grade.

Group Activities: Group activities are graded role-play activities where students will work together to put counseling strategies into practice. Please note that group activities make up 35% of your final grade.

Case Conceptualization Assignment: Each student must complete two case conceptualization assignments. The assignment will consist of applying the assigned theoretical orientations to cases. Please note that this assignment makes up 20% of your final grade.

Final Exam: The final exam makes up 15% of your final grade. The exam will assess your understanding of the material covered in class. Please be on time for the exam. If you are late, you will not be allotted extra time.

Exam Absence Policy: Students should make arrangements to be present on the day of the exam. Make-up exams will be given only if the absence is excused under university policy. Students who miss exam day, must notify the instructor prior to the exam. Please note that documentation is required for make-up exams. Make-up exam format and scheduling will be at the instructor's discretion.
