Students will have the opportunity to gain "class room" experience with the installation, administration, and operating characteristics of such networking systems as Netware 3.12, Windows 2008, and Linux. Those wishing to take the various networking certification exams will find this course helpful. Three (3) semester hours. Prerequisites: Experience with Computer Programming or Permission of instructor. Graduate co-requisites: CSCI 515

Student Learning Outcomes

After completing the course:

1. Students shall develop an understanding of basic Data Communications, networking topologies, the OSI Model and the IEEE 802 standards. Determined by MidTerm Exam1.
2. Students shall observe the installation and use of various networking platforms from the SPX/IPX and TCP/IP environment. Determined by MidTerm Exam2.
3. Student shall develop skills in IP subnetting, and understand the use of IP addresses, and the fundamentals of IP routing. Determined by Final Exam #3.
4. Through the integration of data communications, topologies, IEEE 803 standards, networking platforms, and subnetting, students shall develop a basic background of the components of a modern computer network. Determined by three (3) homework assignments and nine (9) Quizzes.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Student should be able to use the learning management system, Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and presentation/graphics programs; Data communication tools, such as Wireshark, traceroute, etc.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Instructional Methods

CSCI-525-21458-01W is a Web Based Class. MANDATORY ONLINE ORIENTATION is required (please go to <https://myleo.tamuc.edu/> to download/read a copy of this document. Access to eCollege Learning Management System is compulsory.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Regularly logging into the course website – eCollege – at least 6 times a week, study the chapters assigned for each and using the PowerPoint handouts available on Doc Sharing for reviews.

Students are expected to be active participants in each class meeting. Full credit for participation will be extended to students who regularly ask questions, share observations, and contribute relevant personal experiences. The tests or examinations will consist of objective/written questions and will require a technological comprehension that covers the lecture material and assigned readings. The assignments and class participations will consist of a number of individual in-class and homework tasks. Students will be given specific guidance on the amount of collaboration permitted for each assignment. Unless otherwise specified, all assignments are individual assignments, and thus must be completely the original work of the student submitting them and include proper citations to the published work of others.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

900 and above A	800 – 899 B	700 – 799 C	600 – 699 D	below 600 F
To be converted to TAMUC Grade System:
90% and above A	80% – 89% B	70% – 79% C	60% – 69% D	below 60% F

Assessments

Extra Credits: Quiz1 (10 pt) + Introduction/Discussion (10 pt) =	20
Homework Assignments: 30% (3 HWKs totaling 300pts)	300
Quizzes - 20% (9 quizzes totaling 200pts)	200
Exams/Tests: Exam/Test #1 (MidTerm1) 15% (150) Exam/Test #2 (MidTerm2) 15% (150) Exam/Test #3 (Final) 20% (200)	500
Total Points (100%)	1000
Total + Extra Credit Note: Your grade is based on 1000 points	1000+20 = 1020

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Quizzes:

Quizzes will be given throughout the semester, at a rate of approximately one per chapter or two. Quizzes will always cover the material covered since the last quiz or exam. The quizzes will be combinations of objective and short-answer questions. Quizzes will be administered online via eCollege. Makeup quizzes will not be given. Any class material missed by the student is the student's responsibility to acquire. Note, the instructor will administer the quizzes used to determine your Quiz total points.

Examinations/Tests:

There are only 3 exams/tests, two mid-terms and the final - covering the material in the text, and in the lessons or handouts. They will be composed of both multiple-choice/true-false questions and/or written problems. You must take these exams and Quizzes by yourself with no help from anyone. Please see the “COLLABORATION POLICY” below. I reserve the right to require the exams to be proctored. Please study for the exams before you take them to help pass the tests/exams. Relying on slides and textbook during the test/quiz time should NOT work since you have a limited amount of time for the test/quiz, so study Chapter(s) thoroughly and try to be well prepared!

There will be no make-up examinations. It is the student's responsibility to arrange for an excused absence before the exam. A grade of zero will be assigned for all exams missed without an excused absence. If an emergency arises on the day of the test/exam, and the instructor deems that the absence is excused, then the student/instructor will arrange to replace the test missed. See the “MAKEUP POLICY” below. Exams/Tests must be taken as scheduled. Final Exam/Test IS ALSO REQUIRED. No exceptions. Each major exam will focus on material(s) covered since the previous exam, but may include topics previously covered. The final test is comprehensive.

Homework/Project Assignments:

You will complete all assignments and submit ON or BY the Deadline or Due Dates. Late submission of assignments will be assessed using the “Late Policy” below.

Exercises, projects, labs, and other activities will be periodically assigned to reinforce the material in the text. These assignments will require the use of a computer. Projects/Labs must be done in Microsoft Office. Projects/Labs are only accepted in the course via the eCollege and NOT through email.

Class Participation (CP)/Discussion Questions (DQs):

Weekly/Daily participation (if assigned) may be assigned to enhance the learning process. Make efforts to complete and submit this on/before the due dates. This may come in the form of discussion questions via the Discussion forum of eCollege and/or individual/group participations in class or online.
