The C++ programming language is utilized along with the UML modeling language. Prerequisites: CSCI 270 or permission of instructor.

Note: we are currently in the process of updating the above course description. The following is the updated version of CSCI 428 course description.

This course introduces the basic concepts and terminology of object technology. It emphasizes current techniques in object oriented design, analysis, and programming. In particular, we will study the concepts of Exception Handling, Encapsulation and Data Hiding, Inheritance, Polymorphism, Arrays and ArrayList. Prerequisites: CSCI 270 or permission of instructor.

Student Learning Outcomes

- (c) An ability to design, implement, and evaluate a computer-based system, process, component, or program to meet desired needs
- (i) An ability to use current techniques, skills, and tools necessary for computing practice.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Prerequisite: CSCI 270 or permission of instructor.

Instructional Methods

If this course is Face to Face (Lecture), then factual material is presented in a direct, logical manner to motivate the student.

Late Policy

The deadline for any assignment can be extended with a 15% penalty per day. No deadline can be extended by more than two days. Assignments will NOT be accepted 48 hours after the due date. No technical excuse (e.g., eCollege technical problem).

Makeup Policy

There will be no makeup exams in general. Makeup exams may be given to students under extreme circumstances, such as hospitalization, serious injury, death in the family etc., with prior notification and official documents. Students are expected to do the readings, attend class, and participate in class discussions.

If this course is Face to Face (Lecture), then I Do Not share my PowerPoint slides and class notes, except under extenuating circumstances. You are responsible for the content of all classes, including issues raised in the spontaneous class discussions. If you must miss a class, please request notes from your classmates prior to contacting me. Attendance may be checked at random throughout the semester.

Collaboration Policy

Students are encouraged to talk to each other, to the instructor, or to anyone else about any of the assignments. Any assistance, though, must be limited to discussion of the problem and sketching general approaches to a solution. Each student must write out his or her own solutions to the homework. Consulting another student's or group's solution is prohibited, and submitted solutions may not be copied from any source. These and any other form of collaboration on assignments constitute cheating. If you have any question about whether some activity would constitute cheating, please feel free to ask.

Academic Integrity

Your commitment as a student to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at Texas A & M University-Commerce. "All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment." (See Student's Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedure, Conduct). All phones, pagers, and other communication devices are to be turned off or place on silent mode during class. Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person's ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. Anyone cheating will receive a zero on the work they are doing, and subsequent cheating will result in a failing grade.

Basic Tenets Of Common Decency

"All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment." (Student's Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct.) This means that rude and/or disruptive behavior will not be tolerated.

Smoke, Vapor & Tobacco Free Environment

University Procedure 34.05.99.R1 now prohibits the use of vapor/electronic cigarettes, smokeless tobacco, snuff and chewing tobacco inside and adjacent to any building owned, leased, or operated by A&M – Commerce.

Disclaimer

This syllabus is meant to provide general guidance of what to expect from this course. The instructor reserves the right to make changes as appropriate based on the progress of the class. All changes made to this syllabus during the semester will be announced. This document has been posted electronically. If you print a copy of it, please be sure to consult the last modified date of the online version to verify that your printed copy is current.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

From the Students' Handbook: "Students are expected to be present for all class meetings of any course for which they are enrolled. Per University Procedure A13.02, effective September 1, 1996, students are responsible for learning about and complying with the attendance policy stated in the catalog, Student's Guidebook, and/or faculty syllabus. It is the prerogative of the faculty to drop students from courses in which they have accrued excessive absences as defined in the course syllabus."

The instructor will take the attendance at the beginning of each lecture and only once.

If a student misses 3 or more lectures without legitimate reasons, the instructor will make the student drop the course. If this is not possible, the letter grade of 'F' will be assigned to the student.

Lateness and leaving class early may count as an absence and are not acceptable unless you are ill or a family emergency exists. If you miss a lecture, it is your responsibility to obtain notes from a fellow student. Office hours are not meant for individual lectures. Any class material missed by the student is the student's responsibility to acquire.

GRADING

Assignments	20%
Quizzes	20%
Mid Term	20%
Final Project	20%
Final Exam	20%

Project

Students will be responsible for creating an original software project that integrates object oriented design principles. More information will be provided regarding the project later in the semester.

Program Evaluation: Programs will be graded on a scale of 0 through 100.

0	Nothing was turned in.
10-50	For programs that don't compile or run and have major problems and/or very little completion of program requirements. The score will be determined by how many problems there are.
60	A good attempt has been made but program has several problems causing compile and/or run time errors.
70	The program is correct but has a very small amount of easily fixed errors. (This is the highest you can get if your program will not compile.)
80	The program compiles and runs but doesn't meet several requirements.
90	The program compiles and runs but doesn't meet a very minor number of requirements.
100	The program compiles and runs and meets all program requirements.

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%
B = 80%-89%
