Room C-330

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Through the design of a mobile application and web experience, you will learn how to craft meaningful experiences for users with research, testing and visual design. You will also learn how to take all of the findings over the course of the projects and turn them into a well presented case study.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Understand the iterative process of creating user focused designs.
- Know how to get feedback quickly using methods like rapid prototyping and usability testing.
- Basic understanding of design and interaction patterns used on the web, iOS and Android.
- Craft compelling experiences through visual design and animation that are appropriate for your users.
- Know what's expected of you as a professional – presenting work, offering meaningful and focused critique, revising work and sticking to a timeline.

COURSE FORMAT

Each project will be broken into 3 phases:

Concept

- Discovery of who your client and users are. This includes everything from personas to core brand elements.
- Focus on an idea that's meaningful to the user.
- Wire frame and prototype your core experience.

Delivery

- Create mood boards using images and animations to inform your visual design.
- Apply visual and interaction design to the core flow of your experience.
- Prototype key interactions/animations.
- Validate and iterate key interactions.

Learning

- Create a presentation of your work summarizing your findings from concept to final delivery.
- Detail your key learnings and insights.

GRADING

Grades will be assigned according to the following scale:

- A – Work well above the general class level, evidence of participation in related activities outside of the classroom, thoughtful participation in classroom discussion and critique
- B – Work above the general class level, participation in classroom discussion and critique
- C – Average work, minimal requirements met
- D – Work below class average, lack of participation and/or poor attendance
- F – Inferior work, work not turned in, failure to attend class

Grades will be based on:

- 45% on final portfolio
- 45% capstone project
- 10% show participation

ATTENDANCE

You may be absent from class twice.

FIRST ABSENCE: You will receive an email notification of the absence

SECOND ABSENCE: email notification of the absence that is copied to the instructor and Lee Hackett. The first two emails serve as a warning.

THIRD ABSENCE: Lee emails the student that they have failed the course, the instructor is copied.

Two tardies equals one absence. Two tardies of 20 minutes or more equals an absence. A tardy of 60 minutes equals an absence. Two late returns from break of more than 10 minutes equals one absence. If a student is OVER 10 MINUTES late for the final, a full grade will be deducted from his or her final grade. If a student does not show up for the final they automatically fail the class.

There is no distinction between excused and unexcused absences.

FINAL CRITIQUE

Each student is required to be on time for the final critique and have all their assignments completed.

If a student is OVER 10 MINUTES late for the final critique, a full grade will be deducted from his or her final grade. If a student does not show up for the final critique they automatically fail the class.

SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY

Texas A&M University-Commerce does not tolerate plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty.

Conduct that violates generally accepted standards of academic honesty is defined as academic dishonesty.

- Scholastic dishonesty will not be tolerated in any class -related activity.
- Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the submission of someone else's materials as one's own work.
- Scholastic dishonesty may involve one or more of the following acts: cheating, plagiarism, or collusion.
- Plagiarism is the use of an author's words or ideas as if they were one's own without giving credit to the source, including, but not limited to, failure to acknowledge a direct quotation. Cite your references.
- Cheating is the willful giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination, illicitly obtaining examination questions in advance, copying computer or Internet files, using someone else's work for assignments as if it were one's own, or any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.
- Collusion is intentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty, including but not limited to, providing a paper or project to another student, providing an inappropriate level of assistance, communicating answers to a classmate during an examination, removing tests or answer sheets from a test site, and allowing a classmate to copy answers.
