Course Description:

A survey of the underlying ideas, principles, and participatory practices of constitutional government in the United States and Texas. Topics considered include civil liberties, and civil rights, constitutionalism, federalism, ideology, pluralism, political culture, and socialization, political parties, interest groups, public opinion, republicanism, voting and the electoral process, and global forces that continue to shape our understanding of the relationship between the people and the government. Please note that you will not be taught what to think about political issues in this course, rather you will be provided with the knowledge to determine how to think about political issues for yourself. This course is meant to provide you with working knowledge how a government functions both at the federal and state levels in the United States and Texas.

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Understand and employ significant theoretical and analytical approaches to explain the political institutions and policy development and implementation of the government of the United States.
2. Understand and employ significant theoretical and analytical approaches to explain the political institutions and state policy development and implementation of the state of Texas.
3. Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art.. Core Objective: Critical Thinking
4. In written, oral, and/or visual communication, A&M-Commerce students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion, with an evident message and organizational structure. Core Objective: Communication
5. Students will understand and practice academic honesty. Core Objective: Personal Responsibility
6. Students will demonstrate an understanding of societal and/or civic issues. Core Objective: Social Responsibility

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students will need to be familiar with University learning management system (D2L/Brightspace), know how to use a personal computer, navigate the internet, and use basic word processing software such as Microsoft Word and Power Point.

Instructional Methods

Each week will consist of and involve lectures and discussion over the assigned readings and any other supplemental readings the instructor wishes to add. You will regularly be asked to contribute your opinions and answer questions about the readings.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

- Students are expected to complete the assigned readings before class and engage in class discussions
- Complete all assignments
- Be prepared to discuss the topics presented in class
Be courteous to and respectful of your fellow students and instructors

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale based on a 1000 total points.

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

The following will be how grades are broken down for this class

Exam 1 – 100pts.

Group Project – 120pts.

Exam 2 – 100pts.

Discussion Board Posts – 280pts.(20 pts/week)

Exam 3 – 100pts.

Quizzes – 100pts.

Final Exam – 200pts.

Assessments

Participation: With this being an online course, you will need to login to D2L and access this course regularly throughout the week. There will be discussion board posts weekly and assignments throughout the semester that you will be required to complete on our online platform. Not logging in and keeping up with due dates and weekly readings and assignments will have a detrimental effect on your grade.

Exams: There will be three exams given during the semester in addition to a final exam to be administered during finals week. They comprise a significant portion of your grade so, it would be beneficial to be prepared for your exams. Exams will open Monday at 8:00 am and close Thursday of the same week at 11:00 pm. Since there is a multi-day window for exams, makeup exams will not be given. If you have an athletic or academic reason as to why you are not able to take the exam during the window it is open, you must email me IMMEDIATELY so that other arrangements can be made. There will be absolutely no exceptions to this policy.

Quizzes: Quizzes will be given weekly and can be over the subject matter or current topics/events. Questions for the quizzes will come from the week's lectures, assigned readings, and any breaking news (political, sports, or pop culture related). Quizzes will be given every week during the semester except exams week and Thanksgiving week for a total of ten, so again it is imperative that you log into the course regularly throughout the week. Quizzes cannot be made up if they are missed. Quizzes will open on Monday at 8:00 am and close Thursday at 11:00 pm each week.

Discussion Board Posts: Like with a face to face class where students would engage with one another, you will be expected to do so in this course as well. For weekly discussion posts students are expected to respond to the week's prompt with a MINIMUM of at least 350 words and you are also responsible for responding to at least TWO other classmates' responses with a minimum of at least 150 words per response. Original discussion posts are due Friday of each week by 11 pm and peer responses (2) are due Sunday of each week by 11 pm. Late responses or original responses will not be accepted or graded. You should make three total posts each week. Discussion posts are worth 20 points each week with the original post being ten points and the two responses being worth five points each. In your discussion posts please include a word count. (Points for this assignment along with all others will lose points for not following directions.)

Project: There will be a "group" project due later in the semester. Further instructions will be given at a later date.

Extra Credit: Extra credit will be given at the instructor's discretion. I will NOT create extra credit for any student at any time because they "need to get" a certain grade. I do not "give" grades rather you EARN your grade. I cannot stress this enough: keep up with your assignments and your grade in the gradebook throughout the whole semester and not just at the end.

Submitting Assignments & Late Assignments: Writing assignments without cover pages and/or no name will not be graded. I DO NOT accept late work. Each assignment is given with enough time to complete it. Assignments that have to be submitted to the dropbox are ALWAYS due at 11:00 pm the day they are due. Assignments submitted online after 11:00 pm will not be opened or graded. You are responsible for attaching the correct assignment to the correct folder in D2L Brightspace. Once you submit your assignment you should always click on the document to guarantee that it has been submitted correctly, or no document is counted as failure to complete the assignment on time. Poor internet connection, dead laptop batteries, etc. are not valid reasons for an assignment not being completed.
