Purpose

This course is designed to prepare you (both psychologically and pragmatically) for the Honors Thesis experience. By the end of this semester you should have a thesis advisor and a draft of a proposal completed. Throughout the course you will be exposed to nuts and bolts type information on what it will take to complete your thesis. However and perhaps more importantly, you should leave this class understanding what a thesis "looks like."

Textbook

None. However, I suggest that you gather the following resources:

The Elements of Style. William Strunk Jr. and E.B. White

The appropriate style manual for your discipline, whether that is APA (there is a new 6th edition), MLA, or Chicago/Turabian.

Grading

University-required Online Research Training: Anyone (faculty and students) performing research affiliated with Texas A&M University-Commerce must complete their online research training before performing any research study. The directions at this link (<http://www.tamuc.edu/Research/compliance/training/ResponsibleConductInstructions.aspx>) do an excellent job of walking your through the process. Students will select one or two separate training courses based on the student's major and/or thesis project field of study. Students must complete the appropriate training sessions and submit printed reports showing completion, and students who do not complete this training will receive an F in the course even if all other assignments are submitted. Finally, students cannot defend a thesis proposal until they successfully complete the online training. Let us know if you have any questions as you begin and/or work through the training modules. Please note – the university frequently offers face to face versions of these trainings. Attendance at said trainings will fulfill this course requirement. If any sessions are announced, I'll let you know.

Total: 20%

Advisor Contract: You and your advisor will be required to sign a "contract" that delineates the ground rules for your partnership (e.g., how frequently you will meet, order of authorship on conference presentations or published papers). A template will be provided. A hard copy of the contract must be submitted with both signatures by the due date listed in the Schedule of Activities or the student CANNOT pass the course. Total: 20%

Time Line and Needs List: Perhaps the most important thing that you can do for yourself is to construct a timeline for completing the project. When do you expect to complete the proposal? When will you defend it? Are you collecting subjects – if so how long will that take? Do you need to obtain ethical approval (e.g., Institutional Review Board, Animal Care Board)? Do you need to have a lab purchase equipment for you? Do you hope to present the research at a conference before you apply to graduate school? As you do your timeline you should also be able to generate a list of what you will need to complete the project. This list should include both tangible (e.g., lab equipment, participants, written sources) and less tangible requirements (e.g., four hours a week to collect data, etc.) Total: 20%

Draft of your Proposal: Your final task for this class is to complete, in concert with your advisor, a draft of your proposal. This draft does not need to be polished, but it should contain a thesis statement, a rudimentary literature review, and a first crack at your methodology. In contrast to your actual Honors Thesis proposal which will be 8-20 pages in length (depending upon your field of study), this draft need only be in the 3-5 page range. Students who do not submit a rough draft of the proposal CANNOT pass HC 300. Total: 40%

Online Research Training	20% (not submitted by due date = F course grade)
Advisor Contract	20% (not submitted by due date = F course grade)
Timeline/Needs	20%
Proposal Draft	40% (not submitted by due date = F course grade)
	100%

Final grades are based on the total number of points earned during the term in accordance, generally, with the following levels of proficiency: A = 90-99; B = 80-89; C = 70-79; D = 65-69; F = below 65. Remember, however, that failure to submit the online training, an advisor contract, or a proposal draft will result in an F in the course.
