

ENG 301.01W MODERN GRAMMAR

Instructor: Nabiha El Khatib

Office: David Talbot Hall 307

Office hours: Online or Face-to-face by appointment

E-mail: Nabiha.ElKhatib@tamuc.edu

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course guides students through analysis of the sentence-level grammar of English employing contemporary as well as more traditional methodologies. It emphasizes the relationship between the structure of language and that of everyday experience and develops an appreciation of change and variation. Specifically, a great part of the work is focused on identifying, analyzing, and using in context the parts of speech and the units of discourse of the English language. The primary goal is to foster the realization that English grammar is a system, whose purpose is to encode meanings that are used frequently in language. In response to the overarching question, “How does the system of English grammar work,” this course will address three main aspects: applied grammar, theoretical grammar, and social variations relating to grammar. Students will learn how to handle grammatical rules and their “exceptions” by approaching them through heuristics and particularly how to observe those mechanisms in actual texts. Students will be also guided to recognize the ambiguities and multiple possible interpretations of constructions.

COURSE OBJECTIVES/LEARNING OUTCOMES

Students will demonstrate a basic understanding of the social, historical, and pedagogical issues surrounding grammar. The course objectives include the following:

- Students will be familiar with the history of the development of grammar.
- Students will be familiar with the basic concepts of variationist sociolinguistics, as they relate to grammar.
- Students will understand the issues of usage and orthographic conventions.

By the end of this course, students will develop a good grasp of the meta-language of grammar. This general outcome will be assessed in the following three specific areas by evaluation of assignments in the form of multiple-choice assessment quizzes, a mid-term exam, and a final exam.

- Students will be able to identify and manipulate parts of speech and phrases.
- Students will be able to identify and manipulate the different types of clauses and sentences.
- Students will be able to demonstrate their knowledge of language variations, as they relate to grammar.

COURSE MATERIALS

Course Materials

This course does not require you to purchase any textbooks. All materials are available on our course site.

If you want to own a book that has some but not all of the ideas presented in the course, you may purchase this book:

Brown, S., Attardo, S., & Vigliotti, C. (2014). Understanding language structure, interaction, and variation (3rd ed.). Ann Arbor, MI: University of Michigan Press.

For an accessible linguistic description of the grammar of modern English, you can also consult:

Computer and Technologies

This class will be delivered completely online using Desire2Learn Brightspace (D2L), the new Learning Management System used by Texas A&M University-Commerce. To get started with the course, go to <http://www.tamuc.edu/myleo.aspx>. You will need your CWID and password to log in to the course. Students are required to have regular access to a computer with an Internet connection. At a minimum, you must have Microsoft Office 2013, 2010, 2007 or Open Office. Microsoft Office is the standard office productivity software utilized by faculty, students, and staff. Microsoft Word is the standard word processing software, Microsoft Excel is the standard spreadsheet software, and Microsoft PowerPoint is the standard presentation software. If you experience problems in accessing the course site or have other technological difficulties, please contact the CITE Help Desk at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk @tamuc.edu.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

The following assignments help students achieve the learning outcomes listed above. Detailed information and guidelines for each assignment will be available on the course site. For the course organization, please check the course calendar on the last two pages of the syllabus.

- Meet and Greet (0.5%) --- Students will self-introduce themselves and greet each other in the discussion forum. They may post about their majors, academic interests, learning /research experiences, and their hobbies, etc.
- Quizzes (15%) --- Students will take quizzes on each unit to demonstrate their knowledge and learning of the course contents about applied grammar. There are 12 quizzes in total.
- Discussions (12.5%) --- Online discussions provide students with opportunities to engage with readings about theoretical grammar, interact, and share insights with the classmates. There are 10 discussion activities in total.
- Variation Assignments (8%) --- Students will complete 8 variation assignments in relation to course contents regarding grammar and social variations.

- Assessment Tests (24%) --- Students will take assessment tests on each unit to demonstrate their learning of course contents in terms of applied grammar, theoretical grammar, and variation. There are 12 tests in total.
- Midterm Exam (15%) --- The midterm exam is to provide students with opportunities to demonstrate their knowledge and learning of the topics covered in the first half of the semester. Similar to assessment tests, it will mainly include multiple-choice questions.
- Final Exam (25%) --- The final exam is to provide students with opportunities to demonstrate their knowledge of the topics covered in the entire semester and synthesize their understanding of relevant issues. It will consist of two components: Multiple-choice questions and short essays.

COURSE/ UNIVERSITY POLICIES

Course Ground Rules

Being successful in an online course requires tremendous self-discipline and high motivation. In this course, all work will be completed through D2L. Access and follow all course instructions found in the content area of the D2L course. Clicking on each unit's tab on the left navigation bar, you will find an introduction which includes a section called "Activities & Assignment for This Unit", where you will find the list of assignments due for that unit. Please note that assignment due dates are crucial. No delayed assignments will be accepted.

You should check the course website frequently for assignments, announcements, and discussions. I strongly recommend dedicating set days/times to completing your work and working in advance so that you are always ahead. In order to achieve the outcomes of the course, you will be involved in a number of different activities. It is fundamental to complete all of the readings and activities on time: the quizzes, the discussions, the assignments, the assessment tests, and the exams. I encourage you to do all the course reading and assignments for each learning module in the order they are presented. Moreover, we are co-constructing our knowledge in the online community. Please be prepared, share thoughtfully, respond respectfully, and engage in all learning processes.

Grading Scale

The total score for course assignments is 2000 points.

Meet and Greet	10 points	0.5%
Quizzes	300 points (25x12)	15%
Discussions	250 points (25 x10)	12.5%
Variation Assignments	160 points (20x8)	8%
Assessment Tests	480 points (40x12)	24%
Midterm Exam	300 points	15%
Final Exam	500 points	25%

The final grade will be based on the following criteria:

A =1801-2000 B=1601-1800 C=1401-1600 D=1200-1400 F= 1199 or below

Assignment Submissions

- Our workweek runs from Monday to Sunday. Every unit takes 2 days, and you will have assignments/quizzes/discussions/tests/exams on all days, including Saturdays and Sundays. Be aware of the tight schedule. Every unit opens and closes on the date assigned on the course calendar and on our course site on D2L. After the unit closes, you will not be able to access its content. Please make sure to download the materials that you will need for each unit to prepare for your quizzes and exams. All assignments must be submitted to D2L by the designated due date. No late work will be accepted.
- Variation Assignments should be submitted to the designated submission folders through “Assignments” under “Activities” on D2L.
- If you have technical issues in uploading the assignment to the course site, please contact CITE Help Desk at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu and email me at Nabiha.ElKhatib@tamuc.edu to notify me of the problem.
