Course Description

Graduate Seminar primarily emphasizes research, readings, and writing as a means of understanding historical and contemporary trends in the visual arts and how a student's work fits within them. Continuing to learn about studio practices and the art profession, students will work to refine their own artist statement, continue to digitally document their work, and maintain updated websites. Note: Students may repeat this course, up to a maximum of twelve hours.

Inappropriate Expectations:

None.

Contingencies for an Instructor Who Cannot Teach Classes for a Period of Time:

Please see blog.

COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings:

Course Requirements

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

We'll meet weekly via Zoom. You should have an adequate computer and internet access. We'll be using blogs and a Facebook Group.

Minimal Social Skills Needed

This is an art class, so as in art, pretty much anything goes. Naked people, weird sex, it's all par for the course. As this class is called Art and Activism, be prepared to discuss contemporary art in relation with contemporary politics. Be willing to respect other people's opinions, even if you do not agree with them.

Instructional Modalities

I think the word, "modality" is cool, don't you? I had to look it up, too. As mentioned, this is an online class, we will not meet in person. That said, at this time the university is still open and you do have access to labs, studios, equipment, etc. You'll need to follow the proper protocols for being on campus and using equipment. Please refer to university policy.

Student Responsibilities

Tips for success! Don't miss class. Don't have your video turned off, we all want to see you! Don't be doing other things while we're having class, that includes fiddling with your phone... Participate, actively! Read the assignments and turn them in on time! Pretend you're learning and be engaged! Don't be a jerk.

Grading

Basically in Grad School you get an 'A' or a 'B'. A 'C' is failing. See above for how to get an 'A'. Understand that I was a student once as well, and I know when you're faking it. Mostly, I treat everyone as an adult, and I understand that being an artist is a life-long pursuit. That doesn't mean there aren't deadlines and assignments. I try to be fair. Oh, and please. Do not plagiarize. It is way too easy to get caught, and I have caught people, and they left the program without a degree.

COURSE OUTLINE / CALENDAR

This course is subtitled, Art and Activism. This will involve studying ways that the arts can affect the larger community with the goal of promoting social change. Hopefully, it will be an expanded idea of activism, that might include ideas that seem at first glance, non-political.

I will post a separate calendar/assignments page. As an overview, there will be weekly assignments, a few books to read and respond to, and visiting artists. We will also actively make art within the context of "activism," however we define it.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Nondiscrimination Notice

Texas A&M University-Commerce will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status. Further, an environment free from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression will be maintained.

Campus Concealed Carry Statement

Texas Senate Bill - 11 (Government Code 411.2031, et al.) authorizes the carrying of a concealed handgun in Texas A&M University-Commerce buildings only by persons who have been issued and are in possession of a Texas License to Carry a Handgun. Qualified law enforcement officers or those who are otherwise authorized to carry a concealed handgun in the State of Texas are also permitted to do so. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) 46.035 and A&M-Commerce Rule 34.06.02.R1, license holders may not carry a concealed handgun in restricted locations.

For a list of locations, please refer to the Carrying Concealed Handguns On Campus document and/or consult your event organizer.

Web url:

<http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutUs/policiesProceduresStandardsStatements/rulesProcedures/34SafetyOfEmployeesAndStudents/34.06.02.R1.pdf>

Pursuant to PC 46.035, the open carrying of handguns is prohibited on all A&M-Commerce campuses. Report violations to the University Police Department at 903-886-5868 or 9-1-1.

Pandemic Response Statements

A&M-Commerce requires the use of face-coverings in all instructional and research classrooms/laboratories. Exceptions may be made by faculty where warranted. Faculty have management over their classrooms. Students not using face-coverings can be required to leave class. Repetitive refusal to comply can be reported to the Office of Students' Rights and Responsibilities as a violation of the student Code of Conduct.

Students should not attend class when ill or after exposure to anyone with a communicable illness. Communicate such instances directly with your instructor. Faculty will work to support the student getting access to missed content or completing missed assignments.
