Course Description

Students in this competency course explore important philosophical issues together with methods and techniques use to explore such philosophical issues.

QEP Global Course: This course has been selected as a Global Course – tied to the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP). The QEP seeks to prepare students for an interconnected world. In relation to the QEP, students completing this course will be able to (LO1, i.e., learning outcome 1) demonstrate knowledge of the interconnectedness of global dynamics (issues, trends, processes, and systems), (LO2) apply knowledge of the interconnectedness of global dynamics, and (LO3) view themselves as engaged citizens within an interconnected and diverse world. This course will provide activities, experiences, and opportunities to reach all of the QEP learning outcomes. The posttest in this course will assess the QEP student learning outcomes.

BAAS-OL Essay Prompt: Students will prepare an essay of at least 500 words that will compare and contrast a non-Western school of philosophy to one of the philosopher or philosophical concepts covered in the textbook for this course. The student will have an opportunity to improve the essay based on the feedback prior to submitting a final version on ecampus. Students are expected to utilize the feedback and make final improvements, and then submit the final, polished essay to their course project as a demonstration of competency in the content area.

BAAS-OL Course Pretest: Students will be exposed to a prompt in the pretest of the course as practice and preparation for creating an essay that will be required in the posttest. The grade received on the pretest does not count toward the final course grade, however the test itself, and this question, helps the student and the instructor by providing an inventory of the student's current level of competency in the content area. It is highly recommended that students utilize the essay prompt in the pretest as a practice activity using the feedback to assist the student in making improvements prior to completing the posttest.

BAAS-OL Course Posttest: Students will be exposed to the same essay prompt that was presented in the pretest as they attempt the posttest. The grade received on the posttest does count toward the final course grade, therefore it is important that the student be prepared and do their best work. Students should utilize the constructive feedback provided by instructors, as well as incorporate knowledge gained from the course content, in preparation of an essay demonstrating a high level of competency in the content area.

COURSE COMPETENCIES

1. The focus of the first competency is learning to read philosophical material critically, analytically, and reflectively. It is also important to gain a basic understanding of what philosophy is, its value, and how it is differentiated from other disciplines. This section will offer a concise review of logic, including the concepts of argument, validity, and deduction versus induction. Chapters 1 and 2.
2. The second competency is a historical review of the philosophical views and supporting arguments of some of the key figures in Ancient Greek philosophy. Some attempt will be made to associate the ancient views with contemporary thinking. Chapter 3.
3. The third competency is concerned with gaining an understanding of such distinctions as rationalism as opposed to empiricism, a basic grasp of the philosophy of science, and the philosophy of mind. Chapters 4,5,6, and 7.
4. The final competency pertains to ethical issues such as how should I behave toward others, is there a meaning or point to my existence, and what is the best way to organize society?

PRETEST AND POSTTEST FOR EACH COMPETENCY

The purpose of the competency pretests is to provide a baseline understanding of your knowledge in each competency.

The Posttest is an assessment of your knowledge of the material required for the competency. A score of 80 points or higher is required on the Posttest to demonstrate competency. If you score less than 80 points on any competency you will have an opportunity to review the material and re-take the competency Posttest. You may take the Posttest assessment up to three times. If you have not passed the competency in three attempts, you will work with an Academic Coach to determine another method of fulfilling the program requirements in this subject. If the term ends before you can demonstrate competency, you will receive a grade of "X" and be required to complete the remaining competencies in the next term.
