COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings

Textbook/Materials Required

There is not a required text for the course—as such. Included in the course (and course fee) is access to an e-text: MyLab Economics Pearson eText—Essentials of Economics, 7th ed., by Hubbard and O’Brien.

Course Description

Introduces the student to the workings and interrelationships of the U.S. and world economics. Principles of economic analysis including measurement of aggregate economic activity, national income determination, money and banking, monetary and fiscal policy, and business fluctuation. Emphasis is given to analyzing real world problems such as poverty, inflation, unemployment, and economic instability.

Student Learning Outcomes

Successful students will be able to accomplish these objectives toward understanding the economy:

1. Explain how choices and trade improve welfare.
2. Be able to use the supply and demand model to describe individual decision makers, an industry, and the economy as a whole.
3. Be able to calculate features of the economy given a simplified dataset. Be able to discuss the limitations and benefits of using each construct to describe the economy.
4. Model the effects on society for changes in macroeconomic variables.

Successful students will be able to accomplish these objectives as critical thinkers:

- A. Identify assumptions used in models
- B. Identify information and data that is relevant to an economic problem.
- C. Be able to identify alternative solutions to an economic problem.
- D. Be able to relate and explain economic topics to economic models.
- E. Identify the societal and/or civic issues that are relevant to an economic problem or event.
- F. Use critical thinking skills (creative thinking, innovation, inquiry and analysis of information) to propose solutions to selected economic problems or events.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Design of Course Overview

This is a HyFlex course as it provides ultimate flexibility for students in terms of lecture attendance. Students may attend in the face to face format or attend online via zoom. This structure, while not perfect, allows students to practice social distancing, while offering the option for in person lectures. Students should only attend lectures in person if they are comfortable with doing so and are healthy. Masks and social distancing are encouraged to keep students and the instructor healthy. Students are encouraged to sit 2-3 desks a part from one another. Students must also adhere to all university policies regarding COVID 19 including mandatory testing.

Students should use the checklists found in D2L to identify what is due each week in terms of content and/or assignments. There will be a combination of recorded and live instructional content throughout the semester. There will be 3 live lectures each week. The attendance policy of the course is located under "Lecture Attendance" in this document. Students need to either attend the live lecture in person or via the online stream. The lectures are recorded to be viewed later, but it doesn't count for attendance requirements.

The course is structured so that students can learn in various different formats. The professor will use various learning tools to help students master the course learning objectives. Students are expected to read the assigned chapters in the textbook, watching the ebook chapter videos, and attending/watching lectures and other instructional resources. Students should commit between 6-9 hours of study time per week at a minimum (not including lectures).

Students will be assigned a weekly homework in D2L to help them master the learning objectives. All homework and lectures are required to be completed by Sunday at 11:59 PM. Students will also be assigned 3 discussion assignments due at various times during the semester. Finally, there will be 3 exams in the course with the 3rd exam being a comprehensive final exam. See the course schedule for more details on due dates. The professor may or may not offer extra credit assignments. All exams will be completed online throughout the semester.

The professor will not repeat questions that can be found within the syllabus. Furthermore, the professor will not answer questions regarding the class or content that have been addressed in lectures and/or e-mails to the course.

COURSEWORK/GRADING

Absolutely no late work will be accepted. Students that miss an exam will receive a zero. It is possible that curves will be given on exams. It is possible that students will receive extra credit, but it is up to the professor.

Exams

All exams will be administered online for this course. Exams open on Fridays at 12PM and close at 11:59pm on Sunday night on the week assigned. The professor may provide an extension or open exams earlier. There will be three exams including the final. The final is comprehensive and will cover all course material covered during the semester. Students are responsible for information from live/recorded lectures, required readings, and any guest speakers. There are no makeup exams. The professor will allow the final exam score to replace ONE of a student's previous exam score if the final exam score is higher.

Weekly Homework Assignments

In order to help students, test their understanding of course learning objectives, students will be assigned weekly homework assignments within MyLab Economics (accessible within D2L). Homework assignments are due on Sundays at 11:59PM of the week assigned. The homework questions are taken directly from the chapters in the textbook. Students have 2 attempts for each homework assignment. The highest grade will be used for grade calculations. The homework assignments are very important as they help prepare you exams.

Discussion Posts

It is important that students are able to demonstrate mastery of learning objectives; however, mastering learning objectives on a quiz and/or exam is not enough. It is more important that students are able to have intelligent dialogue pertaining to course topics. These dialogues help prepare students for what is expected in upper-level courses and after graduation. The discussion posts (message boards) require students to discuss a specific topic in a professional, well-written, and evidenced-based manner. While opinions are welcomed, it is research and data that are of most importance.

Students are expected to follow net etiquette and respect each other. Posts that are deemed by the instructor to be unprofessional and/or verbally abusive will not be tolerated and will result in a zero for the assignment.

There will be 3 discussion prompts during the semester. Students will be required to make an initial post and then reply to at least 2 other posts. Students will be graded using a rubric that is available in D2L. A student's first post is due on Wednesday and replies are due by Sunday.

Note: This is NOT busy work, but instead an opportunity for us to discuss economics in more depth. Students should take discussion posts very seriously.

Lecture Attendance

This is an HyFlex course and is designed to be very accommodating to individuals with busy schedules and all lectures are offered online and recorded. However; the lectures are very important in meeting the course learning objectives. The professor takes substantial extra time to provide a quality learning environment built for discussion and dialogue.

It is understandable that many students will not be able to attend all of the live lectures; however, students are encouraged to meet at least ONE of the 2 options listed below to receive extra credit. Recorded lectures need to be watched by Sunday at 11:59 of the week assigned. Students may qualify for attendance credit in one of the following TWO ways:

Option 1 – Only miss 2-3 lectures and watch the missed lectures via recorded lectures (3% bonus on average provided).

Option 2 – Only miss 4-5 lectures and watch the missed lectures via recorded lectures (2% bonus on average provided).

NOTE: Students don't have to select their option at any time during the semester. Each student needs to keep track of their attendance record. The student will be required to report their attendance record at the end of the semester. Missing more than 5 lectures will result in no bonus points.

NOTE: Online attendance for the live lecture requires participating in the lecture by either answering questions, responding to being called upon, asking questions. Students must be present for at least 75% of the live lecture to earn attendance.

LIVE TEACHING LINK / LECTURE RECORDINGS

Students will be provided this information before class begins.

Final Grades

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

Exam 1	20%	A = 90%-100%
Exam 2	20%	B = 80%-89%
Exam 3	30%	C = 70%-79%
Discussions	20%	D = 60%-69%
Homework	10%	F = 59% or Below
Total	100%

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The College of Business is committed to maintaining the integrity and respectability of degrees conferred and course credit earned through our department. Academic dishonesty restricts the understanding of subject material by the perpetrator, distracts and discourages other class members, and reduces the value of the economic signal of degrees conferred through Texas A&M University-Commerce.

Whether courses are online, face-to-face or hybrid combinations; the faculty, staff and student members of the College of Business are committed to protecting the integrity of our courses, regardless of the delivery method.

Students are required to electronically sign an Academic Honesty Policy for this course. This document can be found within D2L. A student who breaches the policy will receive a zero for quizzes, homework, and/or discussions. A student that commits academic dishonesty with regards to an exam will receive an automatic "F" for the course.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

Texas A&M University-Commerce has established standards of conduct to create and foster an environment that facilitates student learning and development. Students and University student groups are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that demonstrates respect for the rights and property of others, and that is consistent with the educational goals and mission of the University. This Code of Student Conduct ("Code") focuses on personal responsibility and accountability for students' actions and the impact those actions may have on the greater community. The Student Code of Conduct can be found here:

<http://www.tamuc.edu/campuslife/campusservices/studentRights/documents/Code%20of%20conduct%20in%20english.pdf>

Students are expected to be professional, courteous, and respectful at all times.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.

Note the following:

- Ensure that your browser has JavaScript and Cookies enabled.
- For desktop systems, you must have Adobe Flash Player 10.1 or greater.
- The Brightspace Support features are now optimized for production environments when using the Google Chrome browser, Apple Safari browser, Microsoft Edge browser, Microsoft Internet Explorer browser, and Mozilla Firefox browsers.
