COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this class, you will utilize the Learning Management System (LMS) entitled D2L for portions of instructional and learning methods, submitting assignments, participating in online discussions, and completing quizzes. You will need to utilize other technologies such as Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, etc. If you have issues with this system, it is your responsibility to contact the help desk immediately.

Instructional Methods

This course consists of lecture and didactic learning methods, small group discussions, and in-class assignments, coupled with experiential learning and practical application. When we are not meeting face to face, you will be expected to participate and complete all online tasks via D2L. In addition to this, small lecture, discussion, activities, and workshops may be utilized during this course.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible for the active learning process. Expectations of

8. Begin your readings ASAP. Sometimes it may take more than one attempt to digest the material.

Assignments/Assessments

1. Class Participation & Attendance (40 points)

Due to the nature of this class, attendance and participation are essential. Participation is credited to all activities related to this course. Please be aware that being consistently late to class can also constitute as an absence, particularly when a pattern of lateness emerges without justification. The following criteria will be used to determine participation & attendance points:

Class Participation Rubric

3 – Exceeds Expectations (36-40 points)	Proactive participation: leading, originating, informing, challenging contributions that reflect in-depth study, thought, and analysis of the topic under consideration. This does not mean dominating discussion or self-disclosure inappropriate to the circumstances. No more than one absence/no evident pattern of lateness
2 – Meets Expectations (32-35 points)	Reactive participation: supportive, follow-up contributions that are relevant and of value, but rely on the leadership and study of others, or reflect opinion/personal self-disclosure rather than study, contemplation, synthesis, and evaluation. Two or less absences/no evident pattern of lateness
1 – Does Not Meet Expectations (0-31 points)	Passive participation: present, awake, alert, attentive, but not actively involved or invested; Or Uninvolved: absent, present but not attentive, sleeping, texting/surfing, irrelevant contributions. More than two absences/pattern of lateness evident

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

2. Online Discussion (40 points)

In addition to face to face class participation, students will participate in online discussions. Students will be discussing readings and concepts that are integral to counseling practice.

Online Discussion Rubric

3 – Exceeds Expectations (36-40 points)	Proactive participation: leading, originating, informing, challenging contributions that reflect in-depth study, thought, and analysis of the topic under consideration. This does not mean dominating discussion or self-disclosure inappropriate to the circumstances. No more than one absence/no evident pattern of lateness
2 – Meets Expectations (32-35 points)	Reactive participation: supportive, follow-up contributions that are relevant and of value, but rely on the leadership and study of others, or reflect opinion/personal self-disclosure rather than study, contemplation, synthesis, and evaluation. More than two absences/pattern of lateness evident

3. Counseling session video recording/critique (80 points each)

Students will video record two 45-minute partner-counseling sessions with a classmate. It is essential for submitted recordings to have clear audio and video. In addition, recordings must show the “counselor” facing the “client.” The purpose of this assignment is to demonstrate the ability to relate therapeutically to your partner and the skills and concepts learned in this class. The goal is to build on the relational attitudes and skills learned in COUN 516, the basic skills course. For the critique, the student will choose the best 15 consecutive responses of the recording to transcribe. The student will prepare a verbatim typed script of the best 15 consecutive responses of the session, noting both counselor and “client” responses including nonverbal cues and responses. If the only response that the counselor makes in response to the client, it does not count as one of the 15 consecutive responses. Also include an alternative response on three exchanges (see below for example).

Then, the student will complete a 3 page critique of the counseling session as evaluated in its totality. The student will add this critique to the end of the transcript.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

The critique will address the following questions*

- What did I do well?
- How would I describe the connection between us?
- What area(s) do I need improvement?
- How many reflections of feeling did I complete?
- Identify each of them.
- How many questions did I ask? Identify them.
- Overall reaction to the interaction. How was I feeling? (i.e. nervous, confident)

* These questions are not meant to be answered by one sentence. Please elaborate.

An example of the transcript follows:

1. Cl: I am looking forward to seeing him and can't wait.
CO: You are really glad to get the chance to see him.
AR: You are so happy that you're going to see him. It sounds like you've missed him.

2. Cl: I want to talk to him, but I'm afraid of how he might respond when I tell him.
CO: You have mixed feelings. You want to see him, but you also have to tell him something painful.

4. Counseling Student Competency Evaluation (CSCE)

The Counseling Program is obligated by professional ethics (see ACA Code of Ethics, 2014) and University procedure to assess students as to their potential for meeting the expectations of professional practice in the professional counseling field. The competencies outlined in this document (CSCE) are specific to professional counseling and are in addition to academic requirements. The Counseling Program may suspend from the program any students judged incapable of meeting these expectations. Procedures regarding potential dismissal are outlined in the Program’s Retention/Dismissal Procedure.

The CSCE may be used by any faculty member with any student enrolled in a Counseling course to provide that student with feedback regarding their potential for meeting the expectations of the professional counseling field and the Department. Completion of a CSCE is required in the following courses: COUN 551, COUN 552, COUN 620, and COUN 660 (i.e., Clinical Supervision, Advanced Practicum, Advanced Internship, Advanced Supervision, Advanced Teaching). The course instructor in COUN 516 and COUN 548 may choose to implement the CSCE at his/her discretion. Each use of the CSCE must be placed in the student’s Department file along with any remediation plan developed by the faculty in conference with the student.

The Counseling Program has elected to use the CSCE to monitor student’s progress in professional practice. As a requirement in this course, a final CSCE evaluation will be completed by the course instructor, in consultation with the student, to assess your professionalism, general competency, social and emotional maturity, integrity and ethical conduct, and clinical competency. Please note that the instructor of the course may choose to administer the CSCE at different time intervals throughout the semester (e.g., initial, mid) at his/her discretion. The CSCE can yield an overall average composite score or an average subscale score for each domain. The Department utilizes both overall average composite score and average subscale scores to monitor students’ professional practice. See rubric below.

Counseling Student Competency Evaluation (CSCE) Rubric

Counseling session recordings	160
Personal Counseling Style paper	60
Total	300

Your Final Grade is determined by adding the point values earned from each assignment and then dividing by 300. The resulting value is multiplied by 100 to yield a percentage. For example: $(270 \text{ [points earned]}/300) \times 100 = 90\%$

This is a pass/fail course. To pass this course, students must get a minimum of 240 points out of a possible 300. For accreditation, instructors do calculate grades on assignments.

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products.
