Course Description

This course explores the first and second language acquisition and development of children from birth to sixth grade. Students will examine the components of oral, written and academic language that benefit from and promote early literacy development. Special emphasis is given to the teacher's role in supporting language development, in planning developmentally and culturally appropriate learning experiences and in partnering with parents to foster language and early literacy development. This course will address essential topics such as phonological awareness, authentic language assessment, data driven instruction and intervention, concepts of print, emergent writing development, and alphabetic principle.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate knowledge of English language proficiency levels (ELPS Standards) and concepts related to second language acquisition.
2. Learn and apply strategies for working with culturally and linguistically diverse families.
3. Demonstrate knowledge of culturally responsive classroom experiences that recognize and build on students' home language differences and distinctions.
4. Demonstrate knowledge of emergent print awareness, emergent writing concepts and the instructional strategies that support them.
5. Demonstrate knowledge of creating interactive and supportive oral language building learning experiences for young children.
6. Demonstrate knowledge of phonological awareness concepts, the sequential levels of phonological awareness and various phonological awareness activities that support early literacy development.
7. Administer a phonological awareness assessment, analyze, interpret and create a data driven learning experience for young children.
8. Analyze phonological awareness class data and create differentiated group learning experiences based on the data.
9. Understand components of academic language and demonstrate knowledge of creating interactive and supportive academic language building learning experiences for young children.
10. Demonstrate knowledge of oral and academic sentence structures and administer and/or interpret the results of sentence structure assessments.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Global Learning Course

This is a Global Learning Course aligned with the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) to prepare students for an interconnected world. In this course, we address QEP Learning Outcome #2: "Students will be able to apply knowledge of the interconnectedness of global dynamics."

QEP 1. explore first- and second-language acquisition theories

QEP 2. trace first- and second-language development in young children

QEP 3. examine the research related to first- and second-language development and education

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students will be required to use the current learning management system, Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, presentation and graphics programs, research databases, YouTube videos and Web browsing skills while completing this course.

Instructional Methods

This course is made up of a series of interactive learning experiences which include class discussions, lectures, individual and small group projects and presentations, administering and analyzing assessments, and completing online quizzes created from the course textbook.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

1. Students should regularly attend class meetings and actively participate in class discussions.
2. Students should stay current in weekly readings and review any online announcements and posted instructional powerpoints located within D2L.
3. All assignments must be typed and submitted using Word or PDF unless directed otherwise by the instructor. DO NOT Submit anything using the Pages (Mac) Application.
4. Assignments should be thoughtfully crafted and be constructed using college level academic writing.
5. Lack of preparation, participation, and/or professionalism (please see the Code of Student Conduct in the Texas A&M University-Commerce Student Guidebook) may result in removal from class or lowering of your final grade. Academic honesty and integrity are required.
6. Students should contact the instructor if they require support, clarification, or assistance in understanding concepts or in completing assignments.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Assignments will be weighted using the following scale in determining the final grade.

Major Assignments

(excluding Critical Assignments) 50%

Chapter Quizzes 15%

Final: Critical Assignments 20%

Mock STR Course Exam 15%

TOTAL 100%

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Assignment Descriptions

1. Multiple Choice Quizzes. Complete multiple-choice chapter assessments through D2L. (12 Quizzes)
2. Discussion Group Introductions & Video Reflections. Students will introduce themselves to the class and discuss the nature of Language.
3. Differentiating Across ELL Language Proficiency Levels & Observing Oral Language Using the PLDS. Students will learn characteristics of the language proficiency levels of emerging bilinguals as described in the ELPS and differentiate a lesson based on those levels. Finally, students will also observe and analyze select emerging bilingual oral language samples through the lenses of the oral and speaking ELPS language domains.
4. Culturally & Linguistically Diverse Families: Encourage Home-School Connections Assignment. Students will create a plan for working with and connecting culturally & linguistically diverse families to a school.
5. Supporting Developmental Oral Language Function-Content Area Thematic Unit Assignment and Dialogic Reading With Pre-K Students. Students will create a series of multimodal learning experiences within a thematic unit. These learning experiences are designed to encourage and build on students' beginning oral language development based on Halliday's oral language functions theory. Students will also plan a dialogic reading language experience with a child and video themselves engaging in Dialogic Reading. Students will reflect on the experience.
6. Phonological Awareness Continuum Activities/Lessons. Students will use knowledge of the PA Continuum to create appropriate learning experiences at each phonological awareness level.
7. Administering and Reflecting on Phonological Awareness Student Data (PreK-2 Student Mini-Case Study) (2-3 pages). Students will choose two language tests to administer: Phonological Awareness; Concepts About Print; and/or Record of Oral Language (ROL). Students will analyze and interpret data using it to determine appropriate learning experiences. Students will reflect on what they have learned about the child receiving the assessment.
8. Planning Differentiated Interdisciplinary Learning Segment. This assignment consolidates what students have learned about the following: planning consecutive lessons based on one main learning focus, supporting emerging bilinguals, multimodal and interdisciplinary learning, vocabulary instruction, culturally responsive learning experiences (cultural referents & cultural asset), and linguistic scaffolding through questioning. This assignment is also designed to expose you to the requirements of the edTPA Portfolio Assessment Rubrics (#4, 7, 8).
9. STR Mini-Mock Exam. In this final assignment, students will take a multiple choice exam covering the essential topics addressed across the units. Students will demonstrate their understanding of the topics or concepts by answering scenario based questions similar to those on the Science of Teaching Reading Certification

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Pedagogy and Professional Responsibilities Standards:

Standard I. Domain I.

The teacher designs instruction appropriate for all students that reflects an understanding of relevant content and is based on continuous and appropriate assessment.

- 1.7 k the importance of the state content and performance standards as outlined in the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS);
- 1.8 k relevant content of the discipline being taught, including concepts, principle relationships, methods of inquiry, and key issues;
- 1.10k how lesson content and skills connect with other disciplines and within the discipline;
- 1.11k current research on best pedagogical practices.
- 1.12 k the importance of developing instructional goals and objectives that are clear, relevant, meaningful, and age-appropriate;
- 1.13 k the importance of developing instructional goals and objectives that can be assessed
- 1.14 k the importance of developing instructional goals and objectives that are suitable for students with varied learning needs; and
- 1.15 k the importance of aligning instructional goals with campus and district goals.
- 1.16 k the use of appropriate materials and resources for preparing instruction, presenting lessons, and assessing learning;
- 1.21k the importance of planning lessons and structuring units so that activities progress in a logical sequence;
- 1.24 k the importance of engaging in continuous monitoring and self-assessment of instructional effectiveness.
- 1.25 k the role of assessment in guiding instructional planning;
- 1.26 k the importance of creating assessments that are congruent with instructional goals and objectives;
- 1.30 k the connection between the Texas statewide assessment program, the TEKS, and instruction; and
- 1.31 k how to analyze data from local, state, and other assessments using common statistical measures.
- 1.4 s plan instruction that motivates students to want to learn and achieve; and
- 1.5 s acknowledge and respect cultural and socioeconomic differences among students when planning instruction.
- 1.7 s exhibit appropriate knowledge of a subject to promote student learning;
- 1.8 s demonstrate awareness of common student misconceptions or likely sources of student error in relation to particular content;
- 1.9 s plan instruction that reflects an understanding of important prerequisites relationships;
- 1.11s use a variety of pedagogical techniques to convey information and teach skills.
- 1.16 s use various types of materials and other resources to aid in preparing and implementing instruction;
- 1.17 s use technological tools to promote learning and expand instructional options; and
- 1.18 s use resources available outside the school (e.g., museums, businesses, community members) to enhance students' learning opportunities
- 1.20 s select instructional resources that support instructional goals, enhance student achievement, and engage students in learning;
- 1.21 s use varied activities and instructional groupings to engage students in instructional content and meet instructional goals and objectives;
- 1.22 s allocate time appropriately within lessons and units, including providing adequate opportunities for students to engage in reflection and closure; and
- 1.23 s provide students with opportunities to explore content from many perspectives.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

A Complete List of Standards below are addressed within learning sessions, the course textbook and other learning resources which are posted within D2L learning modules.

“All teacher candidates should be familiar with the Texas Teacher Standards in Chapter 149 which can be found at <https://tea.texas.gov/sites/default/files/ch149aa.pdf>”

English Language Arts and Reading Generalist EC-6 Standards

https://tea.texas.gov/sites/default/files/EC_6_ELAR_Standard%284%29_o.pdf

Standard I. Oral Language: Teachers of young students understand the importance of oral language, know the developmental processes of oral language, and provide a variety of instructional opportunities for young students to develop listening and speaking skills.

Standard II. Phonological and Phonemic Awareness: Teachers of young students understand the components of phonological and phonemic awareness and utilize a variety of approaches to help young students develop this awareness and its relationship to written language.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Standard III. Alphabetic Principle: Teachers of young students understand the importance of the alphabetic principle to reading English, know the elements of the alphabetic principle, and provide instruction that helps students understand that printed words consist of graphic representations that relate to the sounds of spoken language in conventional and intentional ways.

Standard IV. Literacy Development and Practice: Teachers of young students understand that literacy develops over time and progresses from emergent to proficient stages. Teachers use a variety of contexts to support the development of young students' literacy.

Science of Teaching Reading Testing Framework Standards

Competency 001 (Foundations of the Science of Teaching Reading): Understand foundational concepts, principles, and best practices related to the science of teaching reading.

A. Demonstrate knowledge of scientifically based reading research (e.g., key findings of the National Reading Panel, the National Early Literacy Panel, the National Literacy Panel for Language Minority

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Children and Youth), including the key research-based components of reading instruction (i.e., phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and text comprehension) and the essential roles that oral language, writing, and motivation play in promoting reading development for students in prekindergarten through grade 3.

B. Demonstrate knowledge of the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines related to reading and the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) for English Language Arts and Reading (ELAR) (Kindergarten through Grade 6).

F. Demonstrate knowledge of the interrelationships between the various components of reading and the importance of promoting students' development of both foundational reading skills and various dimensions of reading comprehension (e.g., listening comprehension, vocabulary development, literary analysis, analysis of informational text, responses to text) at all stages of reading development.

H. Demonstrate knowledge of key principles of research-based and evidence-based reading instruction, including basing instruction on the standards outlined in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and the TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 6); making instructional decisions based on ongoing assessment results; designing and implementing developmentally appropriate, standards-driven instruction that reflects evidence-based best practices; and ensuring that reading instruction is systematic, sequential, explicit, and strategic and promotes the prevention of reading difficulties.

Competency 002 (Foundations of Reading Assessment): Understand foundational concepts, principles, and best practices related to reading assessment.

A. Demonstrate knowledge of the role of assessment in standards-based reading instruction, including basing reading assessment on relevant grade-level standards in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines or TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 6), and using data from ongoing reading assessments to inform instruction, to plan differentiated instruction, and to adjust instructional planning and delivery to meet all students' reading needs.

C. Demonstrate understanding of the importance of using both code-based and meaning-based classroom reading assessments to inform instructional planning, and identify techniques for assessing various decoding skills (e.g., using word lists to assess recognition of high-frequency words; using word pattern surveys, pseudo-word assessments, phonics surveys, writing samples, or spelling surveys to assess phonics knowledge and skills; using structural analysis surveys to assess syllabication and morphemic analysis skills) and various dimensions of reading comprehension (e.g., using oral retellings, written responses, or text-based questioning to assess reading comprehension and vocabulary knowledge; using oral language and writing samples to analyze academic language and vocabulary development).

E. Demonstrate knowledge of key assessment concepts (e.g., validity, reliability, equity in testing) and the characteristics, uses, and limitations of standardized criterion-referenced and norm-referenced tests to assess reading development and identify reading difficulties.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Competency 003 (Oral Language Foundations of Reading Development): Understand foundational concepts, principles, and best practices related to the development of oral language, including second language acquisition, and demonstrate knowledge of developmentally appropriate, research- and evidence-based assessment and instructional practices to promote all students' development of grade level oral language skills.

A. Demonstrate knowledge of explicit, research-based strategies, tools, and techniques for assessing various aspects of students' oral language development, including their academic language development (e.g., knowledge and usage of sentences and grammatical structures of increasing complexity).

B. Demonstrate ability to accurately interpret the results of ongoing assessments in oral language development, including sentence and grammatical complexity, and to use the results to inform instructional planning and delivery, including differentiation strategies and interventions.

C. Demonstrate knowledge of the continuum of oral language development as described in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and the TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 6), including basic stages of oral language development; characteristic features of children's oral language at different stages of development; and the importance of providing students with frequent, repeated, incremental exposures to and opportunities to use new academic language structures in meaningful contexts, including providing opportunities for low-risk oral language rehearsal.

D. Recognize that individual variations in oral language development occur and that speech or language delays require additional support and monitoring in the early childhood education classroom and may warrant in-depth evaluation and/or collaboration with other professionals, if improvement is not achieved through classroom interventions.

E. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting students' understanding and use of sentences and grammatical structures of increasing complexity (e.g., compound sentences, complex sentences, relative clauses).

F. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting students' understanding and use of grade-level instructional language, including terminology and sentence structures used to label and describe people, things, places, and locations and to name, describe, and explain actions, directions, positions, sequences, locations, and categories (e.g., colors, shapes, textures).

G. Demonstrate knowledge of the interrelationships between oral language and literacy development and various ways in which oral language provides a critical foundation for reading skills and comprehension development, particularly for young children at the emergent and beginning stages of reading development, including factors that affect oral language development (e.g., familial, cultural, educational, socioeconomic, linguistic, and developmental characteristics).

H. Demonstrate knowledge of the importance of English learners' home language as an asset that provides an essential foundation for their oral language and literacy development in English, and apply knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for facilitating language transfer by helping English learners make cross-language connections (e.g., explicitly pointing out words that are cognates in English and the home language, using objects or pictures from students' home cultures to connect new English words with familiar meanings).

I. Demonstrate knowledge of basic concepts related to second-language acquisition as described in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and the TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 6) (e.g., recognizing that general education teachers have a shared responsibility in promoting English learners' English language development, that an English learner's English language proficiency level does not relate to the student's grade level, that beginning-level English learners may experience a "silent period" during which they are listening actively without producing oral language, that English learners acquire a new language best when they are provided with multiple, incremental opportunities to expand and extend their English language skills as they build on their strengths in the home language).

J. Demonstrate knowledge of the characteristic features of the four English language proficiency levels as described in the Texas English Language Proficiency Standards (ELPS) (i.e., beginning, intermediate, advanced, and high advanced) in order to plan appropriate language and literacy instruction for English learners.

K. Demonstrate knowledge of culturally responsive instruction, including research-based strategies and best practices for supporting English learners' oral language, literacy, and concept development across academic disciplines as described in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and the TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 6) (e.g., identifying and aligning relevant language objectives with content-area lessons; using appropriate scaffolds, particularly visual cues, to support understanding).

L. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for differentiating instruction in oral language development, including in sentence and grammatical structures, in order to address the assessed needs of all students.

Competency 004 (Phonological and Phonemic Awareness): Understand concepts, principles, and best practices related to the development of phonological and phonemic awareness, and demonstrate knowledge of developmentally appropriate, research- and evidence-based assessment and instructional practices to promote all students' development of grade-level phonological and phonemic awareness skills. For example:

A. Demonstrate knowledge of explicit, research-based strategies, tools, and techniques for assessing students' development of phonological and phonemic awareness skills.

B. Demonstrate ability to accurately interpret the results of ongoing assessments in phonological and phonemic awareness and to use the results to inform instructional planning and delivery, including differentiation strategies and interventions.

C. Demonstrate knowledge of the role of phonological and phonemic awareness in the development of literacy in an alphabetic language.

D. Demonstrate understanding of the distinctions between phonological awareness and phonemic awareness and the distinctions between phonemic awareness and the alphabetic principle.

E. Demonstrate knowledge of key concepts related to the development of phonological and phonemic awareness (e.g., recognizing that young children naturally attend to the meaning of language rather than its sounds and that larger units of sound are easier to detect and manipulate than smaller units of sound).

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- F. Demonstrate knowledge of the phonological awareness continuum as described in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and the TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 2) and apply knowledge of the phonological awareness continuum in order to plan and deliver instruction that is systematic and sequential.
- G. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting young children's development of phonological awareness skills.
- H. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting development of phonemic awareness skills, including strategies that help make the concept of phonemes more concrete for young children (e.g., using manipulatives).
- I. Recognize that a student's home language or language variety may not include all the sounds used in standard English and that English learners and speakers of various dialects or regional styles of English may require explicit, linguistically appropriate support in order to perceive and manipulate some of the phonemes of standard English.
- J. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for differentiating instruction in phonological and phonemic awareness skills in order to address the assessed needs of all students.

Competency 005 (Print Concepts and Alphabet Knowledge): Understand concepts, principles, and best practices related to the development of print concepts and alphabet knowledge, including understanding of the alphabetic principle, and demonstrate knowledge of developmentally appropriate, research- and evidence-based assessment and instructional practices to promote all students' development of grade-level print concepts and alphabet knowledge and their understanding of the alphabetic principle. For example:

- A. Demonstrate knowledge of explicit, research-based strategies, tools, and techniques for assessing various aspects of students' development in print concepts and alphabet knowledge, including their understanding of the alphabetic principle.
- B. Demonstrate ability to accurately interpret the results of ongoing assessments in print concepts, alphabet knowledge, and the alphabetic principle, and to use the results to inform instructional planning and delivery, including differentiation strategies and interventions.
- D. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting young children's development of print concepts (e.g., understanding that illustrations and print carry meaning; distinguishing between illustrations and print and between a letter and a word; identifying key conventions of print that contribute to meaning) and print and digital book-handling skills (e.g., identifying a book's front cover, back cover, and title page; turning pages correctly).
- E. Demonstrate understanding of the role of alphabet knowledge in reading development (e.g., recognizing that phonemic awareness and alphabet knowledge are key predictors of early reading success because phonemic awareness skills, letter recognition, and letter-sound correspondence provide the foundation for decoding and spelling development).
- F. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting young children's development of alphabet knowledge, including strategies for reinforcing alphabet knowledge (e.g., using multimodal techniques).
- G. Demonstrate knowledge of the alphabetic principle (i.e., the understanding that letters and combinations of letters represent the sounds of spoken language and that phonemes have a predictable, systematic relationship to those letters).

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

and letter combinations) and the role of the alphabetic principle in reading development (e.g., interrelationships between letter-sound correspondence, phonemic awareness, and beginning decoding).

H. Demonstrate knowledge of research-based strategies and best practices for promoting young children's development of the alphabetic principle (e.g., identifying the most common sound or sounds associated with each letter of the alphabet), including strategies for reinforcing the alphabetic principle (e.g., using articulatory feedback when teaching letter-sound relationships, encouraging engagement in meaningful writing using phonetic spelling).

I. Demonstrate understanding of the role of predictable texts in promoting young children's development of print concepts and alphabet knowledge.

J. Demonstrate understanding that not all written languages are alphabetic, that many alphabetic languages are more phonetically regular than English, and that English learners' literacy development in English is affected by these factors.

Competency 009 (Vocabulary Development): Understand concepts, principles, and best practices related to vocabulary development, and demonstrate knowledge of developmentally appropriate, research- and evidence-based assessment and instructional practices to promote all students' development of grade-level vocabulary knowledge and skills. For example:

C. Demonstrate knowledge of the essential role of vocabulary in supporting students' oral language development, reading comprehension, and ability to engage in self-sustained reading, including the interrelationships between vocabulary knowledge, reading achievement, and overall academic achievement.

D. Demonstrate knowledge of the continuum of vocabulary development as described in the Texas Prekindergarten Guidelines and the TEKS for ELAR (Kindergarten through Grade 6), including the importance of providing students with frequent, repeated, incremental exposures to and opportunities to use new vocabulary in meaningful contexts.

F. Demonstrate knowledge of the distinctions between various tiers of vocabulary (Tier One—everyday, Tier Two—general academic, and Tier Three—discipline-specific) and the importance of explicitly teaching all students new Tier Two and Tier Three words that are key to understanding a new concept or comprehending a new text, while also identifying any relevant Tier One words with which students may be unfamiliar and explicitly teaching these words.

Competency 010 (Comprehension Development): Understand concepts, principles, and best practices related to the development of reading comprehension, and demonstrate knowledge of developmentally appropriate, research- and evidence-based assessment and instructional practices to promote all students' development of reading comprehension strategies in order to gain, clarify, and deepen understanding of appropriately complex texts. For example:

C. Demonstrate knowledge of factors affecting reading comprehension (e.g., oral language development, including listening comprehension skills; academic language development, including vocabulary and grammatical knowledge and skills; decoding skills; reading fluency; ability to monitor for understanding; background knowledge relevant to a text's topic or setting; level of English language proficiency; prior literacy experiences with other texts of the same genre or text type; specific text characteristics).

E. Demonstrate knowledge of the challenges and supports in a text (e.g., pictures, predictability, decodability, text structure) and strategies for evaluating and sequencing texts for reading instruction according to text complexity (e.g., quantitative dimensions, qualitative dimensions, reader and task variables), including strategies that promote students' self-sustained reading of increasingly complex texts and their ability to self-select appropriately complex texts for independent reading, inquiry, and research.

F. Demonstrate knowledge of different levels of comprehension, including literal comprehension skills, inferential comprehension skills, and evaluative comprehension skills

ECE 358 course content is also aligned with the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for Language Arts and Reading for grades EC–6. The course targets elements of the following strand across the grade levels :

Developing and sustaining foundational language skills: listening, speaking, reading, writing, and thinking--beginning reading and writing. The student develops word structure knowledge through phonological awareness, print concepts, phonics, and morphology to communicate, decode, and spell. The student is expected to:

Online Course Information

Asynchronous and Synchronous Learning

The majority of the learning will be asynchronous to ensure that students have flexibility in understanding concepts and completing assignments. However, there will be some prescheduled virtual lectures/whole class meetings, cooperative learning experiences and virtual workdays to better assist students in completing major assignments.

Attendance

- Success in this course is dependent on your active participation and engagement throughout the course. As such, students are required to complete all assignments by the due date, and to actively participate in online class discussions.
- Excessive absences (less than 3 hours a week logged in to D2L) or 10 days without logging into D2L, may prompt an administrative withdrawal.

Video

- During virtual learning, turn on your video when possible. It is helpful to be able to see each other, just as in an in-person class.
- Exceptions. If you have limited internet bandwidth or no webcam, it is ok to not use video.
 - o If you're unable to find an environment without a lot of visual distractions, it is also ok to turn off your video.
- Keep it clean. Don't share anything you wouldn't put up on the projector in class.

Audio

- Mute your microphone when you are not talking. This helps eliminate background noise.
- Use a headset when possible. If you own headphones with a microphone, please use them. This improves audio quality.
- Be in a quiet place when possible. Find a quiet, distraction-free spot to log in. Turn off any music, videos, etc. in the background.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Chat/Discussion/Virtual Breakout Rooms

Stay on topic. Use the chat window for questions and comments that are relevant to class. The chat window is not a place for socializing or posting comments that distract from the course activities. If you fill it up with random comments, I will be unable to sort through the information quickly to address students' real questions/concerns about the course.

Work cooperatively to complete virtual small group and discussion tasks. Be present and purposefully engaged.

No disrespect or hate speech. Just like in our in-person class, respectful behavior is expected. Consider Zoom/YouSeeU a professional environment, and act like you're at a job interview, even when you're typing in the chat or completing a discussion thread.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

LMS

All course sections offered by Texas A&M University-Commerce have a corresponding course shell in the myLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). Below are technical requirements

LMS Requirements:

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a TAMUC campus open computer lab, etc.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

If you have any questions or are having difficulties with the course material, please contact your Instructor.

Technical Support

If you are having technical difficulty with any part of Brightspace, please contact Brightspace Technical Support at 1-877-325-7778. Other support options can be found here:

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Assignment Policy: All assignments are due on or before the date they are assigned which can be found in the Course Calendar, unless otherwise approved by the instructor. Contact the instructor as soon as possible regarding the need for assignment extensions. Assignments will be submitted through D2L in the appropriate links and must be in .doc or .docx format (Word or PDF). All assignments that are late will have points deducted, up to 30 pts. Late means they are not submitted by the calendar/D2L deadline. Late assignments may not be turned in or submitted more than three days beyond the due date. You are a professional and must present yourself in a way to show responsibility.

Professionalism: Professionalism as a student and future educator is expected. Your professionalism during this course influences your participation grade and any group assignments that you may complete. You will often be required to self-assess your attempts at completing an individual or small group assignment. Your small group members may assess you as well.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Professionalism is defined in the following ways:

- (a) consistent class attendance,
- (b) paying attention,
- (c) participating actively, respectfully and constructively
- (d) being responsible and prepared,
- (e) being an equal partner in group work,
- (f) showing enthusiasm and interest in being a teacher (see Field-Based Teacher Education Program Handbook and Professional Behavioral Standards Evaluation Form),
- (g) following the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior. Code of student conduct can be found under discipline in the student's guidebook.

Written Assignments: All written assignments are expected to exhibit professional quality. You should demonstrate mastery of organizing, structuring, and editing in your writing. Letters/materials written by you as a professional and sent to parents/administrators MUST BE PERFECT. Begin that practice now! Therefore, if you need extra help, the Writing Center can assist you. See <http://web.tamuc.edu/academics/colleges/artsSciences/departments/literatureLanguages/>

a. Written Assignments should be:

- *double spaced
- *1" top and left side margins, 1" bottom and right side margins
- *12 point font size
- *revised for clarity and meaning
- *edited for accuracy in grammar and mechanics
- *saved on a flash drive or copied on paper for your records

Academic Integrity/Honest Statement: This course demands a high level of scholarly behavior and academic honesty on the part of students. Examples of academic dishonesty include but are not limited to: (1) turning in work as original that was used in whole or part for another course and/or instructor without obtaining permission from this instructor in advance; (2) turning in another person's work, in part or in whole, as your own; (3) copying from professional works without citing them; and (4) any form of cheating on exams. Violations of academic integrity/honesty while carrying out academic assignments may, at the discretion of the instructor, receive a zero on the particular work in question, receive an F in the course, or will be brought before a higher level of governance for possible dismissal from the university.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.
