Course Description

This course is designed to explore crime, its context, and especially its causes. First, a foundation will be provided concerning the basic concepts of crime, law, and criminology. Next, theories of crime causation will be explored. The etiology or causes of crime are at the heart of this course, with the theories acting as pillars in the class structure. Next, crime typologies will be examined, or the different kinds of crimes most prevalent in our society. Lastly, we will gain an overview of the criminal justice system itself. The intent of this format is to present a balanced perspective on the field of criminology for new students to the discipline. Attention will also be directed to assure inclusion of issues concerning race, gender, and class, which are often overlooked.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Learning Outcomes (Should be measurable; observable; use action verbs)

1. The student will demonstrate an understanding of theoretical criminology, crime and deviance, and the social context of crime
2. The student will demonstrate an understanding of crime causation
3. The student will demonstrate an understanding of future issues and trends related to criminology.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

1. Attend class regularly (via Internet)
2. Read material before class
3. Active participation in discussions (not just “I agree/disagree”)

Instructional Methods

The method of instruction for this course will be a combination of power point presentations, discussions, and group activities. The specific activities used to engage students in mastering chapter material will be discussion board participation, exams and a research paper as assigned.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Communication is the key to success! Please sign into your course as often throughout the week, as possible. Complete your discussion boards as requested. Understand, that I can only grade what I have and the more I have the better the grade. If you ever have any questions, please just ask.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Total points corresponding to the final letter grades

A	738 – 820
B	656 – 737
C	574 - 655
D	492 – 573
F	<492

Assessments

Exams: You will have 4 exams during the course (each exam is worth 100 points). The exams, in general, will not be cumulative, however some of the material presented later in the course builds on topics previously discussed. Exams are to be taken on the date listed on the syllabus. Each examination will consist of short essay questions. You may prepare for these exams by reviewing reading assignments, class notes and discussion questions. Please know that a short essay is not 1-3 sentences. It is a well thought out answer in 2-3 good paragraphs. You should also cite any sources used to answer these questions. Please note anything on your schedule in RED is related to your exams.

Online Discussions: We are going to integrate most of our learning into online discussion. Please, make sure you are familiar with all aspects of D2L. There is an online tutorial if there is something you do not understand. Not understanding

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

D2L is not an acceptable excuse for late assignments. Start now getting familiar with it. For full credit of 20 points, you will need to post an original post that is cited correctly (APA) and answer TWO of your classmates with a reply which consists of more than “I agree or I disagree” Please note anything in BLUE on your schedule is discussion board related.

Research Project: The research project will be in the format of a PowerPoint due at the end of the semester. I would like you to create this PowerPoint based on one of the theories we discuss in this course. The idea is the theory you choose should be able to explain parts of criminological behavior. So, once you have chosen your theory, I want you to completely define the theory and explain how this theory fits into identifying behaviors. This PowerPoint must be at least 15 slides long not including your title slide and works cited slide(s). Please, use APA format writing style and for your works cited slides. You must use at LEAST 5 sources or works cited. Your work will be graded for grammar, spelling and content. You will have all semester to work on this project and if you have any questions, please ask. I am here to help you learn and have a positive learning experience. I want you to be creative using color and pictures. Please use examples to back up your theory. You can use humor, have fun with this project, and just understand it is your final. You will have deadlines to meet throughout the course with reference to this project, so please be on the lookout for prompts. This will be your final exam as well and is worth 200 points of your final grade. Please note anything in PURPLE on your schedule is PowerPoint related.

You are encouraged to monitor your grades throughout the semester via the grade book in D2L. If you turn in an assignment and do not receive a grade or have a question about the grading, I need to know immediately. I will not entertain any disputes later than one week after the grades are posted.
