Course Description

This advanced practice course provides students with theories and skill for working with individuals from an advanced generalist perspective. By the end of the course, students will be expected to demonstrate critical thinking, integration of theory with practice, and knowledge, values and skills appropriate for autonomous practice. Prerequisites: Students must have been admitted to the MSW program; completed all MSW foundation curriculum requirements; and be in good standing in the MSW program.

RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER COURSES:

This course builds upon foundation content that provides knowledge of human behavior and social systems. It builds upon foundation exposure to professional values and ethics, particularly the NASW Code of Ethics.

3. Promote leadership and service that is relevant to individual contexts of practice and enhances well-being and quality of life.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) requires a competency-based approach to identify and assess what students demonstrate in practice. In social work, this approach involves assessing students' ability to demonstrate the competencies identified in the educational policy. Assessments

SWK 505 Assignments

1. Analytic Papers (10 @ 10 points = 100 Points):

A one-page double-spaced typewritten paper is due at the beginning of each class meeting for Weeks 3 – 14 which summarizes the reading assigned for the day (see course calendar). The paper should identify and discuss at least four key points from the reading. Be prepared to discuss these points in class. Each paper is worth ten (10) points. The papers will be read and graded by your classmates. These papers will not be accepted late.

2. Group Presentation (50 Points):

Students will pair with other students to form a group of three (3) – a few of your groups will have more. Each group will be responsible for leading the class discussion for classes meeting as designated in the course schedule. The presentation must include the following: 1) a summary of the theory, 2) assessment of the theory for practice, 3) a case example utilizing the theory. Be sure to develop possible questions and/ or issues for discussion. Students should also rely on their own experiences and knowledge to help facilitate class discussion. You will be expected to defend your position on this theory concerning your experience and case example.

Full participation and cooperation all members of the group is expected. Theoretically, one grade will be assigned for each group presentation. It is possible, however, that individual grades may be reduced by a lack of effort or participation in the final product.

3. Theory Analysis Paper (100 Points):

Students will choose a theory (not the same one that you used in the class presentation) that attempts to explain human behavior. Students will then analyze the theory through some framework that explains if it is best used with groups or individuals. There should also be a section on application to practice, including a case study. The application section should utilize the professional literature and contain at least 5 professional references. Finally, a conclusion as to why this theory is the best theory to explain human behavior and interventions for client. The paper should be 6 pages in length.

4. Comprehensive Final (50 points)

Department or Accrediting Agency Required Content

Engagement Policy

Final Evaluation and Grade Depends on both Classroom attendance and Participation

Inadequate participation or lack of required time commitment in each class significantly affects students' grades. No matter the course venue, students must engage in a comparable amount of time. Expectations of both Face-to-Face classes and those with Online components include time spent reading and studying course material.

To earn a level of competency within a specific course, students must demonstrate both mastery of content and active engagement.

Mastery of content areas is evidenced by successful completion of course assignments such as written papers, group project deliverables, tests/quizzes and other tangible products designed by instructors to evaluate knowledge and skills.

Additionally, the Social Work Profession is built upon human interactions and building human relationships – which is defined as engagement. Engagement is defined as meaningful involvement in interactions with instructor, peers, outside stakeholders as appropriate (such as contacting a social worker to interview for a required assignment). Within the classroom setting, whether virtual or F2F, students must actively participate in 80% of engagement activities as outlined by individual instructors. These activities can include participation in a live, synchronous virtual classes, attending a Face to Face course when appropriate, interacting with peers in posted discussions and collaborating in group interactive projects.

Students must meet standards for content mastery on tangible assignments and meet the threshold of active engagement 80% of the time during a semester. Instructors are experts in each course content area and set the standards for students to meet for successful completion of the course.

As we enter the Fall semester, we are all working under stresses and strains related to the COVID-19 pandemic. It is imperative we communicate consistently and frequently. If, for any reason, you are not able to complete assignments or actively engage in the course, you MUST reach out to your instructor and let him or her know.

Student Conduct

Students preparing to become professional social workers must adhere to the University Code of Conduct, Department Code of Conduct and National Association of Social Workers' (NASW) Code of Ethics.

University Code of Conduct located in the Student Guide Book at <http://www.tamuc.edu/campuslife/documents/studentGuidebook.pdf> (pp 34- 66). On the University Website under Campus Life Documents

To become aware of University policies related to student academic and behavioral expectations for students refer to the Guidebook.

Department Code of Conduct

"Faculty have the authority to request students who exhibit inappropriate behavior to leave the class/lab/internship practicum or to block access to online courses and may refer offenses to the [Academic and Professional Issues Committee (API)] or to the Department Head. More serious offences by be referred to the University Police Department and/or the Judicial Affairs Office for disciplinary action" (Student Guidebook p 35)

Social Work students conduct themselves in an ethical and professional manner.

Closely linked with professional recognition is the social worker's compliance with the profession's ethical standards. It is imperative for professional social workers to be competent and ethical in practice if the profession is to maintain the public trust. It is essential that each social work student gain a thorough understanding of the ethical principles that guide practice and actively demonstrate in behavior, both in and out of the classroom. Student conduct is to reflect the tenets of NASW Code of Ethics (located at <https://www.socialworkers.org/pubs/code/code.asp>) on the NASW website: <https://www.socialworkers.org>
