Course Description

Project Based Learning. Three semester hours. This course is designed to aid in understanding the difference in Problem Based Learning and Project Based learning. The overall goal is to examine and identify the key components in Project Based Learning. Additionally, the students will gain an understanding of the teacher role, student role, and assessment throughout a PBL unit.

Student Learning Outcomes

Course Goals

- To obtain an awareness of the Project Based Learning (PBL) model of teaching as defined by the Buck Institute.
- To explain the difference in Project Based Learning vs. Problem Based Learning.
- To explore ways of probing learner understanding through multiple types of assessment, including pre-assessment, formative assessment, performance and authentic assessment.
- To facilitate reflective practice and lifelong learning as professionals.
- To create a complete PBL unit, including an overall unit plan, objectives/goals, assessment components, and unit calendar to incorporate into their classrooms.

Course Objectives

Students will:

- Develop and enact a multiple week unit of instruction based on a problem in a project-based learning school.
- Develop multiple types of assessments to determine what students know and how to help them reach learning goals.
- Use content and equity as lenses to analyze and reflect on their own teaching and learning interactions.
- Discuss and reflect upon beliefs and beliefs systems regarding educational practices.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students should be able to proficiently use the learning management system, Microsoft Word and PowerPoint, and online presentation and graphics programs.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Instructional Methods

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments

This online course consists of a series of activities and assessments to assist you in achieving the outcomes/objectives for the course. Each week you will work on various combinations of assignments, activities, discussions, readings, research, etc.

Completion of all assigned readings from the text and any supplemental materials and on-time delivery is expected. No late work will be accepted. The completion of all written assignments and projects exhibit your scholarship and professionalism. Some examples of the assignments that may be expected of you are: written reflections from field experiences and textbook content, self-assessments, thoughtful participation in class discussions, debates, group sessions, group activities, chapter quizzes, reflective written assignments, lesson plans, and completed PBL project presentation.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

- Assignments and points are subject to change, this is just a preview of the upcoming semester. Based on the needs of the class, assignments will be added or removed.
- Late work will be significantly reduced, at minimum 20 percent of the points deducted. The professor retains the right to accept/refuse late work.
- All work must be submitted – late or not – to receive an A.

Activities/Assessments

Module Assignments (e.g. quizzes/activities/reflections/PBL unit pieces)	50 points each
Online postings on readings for each module	25 points each
Final Project	300
Other assignments, online zoom meetings, bonus point opportunities	Various points

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Due Date System

- Assignments for each module will be due at midnight of the last night of the module, which is Friday each week. (see specific listing of dates on the calendar provided in D2L.)
- There will be opportunities for Thursday submissions to allow for feedback prior to final submission of some assignments. See the course calendar in D2L for the specifics.
- Saturdays are assignment free, “catch up” days. All work due during the prior week may be submitted by midnight on Saturday of that week for partial credit. Saturday midnight is the UNEDD “Ultimate No Excuses Due Date.” Late work submitted after the UNEDD will not be accepted. There will be a 20 percent deduction of your work if submitted on Saturday.

It is my desire that you have all work done by Friday so that you can enjoy your weekends homework free. It is summer time and we all need a couple of days off.

Class Online Discussions

The class will be heavily based on discussion postings. The postings will be due in two parts; original posts will be due by Wednesday to allow for your group to post responses by Friday each week. The posts are due by midnight respectively. You will have a one day extension for any work to be completed by Saturday each week. After Saturday, the work for the previous week will not receive credit. This should allow for homework free weekends. I will provide a calendar in D2L.

Group Work for Final PBL Unit

As part of the course, you will ultimately design a complete unit meant for you to implement into your classroom. You may choose to work independently or choose a partner based on your grade-level and common interest. The final product will need to have a clear reflection on how everyone in the group contributed.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Attendance Policy

The work in this course is accomplished in collaborative work groups and with independent assignments. Punctuality, dependability, and the ability to accomplish group goals and individual goals are considered effective ways to demonstrate the professionalism required for success in the field-based teacher education program. If you miss a class, you will receive a zero for that day's attendance and participation grade (total of 10 points for class). You may be allowed to make up the in-class work for that class period for 80% credit, if the make-up work is feasible. If you miss more than three classes, you may be withdrawn from the course. Extenuating circumstances will be taken into consideration, if the student initiates a conference with the instructor.

University Related Excused Absences: When absences are related to an approved University event, your supervisor will need to contact the instructor with the details of the absence before the date. You will need to meet with the instructor to receive class notes and assignments to be completed prior to the next class meeting. Grading procedures: For an approved/excused absence you will receive full credit for attendance. The participation grade will be reflective of your completion of the make-up work of the day's assignments.

Tardy Policy: It is important that you be on-time (early) to class. You should be in the classroom, seated and ready to begin the day's lesson. Coming late to class is distracting to the instructor and your classmates. Three tardies will count as one absence; three absences may have you withdrawn from the class.
