Textbook(s) Required

American Psychological Association. (2009). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.). Washington, DC: Author.

Gargiulo, R. M. (2020). Special education in contemporary society: An introduction to exceptionality (6th ed.). Washington, DC: Sage.

Course Description

University Catalog Description

SPED 524 examines characteristics of students identified as having emotional/behavioral disorders, mild mental retardation (intellectual disabilities), and learning disabilities, with applications for other exceptionalities. The content includes state and federal rules and regulations, issues and trends, instructional strategies, school-home partnerships, and formal and informal assessment.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. The student will describe how educators and other professionals determine the difference between “typical” and “atypical” behaviors
2. The student will demonstrate an understanding of philosophical, historical, and legal foundations of special education
3. The student will develop an understanding of the roles and responsibilities of professionals, parents, students, and the community
4. The student will describe historical points of view and contributions of culturally diverse groups to the field of special education
5. The student will examine characteristics of students with exceptionalities and effects of exceptionalities on learning and development.

6. The student will be an active online communicator and collaborator about achievement of all students in each content area in a variety of settings.
7. The student will analyze research-based procedures about proactive development of student-centered learning environments emphasizing social, emotional, and academic achievement of all students.
8. The student will describe past, present, and future models of assessment and intervention, including technological advances
9. The student will discuss issues and trends in special education, including key legislation, litigation, and use of innovative technology

Texas Special Education Standards:

EC-6 and 6-12:

1. Standard B. Legal and Ethical Guidelines. The Early Childhood-Grade 6 special education teacher demonstrates knowledge of all applicable state and federal laws, including Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) of 2004; Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973; The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and ADA Amendments Act (ADAAA) of 2008; Texas Education Code specific to students with disabilities; Texas Administrative Code specific to students with disabilities; and Family Education Rights and Privacy Act. The Early Childhood-Grade 6 special education teacher must:
 - 3) demonstrate knowledge of IDEA 2004 eligibility categories;EC-6 (19) and 6-12 (24) demonstrate understanding that students served through special education may also have other special populations identifiers (i.e., gifted and talented, English learner, highly mobile and at risk, and dyslexia);
2. Standard C. Understanding and Addressing Each Individual's Developmental and Learning Needs. The Early Childhood-Grade 6 special education teacher must:

EC-6 (3) demonstrate knowledge of how exceptionalities can interact with development and learning;

6-12 (3) understand the impact of exceptionalities on developmental milestones, executive functioning, and social skills;

(9) demonstrate knowledge of how developmental academic, social, and functional characteristics of individuals with high support needs impact levels of support needs;

Texas Diagnostician:

1. Standard V. The educational diagnostician knows eligibility criteria and procedures for identifying students with disabilities and determining the presence of an educational need.
 - (1) The educational diagnostician knows and understands:
 - (A) characteristics of individuals with disabilities, including those with different levels of severity and with multiple disabilities;
 - (B) educational implications of various disabilities; and
 - (C) the variation in ability exhibited by individuals with particular types of disabilities.

Learning Activities

- Student directed discussion and presentation of key concepts
- Independent library research
- Analysis and synthesis of course readings using APA format
 - Application of course concepts to case studies and practical scenarios
 - Analysis of course materials using a variety of mediums, including web-based resources, applicable professional organizations, and peer-reviewed journal articles

Overview of Assignments & Grading

• Personal Introduction and Statement of Interests (5 points-graded in Discussions) Students will craft an introduction and statement of interests. Students will post their statements to the student lounge located within our course shell. Each statement will include information about your program, current employment/career goals, and areas of interest. Additional details and examples will be provided. Completion of the assignment will result in a score of 5 points.

• Weekly Discussions (10 total) Students will respond to weekly discussion threads, pertinent to the topic for that week.

Dyslexia Training (30 pts) Students will submit verification of completion of a TEA training in the characteristics and intervention of dyslexia as well as their signature on a form posted in DocSharing verifying the student has accessed and reviewed all dyslexia resources shared by the instructor. All forms must contain an original signature and be submitted to the DropBox.

• Article Critiques (2 x 25 points, 50 points) Students will review two articles related to special education. The instructor will place a variety of articles related to course content in D2L. Students will select one article of interest from those provided and complete a review using a template provided by the instructor. Please note that you will need to select the template for practitioner articles (articles that explain how to do a strategy or intervention) or the template for research-based articles (articles that tell the results of a study), depending on the article you select. Students need to indicate their selection—practitioner or research-based—with their submission.

• Disability Presentation (25 points) Within the 13 federal disability categories, the student will investigate a disability or sub-category of his/her choosing (e.g., Anxiety Disorder, Dyscalculia; Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, Cerebral Palsy, Retinitis Pigmentosa, Down Syndrome, Cri de Chat Syndrome, etc.).

1. Students will create an interactive presentation that includes research-based citations regarding identification, the social, academic, medical, and emotional implications across the lifespan (birth through adulthood), and evidence-based resources for school personnel. Some presentation options include narrated Power Point®, Prezi®, or Youtube video.

2. Students will then utilize Google Jamboard (<https://youtu.be/6OTRZLNylic>) to allow classmates to ask questions and give feedback on their presentations. The Google Jamboard link needs to be included with your presentation. This is intended to get you familiar with using Jamboard. The goal is to think about other ways you could use this technology in your classroom (i.e. bell ringers, discussions, exit tickets, enhance engagement).

• Case Study Analysis (2 x 25 points, 50 points) The instructor will provide several case studies requiring the student to apply their knowledge of special education to real world scenarios. Students will choose two case studies over the course of the semester and answer corresponding questions. A rubric will be provided.

• Special Education Critical Concepts (10 x 5 points, 50 points) Students will use an instructor provided template OR choose a differing preferred method for presentation (i.e... Google Slides, Padlet, etc.) to complete a detailed outline of key concepts related to each of the federal high incidence disability categories. These outlines will provide a synthesis of key course concepts and assist with preparation for the special education department comprehensive exam (see Special Education Graduate Handbook for additional information about the Comprehensive Exam). The idea is to make them comprehensive and shareable with parents. Be creative on formatting/methodology for presentation. Submissions must be typed.

Info to Include on Each Page:

1. IDEA Definition, including types as appropriate. In preparation for comps, you may choose to include your study technique for remembering the definition, such as the example in DocSharing of the 5 components of the ED definition illustrated as fingers on a hand. (You can use this one for ED if you choose, but you will need to come up with the remainder on your own.)
2. Causes
3. Prevalence (provide percentages/numbers as much as possible)
4. Prevention
5. Characteristics
6. Teaching strategies/Accommodations
7. Assistive Technology
8. Resources

You will have ONE page for each of the following topics:

Learning Disabilities

OHI-ADHD

Speech and Language Impairments

Autism Spectrum Disorders

Emotional Disturbance

GRADING: 5 pages @ 10 points each = 50 points total

*Note: The other disabilities that fall within these categories can be listed as part of the definition.

Course Reflection (5 points-graded in Discussion points) Students will complete a one-page reflection summarizing their experiences through the semester. Specifically, students will think about their perceptions regarding course content. Topics of interest might include disability awareness, special education policies, why there is a research to practice gap in your field, the importance of high-quality instruction and intervention, or any other areas of interest. Students should document their learning and growth as a result of participating in this course.

Grading:

Dyslexia Training	30
Article Critiques (2 @ 25 pts)	50
Case Study Analysis (2 @ 25 pts)	50
Weekly discussion posts (10 total; at either 5 or 10 points)	80
Disability Presentation	25
Special Education Critical Concepts Synthesis	50
Total	285

Grading Scale A = 90-100% D = 60-69% B = 80-89% F = 59 and below C = 70-79%

Assignments should be submitted to eCollege DropBox. All written assignments should be typed and adhere to the American Psychological Association manual, whenever appropriate. In addition, all written assignments must contain a header with the name of the person submitting the assignment in the actual document itself (not just the file name when it is uploaded). Late assignments and examinations will not be accepted. All assignments should reflect university level spelling, syntax, and grammar.

It is recommended that students retain electronic and hard copies of ALL course products. Products from this class can become part of one's individual professional portfolio. Grading Scale A = 90-100% D = 60-69% B = 80-89% F = 59 and below C = 70-79%

Technology Requirements

This is an online course that will be conducted within eCollege. To get started with the course, go to <https://leo.tamu-commerce.edu/login.aspx>. You will need your CWID and password to login to the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your login please contact Technology Services at (903) 468-6000. Contacting eCollege

The following options are available 24 hours/7 days per week:

1. Help: Click on the help button on the toolbar for information regarding working with eCollege (e.g., "How do I submit to dropbox?", "How do I post to the discussion board?")
2. Chat Support: Click on "Live Support" button on the toolbar within your course to chat with an eCollege representative

3. Phone: 1-800-656-5511 (toll free) to speak with an eCollege Technical Support Representative
4. Email: helpdesk@online.tamuc.org to indicate a support request with an eCollege Technical Support Representative

Communication

The instructor is available virtually by Skype and email. If you would like to schedule an appointment, the best way is to email. We can then set up a time to chat when it is convenient for you.

Special Education Department Email Guidelines

In an attempt to provide a framework for professional communication, emails must contain the following:

- Subject Line: Course (e.g., SPED 595); additional information if desired (e.g., Statement of Research Interests)
- Address the reader
- Adhere to writing mechanics rules
- If asking for assistance with an issue, please list at least 3 things you have done to try and remediate the issue prior to contacting me (these should probably include looking at the syllabus/course rubrics/eCollege, contacting a colleague, and checking your text, etc.).
- Close with your name
- Please send emails from your University accounts. The instructor will not discuss grades over email. If you would like to discuss your grade, please make an appointment.

Course and University Procedures/Policies

Course Participation

Students are expected to actively participate in the course, complete readings, and submit assignments no later than the due dates indicated on the course schedule.

Academic Integrity

By accepting this syllabus, the student pledges to uphold the principles of Academic Integrity expressed by the Texas A&M University-Commerce community and the Psychology, Counseling, and Special Education Department. The student agrees to observe these principles and to defend them against abuse by others.

- Students in this course are expected to exhibit academic integrity at all times. Be aware that plagiarism is presenting someone else's work as your own. Whether the act is deliberate or unintentional is irrelevant. You must take great care to give credit to an author when you borrow either exact words or ideas. Generally, if you use 4 or more words in a row you should use quotation marks and a proper citation. The instructor reserves the right to submit your work to Turnitin®, SafeAssign®, or similar plagiarism detection services, for an integrity assessment as needed.

- Copyright rules also apply. Use of graphics or data must also be cited, giving credit to the sources. This material includes but is not limited to journal articles, books, popular press articles, e-mail (don't cite or forward someone else's e-mail without permission), newsgroup material, and information from websites. Even if you give credit, you must get permission from the original source to use any data, graphic, or material that you did not create.
- Any attempt to circumvent the integrity of the testing process or otherwise evade the fullest demands of class assignments in an unethical manner constitutes cheating. This can mean looking on another student's exam, consulting notes or books during an exam unless specifically permitted by the instructor, stealing an exam and circulating it among other students. Any offense wholly or partially touching the above definition constitutes cheating for the purposes of this class.
- Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Any act of academic dishonesty may result in earning a "0" in the course. All acts of academic dishonesty will be reported to the applicable program coordinator and department chair. APA Style and Formatting All work should be submitted using APA style. If you are unfamiliar with APA, it would benefit you to purchase the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.) or to access one of the internet sites that provides a summary of this information. All work produced outside of class must be typed unless otherwise noted. <http://www.psywww.com/resource/apacrib.htm> is offered as a companion to the APA style manual. However, it should not be considered a substitute for directly consulting the APA manual, 6th edition for standard of procedures for applying APA style.

University Procedures

ADA Requirements Students with Disabilities:

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:

Office of Student Disability Resources and Services

Texas A&M University-Commerce Gee Library- Room 132

Phone (903) 886-5150 or (903) 886-5835
