COURSE INFORMATION

For this course, we will be using a platform called Top Hat that is included through TAMUC's Inclusive Access, meaning that this fee has already been charged to your bursar account. Top Hat will be accessible through our course shell in D2L. While you will receive an email about being able to opt out of this inclusive access, Top Hat is required for the course.

To gain access to Top Hat, it is YOUR responsibility to create an account when you receive an email from the campus bookstore. Be on the lookout for this email at the start of the semester.

If you have any issues with Top Hat, you should contact support@tophat.com.

Through Top Hat, you will gain access to the following course materials.

Writing Inquiry 2nd Edition. Eds. Jessica Pauszek, Shannon Carter, Donna DunbarOdom, and Tabetha Adkins. Fountainhead Press, 2019.

Course Description

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

ENG 1302 provides students with advanced training in communication skills emphasizing the writing and reading of argumentative prose and adapting writing to alternate audiences. Students will write weekly, including such texts as journals, reading response logs, summaries of argumentative texts, argumentative papers, and longer papers integrating secondary research. Activities include close reading of sample texts, both student and professional. Some sections will emphasize special topics in both reading and writing. Prerequisites: Grade of C or better in English 1301 or advanced placement or CLEP.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art.
2. In written, oral, and/or visual communication, A&M-Commerce students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion, with an evident message and organizational structure.
3. Students will be able to work together toward a shared purpose relevant to the course or discipline with a sense of shared responsibility for meeting that purpose.
4. Students will understand and practice academic honesty.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

You will need:

- Flash drive or other means (dropbox.com account, for example) of storing digital versions of the essays and other written material you generate (always, always keep a backup of everything you turn in!)
- A valid, working email address that you check often (everyday). I will email the class through D2L, so be sure that that email is the one you check.
- Regular internet access
- Access to a computer with a word processing program and a printer (assignments must be typed uploaded through D2L in a doc or docx file)

Instructional Methods

This class meets face-to-face at the designated time. Should we need to shift to online/virtual learning at any point, we will still meet at those times, but via Zoom instead.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course GRADING

When Your Grades Are Based on Labor
Read more at tracigardner.com/Labor

Your grades are based on your labor—on the time and intensity you put into your writing. Here's how to approach your projects.

- Focus on Ideas
Focus on your ideas, on what you're trying to say. Forget about the pressure to be perfect. Focusing on perfection can distract writers from developing their ideas. Because you are graded on labor, mistakes won't undermine your grade.
- Write for Yourself
You're studying the kinds of writing that are important in your field and developing a sense of what makes that writing effective. Don't worry about impressing me. Write what will make you successful in the workplace.
- Take Risks
Try kinds of writing that stretch your abilities and help you learn new things. There's no need to play it safe. After all, the safe, easy route doesn't push you improve your writing.
- Have a Do-Over
If you take a risk and it doesn't turn out, you can always try again. Just as in a game, you have unlimited do-overs. Making mistakes is part of the learning process. As long as you are trying to improve your work, you can't fail.
- Put in the Effort
You will write, rewrite, start over, and try again. All this work counts, as long as you listen to feedback, incorporate what you hear, and reflect on how to improve.

Let's admit it: grades are stressful! I have found that grades cause anxiety and make us more worried about checking boxes and getting the grade than exploring creative options, trying new practices, and challenging yourself. There is a lot of research to suggest that labor-based grading is the way to go! However, I also know that grades are important to many of you (and required by the university). In order to create a balance, we will work with a "feedback and labor model." This means you will receive feedback from both me and your peers throughout the semester, and I expect you to use that feedback to continually revise, rethink, and remix your own work.

Here's how our labor-based grading will work: For every assignment you turn in, you will receive one of four grades: Full Credit, Half Credit, No Credit, or excused. Here's what they mean:

- FULL CREDIT: project was completed, turned in on time, demonstrates strong effort (Basically, you did it and you gave it your 100% best effort)
- HALF CREDIT: project was not fully completed or not turned in on time, small amount of effort was present (So you did it, but only gave it 50%). If you get half credit, you will likely get a change to revise and resubmit.
- NO CREDIT: project was incomplete or not turned in (In other words, you didn't even try)
- EXCUSED: incomplete/missing project due to uncontrollable circumstances

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

FAQ's about Labor Based Grading

- I got half-credit for something I really did try hard on. What do I do?

Give it another shot! If I give you half-credit for something, I will ALWAYS tell you why you received the grade, and you will always have to opportunity to revise and resubmit (unless it is half-credit for being late, of course).

- How do I know my standing in the class?

Look at your grade, and count how many Full Credits vs. Half Credits/No Credits you have. If you have WAY more Full Credits, then you are passing with flying colors! If you have about half and half, you are sitting at about a C, with a close chance at dropping lower. If you have more Half/No Credits, then you are in the danger zone! Contact me so we can figure out how to get you back to passing!

- Is everything worth the same?

Not exactly. Not turning in a larger project--like the midterm or final--is going to impact your grade a LOT more than missing a weekly discussion post or small quiz. Basically, the bigger in labor, the more it is worth.

- This is so weird...can you just tell me a number? It makes more sense.

Unfortunately, I don't use a number scale. But, if at any point in the semester, you want a tangible, literal grade, just reach out and I can tell you if you are sitting at an A, B, C, D, or F.

Interaction with Instructor Statement

If you email me Monday-Friday, expect a 24-48 hour response. If I do not respond within that time, feel free to send up a follow email...seriously! Please do! I get a LOT of emails and sometimes one might get lost in the shuffle, or I simply might not have received it. Never feel bad about follow-ups!

If you email me after 5pm on a Friday, though, you will likely not get a response until Monday. I like my weekends, just like you! You are welcome to email me nonetheless, just please be aware the response will not be as quick as an email sent during the week.

Also, you are welcome to come to my office.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Communication

Communication is SO important in this course! If you communicate with me, I can and will do whatever I can to best help you. However, if you do not communicate with me, I can't even begin to know what you need or how I can help. Therefore, communication is key! You can email me, talk with me before or after class, or come by my office hours. I am here however you need, by help me help you: by utilizing communication.

COVID-19 Statement

While the university is not mandating masks, vaccines, or social distancing, we can still be active in preventing the spread of COVID-19. If you are not vaccinated, I highly recommend wearing a mask. Follow all CDC guidelines. If you have ANY symptoms of COVID-19, DO NOT ATTEND CLASS—let me know and we will find a way to make up your work. I also recommend being intentional with your actions outside of the classroom: avoid large gatherings, wear masks, get vaccinated. We all have loved ones this disease can and had affected: I have grandparents, friends with autoimmune diseases, and have personally known both old and young people who have lost their lives or loved ones to COVID-19. This virus has killed hundreds of thousands, and impacted us all. Please be kind and understanding when discussing COVID-19 and its effects.

Anti-Racist Statement

Throughout this course, we will likely discuss several things like economic class, educational opportunities, colonization, and other things that present a racial disparity in this country. It is the position of this class to call out such structural deficiencies as wrong, as racist. This will no doubt cause some discomfort. Please be patient as we wade thought these discussions together. To this end, this course will not tolerate willful insensitive language with respect to sex, race, gender, or orientation, but will attempt to understand how things like racism, colonization, sexism, etc. lead to the barriers some of our authors had to overcome.

Attendance/Participation

Attendance itself will not be a part of your grade. However, participation IS! How can you participate if you never show up? You will receive participation credit for things like quizzes, writing assignments, and in-class activities. If you miss class, you will not receive those credits. Also you might miss important announcements, like syllabus adjustments or assignment guidelines. Repeated unexcused absences will impact your grade. I understand things happen, like sickness, emergencies, work, death, or maybe even fun things like competitions or family trips. As stated in the communication policy, let me know ahead of time if you will be absent, and we will coordinate a way for you to still participate virtually.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Technology Policy

I get it. We are glued to our phones. Me too. But, in class, please avoid the use of cellphones unless necessary. I understand things happen, so if you need your phone on you for some reason (family emergency, waiting on an important phone call, etc.), just let me know before class begins. Unauthorized phone use in class will result in forfeiture of attendance and participation for the day. Headphones and airpods are not to be worn during class. Please use laptops and tablets RESPONSIBLY: that means please don't text or surf the internet while in class. I know, it's tempting. But those Tweets and Facebook messages can wait! The better you pay attention, the more you'll get more out of class!

Please also note: technology can be fickle. I suggest have two or more places to save documents, like a flashdrive, Dropbox, emailing to to yourself...whatever that may be. Also, if you have a problem with your personal computer or do not have access to one, the library has lots of computers available for your use. Let me know if you need any help accessing technology.

Syllabus Change Policy

Think of the syllabus as a map: it's telling us where we're headed. But...think of it as a very loose map, that might give us a slightly different route. Circumstances and events may make it necessary for me to modify the syllabus during the semester. I reserve that right. But, I promise, I won't ever add something or suddenly give you loads of work! It will simply be that I might push an assignment back or cut a reading...things you will probably be grateful for. And again, I will never just spring these changes on you: any changes made will be announced in advance.

Late Work

Work submitted past the due date is subject receiving partial or no credit. Extensions are granted but must be requested before the due date. Extenuating circumstances are exempt from this section.

Grievance Procedure

Have a problem with me or the course? That's okay. There's a policy for that!

If you have a problem, you need to first come to me. We will try our best to reach a resolution. If we can't figure it out, or you aren't satisfied, I can help you get in contact with my boss, the Director of Writing, Dr. Ashanka Kumari. But remember, there's a chain of command: Me, Dr. Kumari, then Dr. Hunter Hayes (Department Head). You MUST follow that chain of command. That means if you contact the Department Head, he will ask if you tried to communicate with me first, and if you haven't, you'll be directed back to me. So, let me know if you need help, and if we can't figure out something together, then we'll follow the chain of command and move on to the next level.

You can also consult University Procedure 13.999.R0.05 ("Student Appeal of Instructor Evaluation") if needed.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.

Nondiscrimination Notice

Texas A&M University-Commerce will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status. Further, an environment free from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression will be maintained.

Campus Concealed Carry Statement

Texas Senate Bill - 11 (Government Code 411.2031, et al.) authorizes the carrying of a concealed handgun in Texas A&M University-Commerce buildings only by persons who have been issued and are in possession of a Texas License to Carry a Handgun. Qualified law enforcement officers or those who are otherwise authorized to carry a concealed handgun in the State of Texas are also permitted to do so. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) 46.035 and A&M-Commerce Rule 34.06.02.R1, license holders may not carry a concealed handgun in restricted locations.

For a list of locations, please refer to the Carrying Concealed Handguns On Campus document and/or consult your event organizer.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Pursuant to PC 46.035, the open carrying of handguns is prohibited on all A&MCommerce campuses. Report violations to the University Police Department at 903886-5868 or 9-1-1.

Academic Honesty/ Plagiarism

The official departmental policy: “Instructors in the Department of Literature and Languages do not tolerate plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty. Instructors uphold and support the highest academic standards, and students are expected to do likewise. Penalties for students guilty of academic dishonesty include disciplinary probation, suspension, and expulsion. (Texas A&M University-Commerce Code of Student Conduct 5.b [1,2,3])

If you ever have any questions about a particular use of a source, always ask your instructor. They want you to avoid plagiarism, too, so they will help you do so whenever and wherever they can. Do what you can to take advantage of this support—to look innocent in addition to being innocent when it comes to charges of plagiarism.

Students guilty of academic dishonesty of plagiarism can expect to fail the assignment in question or the entire course depending on the nature of the incident.

On University-Sanctioned Activities

To accommodate students who participate in university-sanctioned activities, the FirstYear Composition Program offers sections of this course at various times of the day and week. If you think that this course may conflict with a university-sanctioned activity in which you are involved--athletics, etc.--please see your instructor after class on the first day.

COURSE OUTLINE / CALENDAR – Tentative and subject to change as semester progresses

The instructor reserves the right to adjust this schedule throughout the semester to accommodate for class needs.

*PLEASE NOTE: This calendar shows what you should bring with you to class rather than the date it is assigned. So if it says, “Brandt, ‘Sponsors of Literacy’,” you should have Brandt already read and ready to discuss by class that day.
