COURSE INFORMATION

Materials – Textbooks, Readings, Supplementary Readings

Textbook/Materials Required

There is not a required text for the course—as such. Included in the course (and course fee) is access to an e-text: MyLab Economics Pearson eText—Essentials of Economics, 7th ed., by Hubbard and O’Brien

Course Description

Introduces the student to the workings and interrelationships of the U.S. and world economics. Principles of economic analysis including measurement of aggregate economic activity, national income determination, money and banking, monetary and fiscal policy, and business fluctuation. Emphasis is given to analyzing real world problems such as poverty, inflation, unemployment, and economic instability.

Student Learning Outcomes

Successful students will be able to accomplish these objectives toward understanding the economy:

1. Explain how choices and trade improve welfare.
2. Be able to use the supply and demand model to describe individual decision makers, an industry, and the economy as a whole.
3. Be able to calculate features of the economy given a simplified dataset. Be able to discuss the limitations and benefits of using each construct to describe the economy.
4. Model the effects on society for changes in macroeconomic variables.

Successful students will be able to accomplish these objectives as critical thinkers:

- A. Identify assumptions used in models
- B. Identify information and data that is relevant to an economic problem.
- C. Be able to identify alternative solutions to an economic problem.
- D. Be able to relate and explain economic topics to economic models.
- E. Identify the societal and/or civic issues that are relevant to an economic problem or event.
- F. Use critical thinking skills (creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis of information) to propose solutions to selected economic problems or events.

COB STUDENT LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Students will demonstrate proficiency in spoken communications by delivering clear and well-structured business presentations.
2. Students will demonstrate proficiency in written communications by creating clear and well-structured business documents.
3. Students will identify and evaluate ethical business issues.
4. Students will identify and evaluate global business challenges.
5. Students will be analytical problem solvers in business environments.

2, 3,4, 5	Be able to calculate features of the economy given a simplified dataset. Be able to discuss the limitations and benefits of using each construct to describe the economy.	Exam 3 Discussion Post 2

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Design of Course Overview

This course is a face to face course offering. It is expected that students attend regularly. However, all lectures are streamed via zoom and recorded. Students need to prioritize face to face attendance; however, students are permitted to attend via zoom for reasons such as safety, illness or isolating from exposure to a sick individual. This structure, while not perfect, allows students with much more flexibility, while still offering the option for in person lectures. Students should only attend lectures in person if they are comfortable with doing so and are healthy. Masks and social distancing are encouraged to keep students and the instructor healthy. Students are encouraged to sit 2-3 desks a part from each other (when possible). Students must also adhere to all university policies regarding COVID 19 including mandatory testing.

This course relies heavily on the D2L learning system. The course opens Students should use the checklists found in D2L to identify what is due each week in terms of content and/or assignments. Each week opens on Mondays and closes on Sundays at 11:59pm. There will be a combination of recorded and live instructional content throughout the semester. There will be 3 live lectures each week (see time and location above). The attendance policy of the course is located under "Lecture Attendance" in this document. Students need to prioritize attending the live lecture in person and use Zoom online stream when needed. All in person lectures are recorded and can be viewed later, but this doesn't count for attendance requirements.

The course is structured so that students can learn in various different formats. The professor will use various learning tools to help students master the course learning objectives. Students are expected to read the assigned chapters in the textbook, watching additional videos, and attend/watch lectures and other instructional resources. Students should commit between 6-9 hours of study time per week at a minimum (not including lectures).

Students will be assigned a weekly homework in D2L to help them master the learning objectives. All homework and lectures are required to be completed by Sunday at 11:59 PM. Students will also be assigned 3 discussion assignments due at various times during the semester. Finally, there will be 3 exams in the course with the 3rd exam being a comprehensive final exam. See the course schedule for more details on due dates. The professor may or may not offer extra credit assignments. All exams will be completed online throughout the semester.

The professor will not repeat questions that can be found within the syllabus. Furthermore, the professor will not answer questions regarding the class or content that have been addressed in lectures and/or e-mails to the course.

COURSEWORK/GRADING/LATE WORK

It is important that students are organized to avoid missing assignments. The due dates for all assignments are located within the weekly checklists and the course calendar within D2L.

Policies for late work:

- EXAMS - No student will be allowed to submit an exam after the due date. Students that miss an exam will receive a zero. A student that misses more than one exam will need to drop the course.
- HOMEWORK - Late homework assignments will be accepted for grading with the following deductions from the grade
 - Late by 1-2 days = 10% reduction from final grade
 - Late between 3-5 days = 30% reduction from final grade
 - Late by greater than 5 days = deduction based on professor's discretion based on each student's past effort in the class and situation
- DISCUSSIONS – Not meeting the deadline for the initial post will result in a 20% reduction. Not responding to other students' posts by the due date is 20% each (up to 40% off). The posts will not be accepted after 5 days of being late.
- INTERACTIVE LEARNING QUIZZES (ILQs) – A student may be deducted 5% each day for being late.

Exams (45% of final grades – 15% each)

There will be three exams in this course and each exam counts 15%. ALL exams will be administered online for this course. Exams open on Fridays at 12PM and close at 11:59pm on Sunday night on the week assigned. The professor may provide an extension or open exams earlier. There will be three exams including the final. The final is comprehensive and will cover all course material covered during the semester. Students are responsible for information from live/recorded lectures, required readings, and any guest speakers. There are no makeup exams. The professor will allow the final exam score to replace ONE of a student's previous exam score if the final exam score is higher.

Weekly Homework Assignments (15% of final grade)

Students will be assigned weekly homework assignments. These assignments are based on real-world scenarios that will help students become better prepared to make good financial choices. The homework assignments are designed to also teach students how to better use Microsoft Word® and Microsoft Excel® which are heavily used in all professions. Students should work hard and have fun with these assignments. Students should always upload their homework to the dropbox in D2L.

Interactive Learning Quizzes (ILQs) (15% of final grade)

In addition to our ONE live weekly lecture, students are required to complete Interactive learning quizzes (ILQ) by 11:59 of each week (if assigned). An ILQ is simply a video lecture that has quiz questions embedded within the recording. The ILQs vary in time, but will never exceed 30 minutes each. There will be ILQs assigned during the semester on topics that need more attention. Students must answer all questions correctly to complete an ILQ. Students have unlimited chances to answer the questions correctly. An individual ILQ's score is either a zero (not completed) or a 100% in that each one is either complete or incomplete. There are no partial points for ILQs. It is important that students understand that 15% of their grade in the course comes from completing ILQs.

Discussion Posts (15% of final grade)

It is important that students can demonstrate mastery of learning objectives; however, mastering learning objectives on a quiz and/or exam is not enough. It is more important that students are able to have intelligent dialogue with their peers pertaining to course topics. These dialogues help prepare students for what is expected in upper-level courses and after graduation. The discussion posts (message boards) require students to discuss a specific topic in a professional, well-written, and evidenced-based manner. While opinions are welcomed, it is research and data that are most important.

Students are expected to follow net etiquette and respect each other. Posts that are deemed by the instructor to be unprofessional and/or verbally abusive will not be tolerated and will result in a zero for the assignment.

There will be 3 discussion prompts during the semester. Students will be required to make an initial post and then reply to at least 2 other posts. Students will be graded using a rubric that is available in D2L. A student's first post is due on Wednesday and replies are due by Sunday.

Note: This is NOT busy work, but instead an opportunity for us to discuss economics in more depth. Students should take discussion posts very seriously.

Lecture Attendance (15% of final grade)

The lecture attendance is simple – students should attend all lectures in the classroom. It is important to understand that attendance also encompasses that students participate in the course. Students in the face to face section of this course will be randomly selected for attendance. Attendance counts for 15% of a student's overall grade. A student may only attend the online zoom stream 3 times per semester unless an arrangement is made with the professor.

LIVE TEACHING LINK / LECTURE RECORDINGS

Students will be provided this information before class begins. This section will meet in the physical classroom.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The College of Business is committed to maintaining the integrity and respectability of degrees conferred and course credit earned through our department. Academic dishonesty restricts the understanding of subject material by the perpetrator, distracts and discourages other class members, and reduces the value of the economic signal of degrees conferred through Texas A&M University-Commerce.

Whether courses are online, face-to-face or hybrid combinations; the faculty, staff and student members of the College of Business are committed to protecting the integrity of our courses, regardless of the delivery method.

Students are required to electronically sign an Academic Honesty Policy for this course. This document can be found within D2L. A student who breaches the policy will receive a zero for quizzes, homework, and/or discussions. A student that commits academic dishonesty with regards to an exam will receive an automatic "F" for the course.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

Texas A&M University-Commerce has established standards of conduct to create and foster an environment that facilitates student learning and development. Students and University student groups are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that demonstrates respect for the rights and property of others, and that is consistent with the educational goals and mission of the University. This Code of Student Conduct ("Code") focuses on personal responsibility and accountability for students' actions and the impact those actions may have on the greater community. The Student Code of Conduct can be found here:

<http://www.tamuc.edu/campuslife/campusservices/studentRights/documents/Code%20of%20conduct%20in%20english.pdf>

Students are expected to be professional, courteous, and respectful at all times.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.

Note the following:

- Ensure that your browser has JavaScript and Cookies enabled.
- For desktop systems, you must have Adobe Flash Player 10.1 or greater.
- The Brightspace Support features are now optimized for production environments when using the Google Chrome browser, Apple Safari browser, Microsoft Edge browser, Microsoft Internet Explorer browser, and Mozilla Firefox browsers.

Desktop Support

Browser	Supported Browser Version (s)	Maintenance Browser Version (s)
Microsoft® Edge	Latest	N/A
Microsoft® Internet Explorer®	N/A	11
Mozilla® Firefox®	Latest, ESR	N/A
Google® Chrome™	Latest	N/A

Android™	Android 4.4+	Chrome	Latest
Apple	iOS®	Safari, Chrome	The current major version of iOS (the latest minor or point release of that major version) and the previous major version of iOS (the latest minor or point release of that major version). For example, as of June 7, 2017, D2L supports iOS 10.3.2 and iOS 9.3.5, but not iOS 10.2.1, 9.0.2, or any other version. Chrome: Latest version for the iOS browser.
Windows	Windows 10	Edge, Chrome, Firefox	Latest of all browsers, and Firefox ESR.

- You will need regular access to a computer with a broadband Internet connection. The minimum computer requirements are:
 - 512 MB of RAM, 1 GB or more preferred
 - Broadband connection required courses are heavily video intensive
 - Video display capable of high-color 16-bit display 1024 x 768 or higher resolution
- You must have a:
 - Sound card, which is usually integrated into your desktop or laptop computer

- Speakers or headphones.
- *For courses utilizing video-conferencing tools and/or an online proctoring solution, a webcam and microphone are required.
- Both versions of Java (32 bit and 64 bit) must be installed and up to date on your machine. At a minimum Java 7, update 51, is required to support the learning management system. The most current version of Java can be downloaded at: JAVA web site
<http://www.java.com/en/download/manual.jsp>
- Current anti-virus software must be installed and kept up to date.

ADA Statement

Students with Disabilities

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact:

Nondiscrimination Notice

Texas A&M University-Commerce will comply in the classroom, and in online courses, with all federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination and related retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information or veteran status. Further, an environment free from discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression will be maintained.

Statement on Campus Concealed Carry

Texas Senate Bill – 11 (Government Code 411.2031, et al.) authorizes the carrying of a concealed handgun in Texas A&M University-Commerce buildings only by persons who have been issued and are in possession of a Texas License to Carry a Handgun. Qualified law enforcement officers or those who are otherwise authorized to carry a concealed handgun in the State of Texas are also permitted to do so. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) 46.035 and A&M-Commerce Rule 34.06.02R1, license holders may not carry a concealed handgun in restricted locations. For a list of locations, please refer to (<http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutUs/policiesProceduresStandardsStatements/rulesProcedures/34SafetyOfEmployeesAndStudents/34.06.02.R1.pdf>) and or consult your event organizer). Pursuant to PC 46.035, the open carrying of handguns is prohibited on all A&M-Commerce campuses. Report violations to the University Police Department at 903-886-5868 or 9-1-1.
