Course Description

This course introduces the field of history by developing the students' skills at critical analysis of both reading and writing assignments. Students will explore the political, economic, social, and cultural history of the United States from Reconstruction to the beginning of the 21st century. The course will consider the cultural patterns of American life, from Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show to social reform movements, Jim Crow, prohibition, Cold War fears, the "Beats," Civil Rights and the sexual revolution. We will look at the two World Wars, the social welfare state, the upheavals of the 1960s, and the cultural trends at the close of the 20th century.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Learning Outcomes (Should be measurable; observable; use action verbs)

Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art. 2. In written, oral, and/or visual communication, A&M-Commerce students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion, with an evident message and organizational structure. 3. Students will understand and practice academic honesty. 4. Students will demonstrate an understanding of societal and/or civic issues.
