Description

English 1301 introduces students to writing as an extended, complex, recursive process and prepares students for English 1302, which more rigorously examines the forms and structures of argument and means to approach multiple audiences. In 1301 students will write weekly, and will work on essay organization and development. The course will emphasize close reading, summarizing, and analysis of expository texts, including student writing.

Student Learning Outcomes (Should be measurable; observable; use action verbs)

1. Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art.
2. In written, oral, and/or visual communication, A&M-Commerce students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion, with an evident message and organizational structure.
3. Students will be able to work together toward a shared purpose relevant to the course or discipline with a sense of shared responsibility for meeting that purpose.
4. Students will understand and practice academic honesty.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

This is an online, asynchronous course. You need to be able to navigate D2L, use the Top Hat website to read and submit assignments, and use email to communicate with your instructor as needed. Please make sure you are checking your school LeoMail often as that is the email address all faculty/staff will utilize for important information.

Instructional Methods

This class is a fully online class. There is no specific Zoom time to meet. It is your responsibility to check D2L and your email often for assignment due dates and any updates on your coursework throughout the semester.

In my course, all work is due at the end of a module, and all modules end at 11:59 pm on the last Monday of the module. This is to give you time to work through the weekend on your course work, and gives you one extra day in case you had a busy weekend to catch things up. Please plan ahead. My modules are mostly self-paced, and will give you some leeway for how you want to plan your time, but you'll need to be

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Please do not email me your work. Submit all work through Top Hat (if the work is explicitly assigned in Top Hat) or D2L (everything else). I will not accept work via email. COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Grading and Late Work

All assignments are due on their respective due dates by 11:59pm in the drop box that has been assigned to them. All assignments must be turned in as .doc or .docx files, unless otherwise stated. Late work is not accepted in this course unless you have contacted the instructor and worked out other arrangements prior to the due date.

Attendance Policy

This is an online course, so there is no real “attendance.” Either you do the work, or you don’t. If you do not complete any of the work for any single unit, it will result in an automatic failure of the course. If you have a family or medical emergency, contact me as soon as possible in order to make arrangements so that you can complete the course without undue hardship.

Participation will be counted through your use of Top Hat. When you answer the Before and After Reading questions, you will gain participation points. If you miss a deadline, you must contact me to ask for extra time to work in Top Hat. It is your responsibility to ask for this extra time. Consistent lateness may cause a deduction of participation points.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook

Students should also consult the Rules of Netiquette for more information regarding how to interact with students in an online forum:

<https://www.britannica.com/topic/netiquette>

Grievances

Students who have concerns regarding their courses should first address those concerns with the assigned instructor in order to reach a resolution. Students who are unsatisfied with the outcome of that conversation or have not been able to meet individually with their instructor, whether in person, by email, by telephone, or by another communication medium, should then schedule an appointment with the Director of Writing, Dr. Ashanka Kumari, by emailing her (ashanka.kumari@tamuc.edu). Before an appointment is scheduled the student must provide clearly documented and explained issues as to why the meeting is being requested. The student must also state when they discussed the issue in person or via phone (not email) with their instructor already. Where applicable, students should also consult University Procedure 13.99.99.R0.05 (“Student Appeal of Instructor Evaluation”).

Writing Center

The Writing Center offers writers free, one-on-one assistance. We offer 45min sessions, online or face-to-face, that writers can book from our website: www.tamuc.edu/writing-center

We welcome all writers, majors, and disciplines—undergraduate and graduate students alike (faculty and staff too!). Research shows that all workers benefit from sharing their work with a focused reader. The Writing Center staff is trained to support writers in any stage of the writing process (from the blank page to polishing sentences), and we work with writers to verbalize writing goals and to stay on track with larger writing projects. We work with any form of writing (academic and nonacademic). The writers usually bring projects like important emails, weekly writing assignments, midterm and final essays, and theses and dissertations. Contact us with any questions here: writingcenter@tamuc.edu
