Course Description:

This course will introduce students to the concepts of food science and systems at the local, regional, and global levels. Students will examine and reflect upon critical issues that influence food systems such as nutrition, food production and processing, safety and labeling, distribution and marketing, and more.

Text:

There is no textbook for this course. However, there are many online resources in print format (mostly PDF) that students are expected to retrieve and read prior to the related online discussions or assignments. Saving and/or printing these documents are advised.

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Students will become familiar with food science, safety, processing, nutrition, labeling, etc. through online discussions, assignments, multimedia links, labs and experiential activities.
2. Students will be able to clearly communicate their understanding of relevant food science concepts with others.
3. Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, and problem solve circumstances involving food science through assignments and activities.
4. Students will take a role in their own education regarding food science by following the online design/activities of this course.

This course is divided into 15 modules of instruction outlined for completion of one module per week in D2L, the university's online course management system. Each module will have an overview and hyperlinks to print and media resources for review and two discussion questions oriented to these resources. Additionally, there are seven written assignments designed for the student to demonstrate understanding and ability to synthesize the information presented as well as apply course concepts to various projects. Details and directions for these assignments will be presented in D2L.

Grading and Course Assessment:

The following activities and assignments will be used in grade determination. The professor reserves the right to modify course content, assignments, or grading policy at any time during the semester.

	Possible Points
Weekly online discussions (15 @ 20)	300
Assignments (7 @ 100)	700
Total Possible Points	1000

Campus Concealed Carry Statement

Texas Senate Bill - 11 (Government Code 411.2031, et al.) authorizes the carrying of a concealed handgun in Texas A&M University-Commerce buildings only by persons who have been issued and are in possession of a Texas License to Carry a Handgun. Qualified law enforcement officers or those who are otherwise authorized to carry a concealed handgun in the State of Texas are also permitted to do so. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) 46.035 and A&M-Commerce Rule 34.06.02.R1, license holders may not carry a concealed handgun in restricted locations. For a list of locations, please refer to the Carrying Concealed Handguns On Campus document and/or consult your event organizer. Web url: <http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutUs/policiesProceduresStandardsStatements/rulesProcedures/34SafetyOfEmployeesAndStudents/34.06.02.R1.pdf>

Pursuant to PC 46.035, the open carrying of handguns is prohibited on all A&M-Commerce campuses. Report violations to the University Police Department at 903-886-5868 or 9-1-1.

COVID-19 Conditions and Response

During this COVID pandemic, you may face periods of isolation or restriction of movement. Since this is an online course, it is designed for your completion from anywhere that internet access exists. If you do not have internet access in your current residence, you need to identify how you will access your assignments if you cannot leave. This may include the use of a smart phone or other digital device that can offer connectivity. Most assignments can be completed offline, but the internet may be required for research, online discussions, and the uploading of assignments/projects. If you have a medical reason for an assignment to be delayed, I will excuse that. Internet access, or the lack of it, is not a medical excuse.

A&M-Commerce requires the use of face-coverings in all instructional and research classrooms/laboratories. Exceptions may be made by faculty where warranted. Faculty have management over their classrooms. Students not using face-coverings can be required to leave class. Repetitive refusal to comply can be reported to the Office of Students' Rights and Responsibilities as a violation of the student Code of Conduct. Students should not attend class when ill or after exposure to anyone with a communicable illness. Communicate such instances directly with your instructor. Faculty will work to support the student getting access to missed content or completing missed assignments.

The instructor reserves the right to modify this syllabus during the semester, if needed. The instructor also reserves the right to extend credit for alternative assignments, projects, or presentations.
