COURSE INFORMATION

Course: MATH 2305, Discrete Mathematics, 3 credit hours

Course Materials: DISCRETE MATHEMATICS, 5th Edition, by Kenneth A. Ross and Charles R. B. Wright. Tentatively, chapters 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the text will be covered. If time permits, parts of 5 and 10 will also be covered.

Course Description: A course designed to prepare math, computer science, and engineering majors for a background in abstraction, notation, and critical thinking for the mathematics most directly related to computer science. Topics include: logic, relations, functions, basic set theory, countability and counting arguments, proof techniques, mathematical induction, combinatorics, discrete probability, recursion, sequence and recurrence, elementary number theory, graph theory, and mathematical proof techniques. Prerequisites: Math 2413 with a grade of C or better.

Student Learning Outcomes: A student who passes this course will demonstrate through solving problem the ability to apply mathematical reasoning to physical problems and theoretical situations. The student will have demonstrated problem solving ability that includes but is not limited to proving theorems, working with relations, and identifying relationships between set operations, logic operators, and Boolean algebra. The student will be eligible to enroll in a variety of upper-level mathematics courses (catalog specified).

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Attendance: Attendance is required. You are responsible for all announcements and materials presented in the class.

Time for this course: It is said that education is an investment. In addition to the tuition, a student invests the time for education. The time for study is essential for the success of your education or investment. How much time do you need for this class? A thumb of rules in education is that you need to spend the number of hours equal to at least three times of the credit hours per week in a regular semester, which means that a fulltime student is to take at least 12 credit hours, spending $12 \times 3 = 36$ hours per week, a fulltime job. This is a three-credit hour class. So, you need to spend at least 9 hours per week. For 9 hours per week, you will spend three hours in the classroom and six hours outside the classroom. After each class, you would need two hours to review lecture notes and do homework. If one has a weaker math background or rusty on the prerequisite, or wants to learn well for a better grade, more time is necessary.

Homework: Without practice, no one can learn. Without sufficient practice, no one can learn well. Thus, please do homework. Homework assignments for each week are worth of 10 points. The total for homework is 120 points. Please see homework assignments in Appendix A. Homework for each week is due by 11:59 PM each Sunday. Late submission for each week will have an additional deduction of 2 points. The assignment you submit must be your own work. Plagiarism is prohibited. Submit homework to Activities, Assignments on D2L with the following format for your file name: LastName-HW-Week#.

Tests&Final: There will be three tests and a final. Each test is worth 80 points. The final is worth 120 points. Please see Appendix B for the date of each test. The final exam is at 8:00 AM – 10:00 AM, Thursday, Dec. 15.

Extra Credit: The Mathematics Department offers colloquia and math club activities. You will receive 3 points of extra credit for each colloquium and a math club activity you attend up to 15 points. You need to watch flyers posted in the hallways. There is no make-up for extra credit.

Grading: The maximum possible points available in this course are:

Homework	120 points
Tests	240 points
Final	120 points
<hr/> Total	480 points

Your course grade will be based on the percentage of the points you make to the total points available in the course:

A \geq 90%, B \geq 80%, C \geq 70% D \geq 60% F < 60%.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

- D2L/LMS: All course sections offered by Texas A&M University-Commerce have a corresponding course shell in the myLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). Course materials will be posted on D2. You cannot distribute the course materials without permission of the instructor. To access LMS, go to myLeo, then Apps, then My Leo Online D2L Brightspace. You also have an email account via myLeo - all my emails sent from D2L (and all other university emails) will go to this account, so please be sure to check it regularly.
- TI-NSPIRE or other calculators with similar capability is highly recommended.
- We use D2L to post some course materials and collect homework. You need Scanner/digital camera/cell phone for making PDF files of your work and submit them to D2L. Make one PDF file for homework of each week. Please visit the following video clips for making one PDF file:
 - Using CamScanner: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sZFcQJCmtMI>
 - Android: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FWIVYd2Zc-E>

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

You need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu.

Course materials and grades are posted through LMS. Your homework needs to be turned in through LMS. The course materials are only for this course. You cannot distribute the course materials without permission of the instructor.

Note: Computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a TAMUC campus open computer lab, etc.
