ORGANIZATION LEADERSHIP PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences in Organizational Leadership (ORGL) degree is a competency-based program that prepares innovative leaders for employment in an increasingly technological and global society. This program provides opportunities for students to receive credit for what they know and can do already, allows them to accelerate completion of their degree, and — because it is fully online — students are able to plan their study schedule around the rest of their day to complete the coursework.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course examines diversity and inclusion at the individual, group, and organizational levels. Students will apply concepts, tools, and strategies to help them promote diversity and inclusion among teams. Topics include leadership efforts to ensure diversity and inclusion efforts across gender, race, ethnicity, socioeconomic class, culture, generations, and others. Course also emphasizes cross-cultural competence for leaders in modern organizations. Students will develop and improve the knowledge and skills needed to lead diverse, inclusive, and multidisciplinary teams in modern organizations.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Completion of this course provides the student with the knowledge to:

- Define terms and concepts common to leadership, diversity, inclusion, and teamwork
- Understand why leading diverse and inclusive teams is important in modern organizations
- Describe the knowledge, skills, and behaviors required to provide effective diversity leadership
- Identify strategies for managing diverse teams in organizations
- Apply ethical decision-making concepts to situations impacting diversity and inclusion
- Examine how bias can limit the ability to lead diverse groups
- Evaluate an organization's existing approach to leading diversity and inclusion
- Create a personalized diversity action plan

REGULAR AND SUBSTANTIVE COURSE INTERACTION

As a general guide, students enrolled in a three-semester hour course should spend one hour engaged in instructional activities and two to three hours on out-of-class work per week in a traditional semester. Students are expected to double this effort of engagement given that this course is being delivered in a seven-week term. Educational activities in this course are designed to ensure regular and substantive interaction between students and faculty to ensure that students are able to demonstrate competency.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed: Students will need reliable computer and internet access for this course. Students must be able to effectively use myLeo email, myLeo Online D2L, and Microsoft Office.

Instructional Methods: This course is an online course. To be successful in this course, all content and course modules should be read and reviewed. All required assignments must be completed. Please contact the instructor by email for any assistance.

Email your instructor as soon as you complete your pre-test so the instructor can access and grade your work.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course: To be successful in this course, all content and course modules should be read and reviewed. All assignments and quizzes (both graded and not graded) should be completed. Please contact the instructor by email for any assistance.

ASSESSMENT

Students must achieve 80% or higher on the required posttests and culminating project to demonstrate competency and pass the course. Both parts of the project will be assessed using an assigned rubric.

REQUIRED VS. OPTIONAL ASSIGNMENTS

Pretests- Required activity that does not count toward your final grade. Everyone is required to complete the course and module pretests (7 total). The purpose of these pretests is to provide a baseline understanding of your knowledge in the unit. Passing the pretests with 80% or above, demonstrating your understanding of the learning concepts, you may move through the material or go directly to the required posttest for each module. If you do not make at least 80% on a module pretest, I encourage you to through work through the course content for that module before attempting the posttest.

Module Discussions – Optional activity that does not count toward your final grade. Discussion completion allows you the opportunity to work through the topics in discussion with peers and the instructor. Discussions do not calculate into your final grade, but they will greatly enhance your chances of passing the course posttest.

Unlimited Module Quizzes – Optional activity that does not count toward your final grade. Quiz completion allows you the opportunity to test your knowledge and identify areas that you will need to revisit in preparation for the posttest. Quizzes do not calculate into your final grade, but they will greatly enhance your chances of passing the module and course posttests.

Posttests – Required activity that does count toward your final grade. Everyone is required to complete the module and course posttest (7 total). Each posttest has a listed and enforced time limit. You will have three (3) attempts per module and course posttest to achieve an 80% or higher score. If you do not make at least an 80% on the posttest for each module and the course posttest, then you will not successfully pass the course (Grade = F). The posttests total 700 points toward your final grade.

Culminating Project - Required activity that does count toward your final grade. The final project will assess your knowledge of course content. There are two required parts (written & video) that total 100 points toward your final grade. Both parts of the project will be assessed using an assigned rubric.

Final Grade - Once an 80% or higher is achieved on each posttest and the culminating project, you will receive a numerical score/grade for the course. This score/grade will be based upon the average scores of the seven posttests and culminating project (800 possible points).

GRADING SCALE

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

F = 79% or Below

GRADING MATRIX

The following items will be used to calculate the final grade in the course.
