Students must join the National Society for Legal Technology (NSLT) by going to the website located at www.legaltechsociety.org and selecting Student. From the homepage, select the "Join Today!" button to go to the registration page. The membership fee is $160 and may be paid using a credit card, debit card, or a PayPal account. Once you are registered, select the "eLearning Portal" tab that will appear on the homepage when signed in to the NSLT site. The eLearning Portal will ask you to register for access to the learning portal. There is not a separate cost for registration on the eLearning Portal. The second registration creates a user profile to track your progress through the certificate process. Detailed instructions are attached at the end of this syllabus. Your membership is valid for 1-year from the date of registration, and the membership fee includes the cost of earning your Legal Technology Certificate.

Course Description

This course focuses on skills paralegals will need in order to efficiently manage a law office. Students will also be introduced to law office management systems and procedures. This is a beginning course introducing computer hardware and software basics that apply to the legal environment. Students will learn Microsoft Office components including Teams, Word, Excel, OneNote, PowerPoint, and Outlook, and the Windows operating system as they are used in the day-to-day life of paralegals. Students will also explore legal specific software including TrialDirector, Clio, NetDocuments, Workshare, iManage, and Concordance.

Course Objectives

The objective of this course is to provide an overview of computer programs, skills, research tools and software programs that is essential to being a successful paralegal and to instruct how everyday programs have specific uses in a law office and for paralegals.

Student Learning Outcomes for this course include:

- Demonstrate aptitude performing basic tasks and creating commonly used legal documents in Microsoft Word, Excel, Adobe Acrobat, and Workshare.
- Demonstrate ability to perform common tasks for opening up a new client matter in the billing/case management software program Clio.
- Demonstrate ability to perform common tasks for electronic communication through the use of Microsoft Outlook, including the importance of email security and calendar management.
- Explain the basics of e-discovery, including basic terminology, and how to perform common tasks using e-discovery software program Concordance.
- Understand the basics of trial presentation software Microsoft PowerPoint, and TrialDirector, and how each can be used at trial.
- Students will gain familiarity with existing forms of legal technology. Students will be exposed to new technology emerging on the market and its role in changing the legal industry as a whole.
- Students will acquire hands-on experience with over a dozen legal technology tools through the use of software simulations and training tutorials.
- Students will gain insight into the legal technology market and the many software tools utilized by law firms of all sizes and practice areas.
- Create and edit word processing documents that are unique to the legal environment, including the use of templates, macros, creation of table of contents and table of authorities.
- Create and edit spreadsheets that are unique to the legal environment using multiple data types and Excel functions.
- Draft and manage professional correspondence through email software programs.
- Coordinate Calendar meetings and events with multiple attendees.
- Demonstrate an understanding of electronic discovery software and procedures.
- Learn and understand the proper method and procedures involved in document collaboration while ensuring all security and encryption protocols are followed.
- Organize for timely completion of all assignments, exercises and projects reflective of the time constraints imposed on all attorneys and paralegals working in a legal environment.

Attendance Policy

Attendance is required and roll will be taken at every class. It vital to attend each class as we only meet once per week.

Attendance/participation contributes 10% of the total final grade. The follow table illustrates how missed classes will affect this portion of your overall grade

Classes missed	% deduction from attendance/participation
1	0%
2	2%
3	5%
4 or more	10% and possible failure of class

Grading Policy

This class will be taught using the Socratic Method as well as lecture. You may be called on at any time and are expected to be fully prepared to discuss the assigned reading material. This is a cumulative grade over the course of the semester.

You are also responsible for completing the assignments listed in this syllabus. The assignments may be found within the chapters of the textbook and in handouts I will provide to you. If the assignment is a group assignment, you will be responsible for choosing your group members. A group may consist of 2 to 3 people. Your assignments will be reviewed, graded and returned to you. This is a cumulative grade over the course of the semester.

All assignments must have a cover page indicating the following: your name, class, name of the assignment, and date the assignment is due. All assignments must be stapled. A deduction of 10 points will be assessed to all assignments turned in without stapling or without a cover page.

Case briefs, take-home exams, homework assignments, and any other written work are due at the beginning of the class period indicated in this syllabus. All written work will be graded not only on content, but also on writing style, including punctuation and grammar. You are expected to submit case briefs, homework, and take-home exams on time. Exceptions will be granted only under the most EXTREME, verifiable circumstances.

The examinations will primarily consist of multiple choice, true/false, definition, and short answer questions. If an exam is take-home, any collaboration with other students with regards to the substance of the exam will result in a failing grade.

Your grade will be calculated according to the following formula:

50%	NSLT Module Completion
5%	PowerPoint Project
5%	Mail Merge Project
10%	NSLT Legal Technology Certificate
10%	Midterm Exam
20%	Final Exam

Grade Distribution is as follows:

A = 90-99

B = 80-89

C = 70-79

D = 65-69

F = 64 and below

(No extra credit work will be allowed)

Student Conduct and Etiquette

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. (See Student's Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures, Conduct) You are expected to exhibit respect for the instructor and fellow students at all times. All electronic devices (except laptops) must be turned off during class. Laptop use is limited to reading notes made for class and taking notes during class. In the event you choose to use a laptop, sound features must be disabled. Surfing the internet and playing games on your laptop during class time are strictly prohibited. Failure to adhere to these policies may result in removal from class.

Students with Disabilities

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. “What is Plagiarism

Many people think of plagiarism as copying another's work, or borrowing someone else's original ideas. But terms like "copying" and "borrowing" can disguise the seriousness of the offense:

According to the Merriam-Webster Online Dictionary, to "plagiarize" means

1. to steal and pass off (the ideas or words of another) as one's own
2. to use (another's production) without crediting the source
3. to commit literary theft
4. to present as new and original an idea or product derived from an existing source.

In other words, plagiarism is an act of fraud. It involves both stealing someone else's work and lying about it afterward.

But can words and ideas really be stolen?

According to U.S. law, the answer is yes. The expression of original ideas is considered intellectual property, and is protected by copyright laws, just like original inventions. Almost all forms of expression fall under copyright protection as long as they are recorded in some way (such as a book or a computer file).

All of the following are considered plagiarism:

- turning in someone else's work as your own
- copying words or ideas from someone else without giving credit
- failing to put a quotation in quotation marks
- giving incorrect information about the source of a quotation
- changing words but copying the sentence structure of a source without giving credit
- copying so many words or ideas from a source that it makes up the majority of your work, whether you give credit or not (see our section on "fair use" rules)

Most cases of plagiarism can be avoided, however, by citing sources. Simply acknowledging that certain material has been borrowed, and providing your audience with the information necessary to find that source, is usually enough to prevent plagiarism. If you have retained the essential idea of an original source, and have not cited it, then no matter how drastically you may have altered its context or presentation, you have still plagiarized.” (www.plagiarism.org)

If you plagiarize, you will receive an F for the assignment in question and the matter will be referred to the Office of the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.
