Catalogue Description of the Course

COUN 501: Introduction to the Counseling Profession

Three semester hours. Recommended as initial course in a student’s program to serve as an introduction to the counseling profession. Roles of counselors and related professionals in various settings are presented. Professional goals and objectives; trends; professional associations; ethical and legal issues; history; credentialing; preparation standards for counselors; and essential interviewing and counseling skills, characteristics, and behaviors that influence helping processes are explored.

General Course Information

This course should be taken early in the student’s preparation program. This course serves primarily as an orientation to the counseling profession and as a course where students develop basic interviewing and counseling skills and self-awareness that promotes appropriate counselor-client relationships. A grade of “B” or higher must be earned in COUN 501, 510, 528, and 516 for admission to candidacy status (or its equivalent for those seeking school counselor certification only), which is required before practicum (COUN 551).

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs):

II. Counseling Interest Paper. Through this assignment, students will gain a stronger understanding of counseling topics specific to their concentration and clinical interest areas, including ethical and legal considerations.

Measurement 2 (Skills):

Two multiple-choice and short-answer exams (50 questions each). The short-answer sections of the exams will gauge students’ ability to apply course content to various clinical situations.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this class, you will utilize the Learning Management System (LMS) entitled D2L for instructional and learning methods, submitting assignments, participating in online discussions, and completing exams. You will need to utilize other technologies such as Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, etc. If you have issues with this system, it is your responsibility to contact the help desk immediately.

Instructional Methods

This course consists of a fully online format (D2L), with lecture and didactic learning methods, small group discussions, and assignments coupled with practical application projects.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible for the active learning process. Expectations of this course include the following:

1. You are expected to display professionalism at all times. Be respectful of your professor and peers. Be open to feedback, as you will receive this throughout the program.
2. Prepare for classes. Complete any and all readings prior to class time.
3. Complete all assignments by the deadline.
4. Adhere to the university student code of conduct.
5. Participate. During face-to-face classes, you are expected to actively participate in all activities and discussion. In the online format, you are expected to participate in all online discussions/activities. This is crucial to your learning.
6. All writing assignments must be done according to APA 6th edition.
7. Regularly check your University email. My suggestion is to check this at least once a day as your instructors and others from the department and University may contact you.
8. Begin your readings ASAP. Sometimes it may take more than one attempt to digest the material.
9. Deadlines are the last possible moment something is due—not the first moment to start. Work ahead. I realize this may not always be possible; however, when you can, do so.
10. Be open to the process. This degree takes time, work, effort, and growth.

Assignments/Assessments

Attendance, participation, and preparation; (50 points)

The exchange of ideas, opinions, questions, and information is an important piece of professional development. Consequently, you are expected to attend to each week's topic, to be prepared for discussion (by reading the material), and to participate actively in the discussion posts and activities. So, prior to the discussion, read the assigned portions in the Neukrug text and review any other supplemental materials. You will then be prepared to intelligently answer, via discussion posts, questions concerning our topic for that week. You will draw upon your own professional and personal experiences as they relate to the various topics we examine during the semester.

If you must miss a discussion post or due date for any assignment, please notify me in advance by e-mailing me. Late assignments will receive a lower grade.

Participation. An appropriate (as defined by instructor) level of interaction/participation during online discussions and presentations is expected. Concerns/Infractions will be addressed individually by the instructor and recommendations made.

Students are expected to actively participate in and contribute to their learning experience. Active participation includes completing text readings and activity assignments in each unit and offering thoughtful contributions.

Participation includes the ability of the student to interact with the professor and peers in a professional and respectful manner. Failure to do so will result in points being deducted from your final grade.

Class Participation & Attendance

Due to the nature of this class, attendance and participation are essential. Participation is credited to all activities related to this course. Please be aware that being consistently late to class can also constitute as an absence, particularly when a pattern of lateness emerges without justification. Students will demonstrate knowledge and understanding of key concepts through class discussions and in-class activities. Regular attendance, arriving to class on time, and reading the materials before class are expected. You are encouraged to actively participate in and out of class. Do not expect/rely on class lecture for your learning. This class requires you to be an active and critical thinker, to share your thoughts respectfully, to engage with the material honestly and openly, and to participate in role-playing and skills practice both inside and outside of class. This course is the foundational course for facilitating your counseling skills; thus, attending, participating, and experiential learning within and outside of the classroom are crucial. You will have many opportunities to contribute to the total learning experience through attendance, discussion, and assigned activities.

The following criteria will be used to determine participation & attendance points:

Class Participation & Attendance Rubric

3 – Exceeds Expectations (40-50 points)	Proactive participation: leading, originating, informing, challenging contributions that reflect in-depth study, thought, and analysis of the topic under consideration. This does not mean dominating discussion or self-disclosure inappropriate to the circumstances. No more than one absence/no evident pattern of lateness
2 – Meets Expectations (26 – 39 points)	Reactive participation: supportive, follow-up contributions that are relevant and of value, but rely on the leadership and study of others, or reflect opinion/personal self-disclosure rather than study, contemplation, synthesis, and evaluation. Two or less absences/no evident pattern of lateness. Student attended another department equivalent class to meet supervision requirement due to excused absence.
1 – Does Not Meet Expectations (0-25 points)	Passive participation: present, awake, alert, attentive, but not actively involved or invested; Or Uninvolved: absent, present but not attentive, sleeping, texting/surfing, irrelevant contributions. More than two absences/pattern of lateness evident

Exams 1 & 2 (100 points total/50 points each). Two multiple-choice exams, with a section of application questions, will be given (50 questions each). Students will demonstrate knowledge of content areas on midterm and final exam. The exams will be multiple choice and short essay/application type of questions over material in assigned readings and activity assignments in units. Exams will be administered on-line.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed.
