COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Clock Hours

Advanced Internship (COUN 662) semester hours will include 300 (600 total) clock hours. The 6 semester hours (over two consecutive semesters) in advanced internship must involve 3 of the 5 CACREP Core Areas including counseling, teaching, supervision, research and scholarship, and leadership and advocacy experiences. There are no direct vs indirect hours in doctoral advanced internship. You need 15 hours of individual supervision and 22.5 of group supervision hours for each semester. The doctoral student’s major advisor will conduct weekly individual (or triadic) supervision sessions. Failure to complete the required hours will result in an incomplete for the course. It is the student’s responsibility to (a) reach out to their advisor to discuss scheduling and (b) come with content for these sessions and should include supervision content from 3 of the 5 CACREP Core Areas. The 662 instructor of record will conduct the group supervision hours for the semester.

Please review CACREP (2016) requirements.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change

Co- Teaching in Advanced Internship.

During the teaching aspect of advanced internship, the doctoral student assists a faculty member teaching a graduate level course within our department for at least one semester. Guidelines for the teaching internship are as follows:

1. The teaching internship begins only after the student has successfully completed COUN 650.
2. A teaching internship will typically be conducted during a Fall or Spring semester within the advanced internship semesters.
3. Any faculty member may decline an invitation to participate.
4. The faculty member selected will meet with the intern prior to the beginning of the semester to develop an internship proposal specifying goals and objectives for co-teaching. The proposal will be signed by the intern, the faculty member, and the Internship Coordinator, and will be placed in the student's internship file. The faculty member will closely monitor the teaching intern's classroom experiences.
5. The faculty member's duty to serve and protect classroom students will supersede responsibilities to the doctoral intern. Faculty members have the option to decide when an intern is capable of independent practice, regardless of the amount of time remaining for the intern to demonstrate competence. This could be a major factor contributing to a performance rated as "unsatisfactory" or "does not meet expectations."
6. Grades of the students within the class taught must be monitored and determined by the instructor of record.
7. Near the beginning of the semester, the teaching intern, in consultation with either the instructor of record or supervising advisor, will construct a student evaluation form for the class members that address the objectives of the internship. This form will be administered in such a way as to provide anonymity to students and useful feedback for interns. Student evaluations for faculty and interns will be conducted separately. Students' evaluations of teaching interns will be turned in to the instructor of record. Copies of student evaluations will be summarized by the intern with both summary and raw data given to faculty member.
8. Teaching interns will describe and explain their learning in an end-of-term report shared with faculty member.

This reflective report will chronicle insights into both process and content—about both pedagogy and course material.

The teaching experience is designed to develop competencies toward autonomous teaching. These are not limited to, but must include, the following:

- Attending all class sessions
- Increasing participation, building gradually toward conducting class sessions
- Giving feedback and grading impressions on student work to the instructor of record
- Writing a reflective paper identifying pedagogical techniques—additions, alternatives, and/or improvements

Supervision in Advanced Internship.

The supervision component in advanced internship is designed to provide the intern with a supervised “supervision” experience. For this, the student must have completed Advanced Practicum as well as COUN 620 (Supervision in Counseling). NOTE: The Supervision Internship is not the same as the supervision experience required in COUN 620. Supervision interns are assigned to current COUN 551 sections. Enrollment in the supervision internship will be limited to the availability of sections of COUN 551. The instructor of record for COUN 662 will coordinate requests for supervision internship with the Director of Training and Placement.

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this class, you will utilize the Learning Management System (LMS) entitled D2L for portions of instructional and learning methods, submitting assignments, participating in online discussions, and completing quizzes. You will need to utilize other technologies such as Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, etc. If you have issues with this system, it is your responsibility to contact the help desk immediately.

Instructional Methods

This course consists of lecture and didactic learning methods, group discussions, a case conceptualization assignment with recorded demonstration of skills, coupled with a book review. Additionally, experiential learning and practical application will be utilized. When we are not meeting face to face, you will be expected to participate and complete all online tasks via D2L. In addition to this, small lecture, discussion, activities, and workshops may be utilized during this course.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible for the active learning process. Expectations of this course include the following:

1. You are expected to display professionalism at all times. Be respectful to your professor and peers. Be open to feedback, as you will receive this throughout the program.
2. Prepare for classes. Complete any and all readings prior to class time.
3. Complete all assignments by the deadline.
4. Adhere to the university student code of conduct.
5. Participate. During face-to-face classes, you are expected to actively participate in all activities and discussion. In the online format, you are expected to participate in all online discussions/activities. This is crucial to your learning.
6. All writing assignments must be done according to APA 7th edition.
7. Regularly check your University email. My suggestion is to check it at least once a day as your instructors and others from the department and University may contact you.
8. Begin your readings ASAP. Sometimes it may take more than one attempt to digest the material.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change

9. Deadlines are the last possible moment something is due—not the first moment to start. Work ahead. I realize this may not always be possible; however, when you can do so.
10. Be open to the process. This degree takes time, work, effort, and growth.

Assignments/Assessments

1. Class Participation & Attendance (30 points)

Due to the nature of this class, attendance and participation are essential. Participation is credited to all activities related to this course. Please be aware that being consistently late to class can also constitute as an absence, particularly when a pattern of lateness emerges without justification. Due to the group supervision hours component of this class, you are only allowed to miss 2 class dates. If you miss more than two, you will be dropped from the course. The following criteria will be used to determine participation & attendance points:

Class Participation Rubric

3 – Exceeds Expectations (27-30 points)

Proactive participation: leading, originating, informing, challenging contributions that reflect in-depth study, thought, and analysis of the topic under consideration. This does not mean dominating discussion or self-disclosure inappropriate to the circumstances. No more than one absence/no evident pattern of lateness

2 – Meets Expectations (24 – 26 points)

Reactive participation: supportive, follow-up contributions that are relevant and of value, but rely on the leadership and study of others, or reflect opinion/personal self-disclosure rather than study, contemplation, synthesis, and evaluation. Two or less absences/no evident pattern of lateness

1 – Does Not Meet Expectations (0-25 points)

Passive participation: present, awake, alert, attentive, but not actively involved or invested; Or Uninvolved: absent, present but not attentive, sleeping, texting/surfing, irrelevant contributions.

2. Counseling Student Competency Evaluation (CSCE)

The Counseling Program is obligated by professional ethics (see ACA Code of Ethics, 2014) and University procedure to assess students as to their potential for meeting the expectations of professional practice in the professional counseling field. The competencies outlined in this document (CSCE) are specific to professional counseling and are in addition to academic requirements. The Counseling Program may suspend from the program any students judged incapable of meeting these expectations.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change

Procedures regarding potential dismissal are outlined in the Program's Retention/Dismissal Procedure.

The CSCE may be used by any faculty member with any student enrolled in a Counseling course to provide that student with feedback regarding their potential for meeting the expectations of the professional counseling field and the Department. Completion of a CSCE is required in the following courses: COUN 551, COUN 552, COUN 620, and COUN 660 (i.e., Clinical Supervision, Advanced Practicum, Advanced Internship, Advanced Supervision, Advanced Teaching). The course instructor in COUN 516 and COUN 548 may choose to implement the CSCE at his/her discretion. Each use of the CSCE must be placed in the student's Department file along with any remediation plan developed by the faculty in conference with the student.

The Counseling Program has elected to use the CSCE to monitor student's progress in professional practice. As a requirement in this course, a final CSCE evaluation will be completed by the course instructor, in consultation with the student, to assess your professionalism, general competency, social and emotional maturity, integrity and ethical conduct, and clinical competency. Please note that the instructor of the course may choose to administer the CSCE at different time intervals throughout the semester (e.g., initial, mid) at his/her discretion. The CSCE can yield an overall average composite score or an average subscale score for each domain. The Department utilizes both overall average composite score and average subscale scores to monitor students' professional practice. See rubric below.

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.
