Regular and Substantive Course Interaction

As a general guide, students enrolled in a three-semester hour course should spend one hour engaged in instructional activities and two to three hours on out-of-class work per week in a traditional semester. Students are expected to double this effort of engagement given that this course is being delivered in a seven-week term. Educational activities in this course are designed to ensure regular and substantive interaction between students and faculty to ensure that students are able to demonstrate competency.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed: Students will need reliable computer and internet access for this course. Students must be able to effectively use myLeo email, myLeo Online D2L, and Microsoft Office.

Instructional Methods: This course is an online course. To be successful in this course, all content and course modules should be read and reviewed. All assignments and quizzes (both graded and not graded) must be completed. Please contact the instructor by email for any assistance.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course: To be successful in this course, all content and course modules should be read and reviewed. All assignments and quizzes (both graded and not graded) should be completed. Please contact the instructor by email for any assistance.

ASSESSMENT

Students must achieve 80% or higher on the posttest and culminating project to demonstrate competency. Students must also complete identified reflective assignments and course activities (identified in "Learning Object Reflections or Projects or Essays") with a score of 80% or higher to access the course post-test and final project. This course, specifically, uses a variety of assignments which requires the student to apply the principles of life design to planning for both career and life. This is accomplished through reflection, investigation, brainstorming and goal setting. Therefore, projects and activities may be different than what students experience in other competency-based courses.

Course Pre-test

The purpose of the course pre-test is to provide a baseline understanding of your knowledge in this competency. Pre-tests are taken once and should be completed upon the first couple of days of a CBE academic term or entry into a course if a student is an accelerator. The pre-test is required before you begin studying course materials and granted access to module assignments and activities. The grade on the pre-test does not count in the final grade for this course.

Learning Objective Reflections or Projects or Essays

An assessment at the end of each module is intended to emphasize key concepts, theories, processes, etc., introduced in the Learning Objective Module. For this course, this is accomplished through reflective essays (journals) which address a given prompt and are graded against a standard rubric. Essays are submitted to the instructor and do not require comments or “discussion” with other students in the course.

Some modules have additional assignments (explained within the courses shell) and are listed below. All identified activities and assignments in this section are required for the course and must earn an 80% or higher to upload the course final project and access the course post-test. All assignments and activities below are factored into a student’s final grade for the course and are components of the final culminating project.
