Course Description

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

This course is the first part of a two-part series on statistics and research methods. This course is intended to introduce you to the basic and most common methods of collecting psychological data. We will cover ethics in research, the concepts of reliability, validity, generalizability, measurement, descriptive statistics, probability, z-scores, and the fundamentals of experimental design. Special attention will be given to writing in the style of the American Psychological Association (APA).

The lab allows for additional time to discuss the materials covered in lecture and to work on applying what you have learned in lecture through developing a research paper. This research paper will be a hypothetical replication study. This project is also broken up into two semesters. This semester you will write a literature review and a methods and expected results section. Each week in lab will involve working on a particular portion of your research paper. All of this will culminate in an APA style research paper.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Using the learning management system (D2L), searching the Internet for texts, using Library resources.

Instructional Methods

This is an online course with a lab, which is not to be interpreted as self-paced. Rather, you are required to log on regularly (preferably every day) in order to succeed. You may consume the material at a more rapid pace than set by the below schedule, but assignments and exams will still take place according to the schedule. Exams will be open for 1-2 days, and if you are unable to complete the exam in this timeframe, you must contact me ahead of time to re-schedule.

The time and effort required for this course is equivalent for any upper-level undergraduate course that you could take face-to-face. A high level of participation and effort will be necessary to succeed.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Questions about Grades

Any questions about a grade for a particular assignment or exam should be brought to the professor's attention within one week of the grades for that assignment or exam being posted.

Throughout our course, we will learn the science of how to learn and practice them. The following are some basics.

1. Check and read class emails promptly for announcements, updates, clarifications, etc.
2. Take notes and participating in lectures, read the assigned parts of the textbook to check if your listening comprehension matches with the textbook descriptions, and fill in the missing pieces.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

3. Quiz yourself often. Can you define a concept in your own words? Can you answer 3 or 4 questions of the textbook practice questions correctly?
4. Review the materials on a regular basis. Consider the Pomodoro technique. Set aside 20-25 minutes each time and study.
5. Complete all lab assignments and all exams.

Learning Outcomes

1. Learning to review the primary literature (improving library research skills, increasing familiarity with scientific writing, and reading journal articles)
2. Learning how research ideas are developed, including the formulation of testable hypotheses
3. Analysis of research results, including a basic understanding of descriptive statistics, probability, and percentiles
4. Produce a quality APA style report

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

- A = 90%-100%
- B = 80%-89%
- C = 70%-79%
- D = 60%-69%
- F = 59% or Below

Assessments

Your final grade is weighted 80% lecture and 20% lab. However, to receive a C or better in the course, students MUST receive a grade of C or better in BOTH the lecture and lab sections. Students who receive less than a C in either the lecture or lab will receive either an automatic D in the course, or their earned course grade if lower than D.

The lab and lecture grades are further broken up into separate assignment. The contribution of each assignment to the corresponding category (lecture or lab) appears next to each item.

Lecture

Exams (60%) - There will be two exams given during the semester. A mid-term exam and a final exam that will be cumulative. These two exams will be weighted equally. There will be no make-up exams except as mandated by University policy for University-excused absences, religious holidays and major illnesses. Students should contact the professor prior to the scheduled exam if possible, or within 24 hours of missing the exam due to accident or illness.
The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Homework (40%) – There will be four brief homework assignments turned in for a grade. These assignments are designed to increase your understanding of the topics being covered and give you the opportunity to apply course material. Due dates for homework assignments are listed below on the schedule of topics.

Lab

LA 1: Pick a Topic (5%) – Students must pick one of the articles from the list. This assignment is graded pass/fail.

LA 2: List of Two Articles (5%) – Students will submit a list of two articles relevant to the paper they are replicating. These articles will likely be the ones later included in your literature review. This assignment is graded pass/fail.

LA 3: Ethics Training (10%) – Students will complete the CITI ethics training. This assignment is graded pass/fail.

LA 4: Article Review Template (5%) – Students will read an article and complete the article review template. General feedback will be provided to help make sure you are on track.

LA 5: Summarize an Article (10%) – Students will summarize one of their articles and submit it for feedback. This assignment will help make sure you are summarizing and paraphrasing correctly before you go any further with your literature review. This assignment is graded pass/fail. General feedback will be provided to help make sure you are on track.

LA 6: Literature Review Outline (5%) – Students will submit an outline for their literature review. This assignment is graded pass/fail.

LA 7: Literature Review (20%) – Students will conduct a brief APA style literature review. This will later serve as the introduction to your paper. Your paper must include 3 or more references; all should be from reputable scholarly sources and all of your references must primarily contain reports of empirical research. Note that the article you are replicating is included in this number. No secondary sources may be included. Your paper must be double-spaced in MS Word with 12 pt. TNR font and 1" margins on all 4 sides. Your paper must be 5-7 pages long (this includes your title page and reference pages). Some feedback will be provided and you are expected to make changes to the introduction of your final paper accordingly.

LA 8: Hypotheses and Expected Results section (5%) – Students will write the hypotheses and expected results section as if this were a proposal.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

LA 9: Operational Definitions and Data spreadsheet (5%) – Students will list and operationally define all variables in their study. They will also create a data spreadsheet that could be used for recording data for the experiment. The purpose of this exercise is to get students thinking about what the data should look like for their project. Students will write three lines of fictitious data to aid this process. This assignment is graded pass/fail.

LA 10: Participants Section (5%) – Students will write and submit a participants section for their study. This assignment is graded pass/fail. General feedback will be provided to help make sure you are on track.

LA11: Methods Section (25%) – Students will submit their methods section, and all previous sections. Any recommended edits to the previous sections should appear in this version.

Guidelines for Homework and Lab Assignments:

1. Assignments are to be turned in by 11:30pm on the due date.
2. I will accept emailed assignments on an emergency basis only. Assignments sent through email must be received before 11:30pm on the due date.
3. ABSOLUTELY NO LATE ASSIGNMENTS will be accepted. If your assignment is more than 30 minutes late you will earn 0 points for that assignment.
4. Assignments are intended to be completed individually. DO NOT WORK TOGETHER ON ASSIGNMENTS.

Browser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for
