Course Description

This foundation course in Human Behavior in the Social Environment is designed to provide foundation students with an understanding of the bio-physical, psychological, and behavioral aspects of human development from before birth through adolescence. Content in this first course covers interactions between individuals, families, and their relationship to the social environment. Systems theory is the underlying context used to underpin all other major theories of individual and family development. Life stages will be considered in diverse frames of reference, e.g., different cultures/ethnicity/races, gender and sexual orientation, poverty, and physical or mental disabilities. In addition to theory, practical skills in parenting, communications, self-esteem, and relationship building will be explored to engage and assess individuals and families.

Relationship to Other Courses:

Student Learning Outcomes (Should be measurable; observable; use action verbs)

Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) requires a competency-based approach to identify and assess what students demonstrate in practice. In social work, this approach involves assessing students' ability to demonstrate the competencies identified in the educational policy. Listed below are the competencies and associated knowledge, skills, values and/or cognitive and affective processes that comprise the expected outcomes for this course.

	Activity/Assessment	Dimension
Competency 1: Students will demonstrate ethical and professional behavior.
Make ethical decisions by applying the standards of the NASW Code of Ethics, Relevant laws and regulations, models for ethical decision-making, ethical conduct of research and additional codes of ethics as appropriate to context	Intersectionality Paper	Cognitive Affective Values Knowledge
Use reflection and self-regulation to manage personal values and maintain professionalism in practice situations	Self-Reflection Paper	Values Cognitive Affective
Demonstrate professional demeanor in behavior, appearance, and oral and written and electronic communication	Intersectionality Paper	Values Skills
Competency 2: Students will engage in diversity and difference in practice.
Apply and communicate understanding of the importance of diversity and difference in shaping life experiences in practice at the micro, mezzo and macro levels	Intersectionality Paper Quizzes	Cognitive Affective Skills Knowledge
Present themselves as learners and engage clients and constituencies as experts of their own experiences	Intersectionality Paper	Knowledge Skills

Apply self-awareness and self-regulation to manage the influence of personal biases and values in working with diverse clients and constituencies	Self-reflection Paper	Values Knowledge
Competency 6: Engage with individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations and Communities
Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment, person-in-environment, and other multidisciplinary theoretical frameworks to engage with clients and constituencies	Intersectionality Paper Self-Reflection Paper Quizzes	Knowledge Skills Values Cognitive Affective
Use empathy, reflection, and interpersonal skills to effectively engage diverse clients and constituencies	Intersectionality Paper	Cognitive Affective Skills Values

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

In this class you will utilize the Learning Management Systems (LMS) D2L for instructional and learning opportunities, submitting your assignments, participating in online synchronous and asynchronous discussions, accessing resources, and completing quizzes/tests. Additionally, knowledge and skills in using Microsoft Word PowerPoint and Outlook Email, if you have any issues with using the various systems or software, it is your responsibility to contact support services and to notify the instructor of the problem.

Instructional Methods

This course will be delivered via asynchronous sessions via D2L and will consist of live class sessions, pre-recorded lectures, group engagement activities, various assignments with some including experiential learning and practical application of the content areas. In addition, small lectures, discussion activities and workshops may be utilized to provide instruction during this course.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

As a student in this course, you are responsible to engage in active learning and reaching out to the instructor if there are problems or challenges that is interfering in optimal learning. Communication is key when engaged in a fully online, virtual environment.

Expectations for success include:

1. Always demonstrate professional behavior, including demonstrating respect for instructor and peers; being open to feedback and guidance throughout this class and in the program.
2. Adhered to the School of Social Work and University student code of conduct, along with NASW Code of Ethics.
3. Begin reading the assigned text and supplemental readings as soon as possible, with a focus on completing all readings prior to engagement with instructor or peers.
4. Prepare to engage in live class sessions, discussions, and other activities so you can be a contributor as well as receiver of knowledge and skills.
5. Actively participate in engagement activities which will include live virtual class sessions, online discussions, and interactive learning opportunities -as this is vital for learning and success in both this course and the program.

6. Work ahead when possible, completing assignments ahead of due date so you are prepared to submit on the due date.
7. Sign into the D2L course multiple times during the week to access updated announcements or posted resources.
8. Check your university email daily. This is the official method of communication by the university, department, and instructor.
9. Be open and focused on the “process” and not the “product” as earning this degree requires time, effort, work and ultimately growth in knowledge, skills, abilities along with personal and professional attributes.

GRADING

Assignment #1: Intersectionality Activity	100 points
Assignment #2: Self-Reflection	100 points
Quizzes: Chapters 1-6 (20 pts. each)	160 points
TOTAL	360 points

Grades will be determined according to the following:

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

- A = 90%-100% of total points
- B = 80%-89%
- C = 70%-79%
- D = 60%-69%
- F = 59% or Below

Assessments

Assignment #1:

Intersectionality Assignment (100 pts)

Note: Please use headings for each part

For this assignment, students will examine the concept of intersectionality and describes the ways in which systems of inequality based on gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, class and other forms of discrimination “intersect” to create unique dynamics and effects. In addition, you will recognize how our multiple identities change how we experience and see the world.

Instructions:

1. Using reliable sources of information define Privilege, Oppression, Systems of Power, and Intersectionality. DO NOT use a dictionary. Then research arguments for and against Intersectionality. Present their arguments referencing at least 2 proponents and 2 opponents of the intersectionality approach/theory in no more than 2-pages. (25 pts)
2. Then Watch the video: Intersectionality 101 (25 pts.)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w6dnj2lyYjE>.

Using the Identity Wheel explore areas where you have experienced advantage or disadvantage in your life.

- Circle the factors that bring you ADVANTAGE. Advantage is a special right or privilege available to a particular person or group of people. It can be earned or unearned.
- Underline the factors that bring you DISADVANTAGE. Disadvantage is when a special right or advantage is unavailable to a particular person or group.
- Note: In some cases, it could be both an advantage and disadvantage

The Identity Wheel social factors that influence the extent to which we experience advantages or disadvantages in our lives. It is the intersection of these factors that influences the way we experience life in our society. These factors include sexual orientation, Indigenous ancestry, age, social class, education, sex, race and ethnicity, length of time in the community, gender identity, religion and spirituality, place of origin, marital or family status, geographical location, disabilities, language, income, immigration status, and other factors. Most of us experience more than one form of discrimination (ableism, racism, heterosexism, sexism, classism, ethnocentrism, transphobia, ageism, and homophobia) These factors interact with wider social forces, such as history and the legacies of colonialism, patriarchy, economic exploitation, level of education, inaccessible legal systems, and racist immigration policies. Write a 2-page reflection applying the intersectionality theory to your experiences using the advantage and disadvantages exercise. Describe how your own intersecting privileges and oppressions influence your identity and your relations with others in society.

3. Write a 1-page analysis on the relationship between Social Justice and Intersectionality and how can Intersectionality inform our interventions as social workers (20 pts).
4. Write clearly and concisely using correct grammar, spelling, acronyms, punctuations, and academic tone. (10 pts.) See Guidelines Below
 - Write in 1st person.
 - Used proper sentence structure and length with correct punctuation, especially commas and apostrophes.

- Used good paragraphs with thesis sentences; appropriate paragraph length; transitions to connect paragraphs.
- Created a sense of understanding (thoughtful transitions, interconnection, and flow of ideas) within each part.
- Wrote with minimum spelling errors/typos.
- Avoided colloquial and biased expressions.
- Stayed within the range of pages (excluding title and reference pages).rote clearly and concisely using correct grammar, spelling, acronyms, punctuations, and academic tone. (10 pts.)

- Paraphrased and quoted adequately
- Cited sources of information accurately using different citing structures (parenthetical and narrative citations) in all the parts.
- Formatted the sources of information and formatted a single reference page for the 3 parts of the assignment.

Assignment #2: Self-reflection Paper (100 points)

- Reflect upon your life including your experiences from birth through adolescence and your reasons for becoming a social worker. This is not a full self-revelation of all your life experiences but look at key factors that led you to this career.
- Using the introductory course materials, we have read so far (chapter 1), what influenced your life course? Identify, define, and apply 4 theories/perspectives and 8 concepts that can help you further understand your previous life stages that brought you to where you are now. Underline the applied concepts and theories.

- Explore the concerns/issues you faced as a teenager. Incorporate, as appropriate, any possible impact on culture, ethnicity, race, sexual orientation, physical/cognitive/developmental factors, socio-economic status, spirituality or other aspects of the human condition which impact your worldview.
- Paper should be 4-5 pages in length. Minimum of 3 peer reviewed journal references. The first reaction paper should be written in first person.

Quizzes (160 points)

Students will participate in 6 short quizzes at various times during the semester. The quizzes will have multiple choice and true/false responses. Each quiz will cover the assigned chapter for the week in which the quiz is given. The quiz will open for two days during the assigned week, and students will have extended time to complete the quiz once it is open. There are No Make-up quizzes.

School of Social Work and Council on Social Work Education Specific Policies

Course Engagement

Final Evaluation and Grade Depends on both Classroom attendance and Participation
Inadequate participation or lack of required time commitment in each class significantly affects students' grades. No matter the course venue, students must engage in a comparable amount of time. Expectations of both Face-to-Face classes and those with Online components include time spent reading and studying course material. To earn a level of competency within a specific course, students must demonstrate both mastery of content and active engagement.

Mastery of content areas is evidenced by successful completion of course assignments such as written papers, group project deliverables, tests/quizzes and other tangible products designed by instructors to evaluate knowledge and skills.

Additionally, the Social Work Profession is built upon human interactions and building human relationships – which is defined as engagement. Engagement is defined as meaningful involvement in interactions with instructor, peers, outside stakeholders as appropriate (such as contacting a social worker to interview for a required assignment). Within the classroom setting, whether virtual or F2F, students must actively participate in 80% of engagement activities as outlined by individual instructors. These activities may include, but are not limited to participation in live, synchronous virtual classes, attending a Face-to-Face course when appropriate, interacting with peers in posted discussions and collaborating in group interactive projects.

Students must meet standards for content mastery on tangible assignments and meet the threshold of active engagement of the time set during a semester by the instructor.

Instructors are experts in each course content area and set the standards for students to meet for successful completion of the course.

Student Conduct

Students preparing to become professional social workers must adhere to the University Code of Conduct, Department Code of Conduct and National Association of Social Workers' (NASW) Code of Ethics.

Department Code of Conduct

"Faculty have the authority to request students who exhibit inappropriate behavior to leave the class/lab/internship practicum or to block access to online courses and may refer offenses to the [Academic and Professional Issues Committee (API)] or to the Department Head. More serious offences by be referred to the University Police Department and/or the Judicial Affairs Office for disciplinary action" (Student Guidebook p 35)

Social Work students conduct themselves in an ethical and professional manner.

Closely linked with professional recognition is the social worker's compliance with the profession's ethical standards. It is imperative for professional social workers to be competent and ethical in practice if the profession is to maintain the public trust. It is essential that each social work student gain a thorough understanding of the ethical principles that guide practice and actively demonstrate in behavior, both in and out of the classroom. Student conduct is to reflect the tenets of NASW Code of Ethics (located at <https://www.socialworkers.org/pubs/code/code.asp>) on the NASW website: <https://www.socialworkers.org>

University Code of Conduct located in the Student Guidebook at <http://www.tamuc.edu/campuslife/documents/studentGuidebook.pdf> (pp 34- 66). On the University Website under Campus Life Documents
 To become aware of university policies related to student academic and behavioral expectations for students refer to the Guidebook
