Room Number: DX101D

Credit Hours: 3

Last day to drop: 11/2/2023

Course Description: This course is a survey of United States Federal Government. It addresses the origin and development of the U.S. Constitution, structure and powers of the national government including the legislative, executive, and judicial branches, federalism, political participation, the national election process, public policy, civil liberties, and civil rights. (To ensure transferability, students should plan to take both Government 2305 and 2306 within the DCCCD.)

Course Pre-requisites: Eligibility for enrollment in Government courses in the Dallas County Community Colleges requires that Texas Success Initiative (TSI) minimum standards in reading and writing be met. This may include either passing the THEA exam or an equivalent (such as Accuplacer), having completed a Developmental Studies series in THEA-deficient subject areas (DREA 0093 and/or DWRI 0093), or having completed the equivalent English as a Second Language series (ESOL 0044).

Course Materials/Supplies Needed:

Additional material will be recommended throughout the course either for reading, listening, or viewing.

Core Objectives:

Through the general education core curriculum, students will gain a foundation of knowledge of human cultures and the physical and natural world; develop principles of personal and social responsibility for living in a diverse global world; and advance intellectual and practical skills that are essential for all learning. As a part of DCCCD's Core Curriculum, students completing GOVT 2305 should advance the following Core Objectives:

- 1. Critical Thinking skills, to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information
- 2. Communication skills, to include effective development, interpretation, and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication
- 3. Personal Responsibility, to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making
- 4. Social Responsibility, to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities

Student Learning Outcomes:

After successful completion of this course the student should be able to:

- 1. Explain the origin and development of constitutional democracy in the United States.
- 2. Demonstrate knowledge of the federal system.
- 3. Describe separation of powers and checks and balances in both theory and practice.
- 4. Demonstrate knowledge of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the federal government.
- 5. Evaluate the role of public opinion, interest groups, and political parties in the political system.
- 6. Analyze the election process.
- 7. Describe the rights and responsibilities of citizens
- 8. Analyze issues and policies in U.S. politics

Evaluation Procedures:

I intend to evaluate student performance by using a combination of online assessments, activities, written essays, and student participation.

The evaluation measurements will be weighted in the following way:

- Online assessments 25% The chapter assessments you take.
- Online assignments 25% Various assignments throughout the course.
- Written essays 30% There will be three essays.
 Participation 20% Percentage of work completed and class involvement.

An overall course percentage will be calculated at the end of the course. Letter grades will be awarded according to the following chart.

Total Percentage Achieved	Letter Grade Awarded
90-100	A
80-89	В
70-79	С
60-69	D
Less than 60	F

Your best strategy for success in this course is to do your best on each type of assignment.

Essay assignments can be accessed on D2L Brightspace via the link "Write Essays" Here."

Instructor's Academic Dishonesty/Plagiarism Policy:

Throughout this course, you will pursue your studies with integrity and honesty; this means any words, thoughts, ideas, and data that are not your own should credit the source and author of the original work.
