Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner, especially as this is an online course. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a TAMUC campus open computer lab, etc.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Please contact me with any questions you may have. My communication preference is e-mail, and my address is: Christine.van-pay@tamuc.edu. Also, each instructor in the department of literature and languages is required to keep at least three office hours per week. This semester, I will have virtual office hours. Feel free to email me with any and all questions. Please note that I will not respond to emails after 5pm on weekdays or at all on weekends. Please include a proper opening, a clear message and subject line, your class/section, and closing salutation in emails.

PARTICIPATION/ATTENDANCE

I expect students to participate in some way each week (whether working on a writing assignment, revising a writing assignment, writing on a discussion board, or answering questions on Top Hat), and your participation will also be self-assessed in reflection discussions throughout the semester. The syllabus and schedule are subject to change. I understand that participation and contribution can look and mean something different to each of us, but, ultimately, to do well in this aspect of the course, you should contribute to class discussion, raising questions, responding to classmates, and sharing insights in ways that keep the conversation moving forward in meaningful, propagative, and substantial ways. Participation is crucial to success in this course.

Collection of Data for Measuring Institutional Effectiveness

To measure the level of compliance with the university's Institutional Effectiveness guidelines, throughout the semester, I will collect some of the ungraded texts you produce. The texts will be part of a portfolio created on your behalf and will be measured to ensure that our program "promotes practices that result in higher student academic achievement; an enhanced student experience; aligned and transparent decisions; and readily available information for improvement, accountability, and accreditation" (see "Department of Institutional Effectiveness," <http://www.tamuc.edu/aboutus/institutionalEffectiveness/default.aspx>). This is solely an assessment of program effectiveness and in no way affects students' course grades or GPAs.

ON UNIVERSITY-SANCTIONED ACTIVITIES

To accommodate students who participate in university-sanctioned activities, the First-Year Composition Program offers sections of this course at various times of the day and week. If you think that this course may conflict with a university-sanctioned activity in which you are involved--athletics, etc.--please email your instructor.

SYLLABUS CHANGE POLICY

This syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress or weather, may make it necessary for me to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced immediately.

ASSIGNMENTS EXPLAINED

Writing Assignments 1-4/Capstone Portfolio: Instructions for these essays/projects will be available under assignments in D2L. Students must utilize MLA formatting and are expected to use proper spelling and grammar to the best of their ability. An example/template for MLA formatting will be available on D2L. Students are expected to carefully read and follow directions for these assignments as not doing so will negatively affect their grade. All assignments must be submitted as either Word or PDF documents and must be uploaded to the appropriate drop box on D2L.

Discussion Boards: Throughout the semester, students will participate in online discussions through D2L. These are designed for students to reflect on their own efforts and writing processes as well as practice their writing skills while responding to various prompts and media. These are also designed to help students with their technical skills, such as grammar, sentence structure, spelling, etc. Students need to answer the prompt in at least 200 words. Be sure to write in complete sentences and utilize proper spelling and grammar (to the best of your ability). Grammar will be graded on these after Discussion 3.

Top Hat Questions: Students have access to the Writing Inquiry textbook on the Top Hat website. Students will read the assigned readings (see syllabus calendar and weekly breakdowns) and answer the assigned questions in Top Hat. Some have before questions, some have after questions, and some have both. Some of these are multiple-choice questions. Some are short-answer questions or discussions. Students must answer these in well-thought-out replies, not one-word or one-sentence answers, of at least 100 words each. The questions for both Dreams and Nightmares and Faces of Courage follow the same guidelines.
