- Describe the characteristics that make a desirable forage or pasture crop
- Identify common forage and pasture crops used across the US
- Recall common insects, diseases, and weeds in forage and pasture crops
- Understand current challenges in forage and pasture crops

Grading

Course Grading: Grades will be based on quizzes, homework, assignments, and four exams. A total of 850 points will be available throughout the semester, with only 800 points counting toward the student's final grade.

A= 720-800

B= 640-719

C= 560-639

D= 480-559

F= <479

Course Work Category	# of opportunities available	Available Points	Maximum Points
Quizzes	~20	~320	300
Exams	2	230	200
Student Project	1	100	100
Group Project	1	200	200
Total		850	800

Grade Disputes: Students have seven days from the date of any grade assessment to dispute their grade. Email Dr. Ogden with “PLS 326 Grade Dispute” in the subject line. It is the student’s responsibility to check their grades on D2L regularly. If you think there is an error, you must alert Dr. Ogden within a week.

Course Work

Quizzes: Approximately 20 quizzes will be given throughout the semester. 320 points worth of quizzes will be available throughout the semester, only 300 points count toward final grade. Quizzes may be given via D2L or in-class.

Exams: Two (2) exams will be administered. Each exam will be worth 100 points, with the potential for up to 15 bonus points. Exams will be given on D2L. Students may use their notes to take exams but are expected to work independently- they may not collaborate with peers or other outside sources.

Student Project: Each student will select a unique forage/pasture crop and give a presentation over the crop. The presentation should be 5-8 minutes long, include scientific facts, and feature pictures of the crop. Typical information to include in the presentation: plant common name, scientific name, growing season, crop utilization, region grown, growth habit, ideal climate for growth, center of origin, center of production, do livestock/wildlife utilize the forage, do humans consume the forage, and societal impact of the crop. Include any interesting issues/facts about the crop too- particularly if it’s considered an invasive crop or weed in some areas. This assignment is worth 100 points. Student projects will be assigned on January 22 & presented in class February 19-21.

Group Project: Students will be split into groups of two for group projects. The purpose of your group project is to construct an extension-style presentation over a topic covered in this course. The presentation should be 12-15 minutes long, feature scientific-based information over the topic of your choice, and be suitable for presenting to the general public. Presentation may utilize PowerPoint, hands-on demonstrations, mini-workshops, video, or other creative forms of work. Group project topics/drafts will be due on March 4 and completed projects will be due April 17. Students will submit peer evaluations for their group projects and evaluations will be considered when assigning each individual student’s grade for the project (be a good group member!!!). The group project is worth 200 points.

Late work policy: All assignments (other than your group project) must be submitted on or before April 19 at 11:59 pm for grading consideration. I reserve the right to change this policy or set a certain amount of assignments (2-3) that I will grade one week past the due date. You do not have to email me to receive this grace period, just turn in your work.

Expectations

Use of AI in Coursework

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
