Course Description

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate an understanding of police and investigative psychology by analyzing real-world techniques and applying psychological principles to investigative processes.
2. Apply family forensic psychology concepts to assess and evaluate the impact of family dynamics in legal settings, demonstrating the ability to identify relevant psychological factors.
3. Critically assess the psychology of crime and delinquency, employing relevant theories and empirical evidence to analyze and explain criminal behavior.
4. Evaluate the role of victimology and victim services in the criminal justice system, demonstrating an ability to propose effective psychological interventions for victims.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

5. Analyze and apply legal psychology principles to assess the impact of psychological factors on legal proceedings and decision-making within the justice system.
6. Demonstrate proficiency in evaluating and critiquing expert witness testimony, identifying psychological principles and biases that may influence legal outcomes.
7. Assess correctional psychology practices and their implications for rehabilitation and the overall well-being of individuals within the criminal justice system.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

All course materials (e.g., PowerPoint lectures, assignments, articles, etc.) will be uploaded to D2L each week, and all assignments will be done through D2L.

Instructional Methods

This class will be blended, meaning that some of the classes will be in person while others will be done online. You will know in advance which days will be which.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Students will succeed if they:

1. Attend lectures. You will probably hear this from all of your professors, but it is true. Having the ability to ask questions when you think of them is immensely helpful in the learning process.
2. Participate. I will not lie and tell you this is easy, talking in front of others can be intimidating. I hope to foster a classroom of ease where you feel excited to contribute to the topic and ask questions along the way!
3. Read the assigned material. I know you are busy students, and I will try not to assign too much reading. If you feel you do not have the time to dedicate to reading a whole chapter than skim it as that is better than nothing.
4. Communicate your needs. I am here for you to help you succeed in this class. I want you all to learn everything that you can in this course while also taking care of yourselves. If something comes up, please let me know.

GRADING

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Weights of the assessments in the calculation of the final letter grade.

Paper	20%
Quizzes	40%
Midterm Exam	20%
Final Exam	20%
TOTAL	100%

Assessments

TERM PAPER (200 points)

A paper will be required over any topic that was discussed within the course, excluding any serial killers and cults. The paper should be 3-4 pages (not including title or reference pages; APA format, 12 pt. font, 1" margins). It must consist of at least 3 peer-reviewed journal articles to support points you are trying to make or to illustrate a specific problem with a particular aspect of forensic psychology. The main purpose of this paper is to elaborate on a specific topic from this course using outside literature (e.g., peer-reviewed journals, not Wikipedia), and trying to connect it back to what we learned in class. If you have questions about picking a topic to write about, do not hesitate to contact me.

25 points will come from submitting the topic you are interested in writing the paper over in the correct discussion board before or on the due date. Another 25 points will be from the submission of the 3 peer-reviewed journal articles you are planning on using cited as you will cite them on your reference pages in the correct assignment section before or on its due date. The final 150 points will be from the submission of the term paper itself.

EXAMS (Mid-term and Final: 200 points each, 400 points total)

There will be two online exams. The exams will be cumulative, be prepared to see any of the topics that we have covered up to that point on the exam. There will be no make-up exams, if you have to miss an exam contact me BEFORE the day of the exam and we will arrange something together.

QUIZZES (40 points each, 400 points total)

There will be twelve online quizzes, the lowest two grades will be dropped and the highest ten will be used for this section. The quizzes will be covering any chapter(s) since the previous quiz. If you have to miss a quiz, please let me know BEFORE the day of the quiz and we will arrange something together.

EXTRA CREDIT (Up to 50 points)

A goal of this class is to help you familiarize yourself with research methods. One way to obtain this goal is to have you participate in research studies. Participating in research studies contributes to students and faculty at A&M - Commerce, your understanding of how research is conducted, and human knowledge in general. All students in this class will be required to participate in the psychology department's participant pool or complete alternative assignments (see me for more information on alternative assignments).

Students can complete up to a total of 4 experiment credits. If you “no-show” during any of these 4 credits on the researchers, then you will only be able to qualify for 30 points for 4 credits. When you first sign into the experiment management system (EMS) you will be asked to take a prescreen. The prescreen takes about 20 minutes to complete. If you complete the prescreen in the first two weeks of the semester you will receive ½ free experiment credit. This can be combined with later experiments that are worth ½ credit.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

LMS

All course sections offered by Texas A&M University-Commerce have a corresponding course shell in the myLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). Below are technical requirements

ACCESS AND NAVIGATION

You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems. These methods might include the availability of a backup PC at home or work, the temporary use of a computer at a friend's home, the local library, office service companies, Starbucks, a TAMUC campus open computer lab, etc.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

If you have any questions or are having difficulties with the course material, please contact your Instructor.

Technical Support

If you are having technical difficulty with any part of Brightspace, please contact Brightspace Technical Support at 1-877-325-7778. Other support options can be found here:

Interaction with Instructor Statement

As there are no face-to-face office hours, I will be available via email to schedule meetings. I will be available to for any questions through email but if you would like a meeting, we can find a time that works best for both of us. Please allow 24 to 48 hours for a response, except on weekends and holidays where response times may be longer. As I often check my emails multiple times a day, response times will most likely be quicker. If you do not receive an email response after 48 hours your email may not have been received.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Attendance is not mandatory but highly recommended. The best way to learn is utilizing your resources and as you professor I am one of those. If you find yourself having to miss an exam let me know BEFORE the day of the exam so that we can make appropriate measures. This communication will be the only way to make-up a missed exam. Late assignments may be turned in up to a week after the due date for partial credit. Please communicate with me if you need assistance in this class! I am here to help and wish to see you all learn something new and receive the grade that you would like/have worked for!

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.
