COURSE DESCRIPTION

How ought one to live? While we won't come up with definitive answers to this question, we will read a number of philosophers to see how they justified their different approaches to it, and we will evaluate their reasoning. Along the way we will learn about four major schools of ethics: virtue ethics, deontology, utilitarianism, and care ethics. The course is organized so that conflicting, competing, and even complementary theories will be investigated and can be discussed in interesting and civil ways. Assignments include two essay exams, four short written responses to the reading, and a few short quizzes over the reading. The following two books are required:

- Gawande, Atul. Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters at the End. New York: Picador, 2014. Paperback ISBN 978-1250076229. eBook ISBN 9781627790550
- Schur, Michael. How to Be Perfect: The Correct Answer to Every Moral Question. New York: Simon&Schuster, 2022. Paperback: ISBN13: 9781982159320. eBook: ISBN13: 9781982159337

Other reading, provided for free in digital format, will include:

- Aristotle's Nicomachean Ethics
- Immanuel Kant's The Groundwork of the Metaphysics of Morals
- John Stuart Mill's Utilitarianism
- Virginia Held's The Ethics of Care: Personal, Political, and Global

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will write short response papers that demonstrate an understanding of established approaches to defining and understanding ethics.
- Students will be able to analyze, evaluate, or solve problems when given a set of circumstances, data, texts, or art.
- In written, oral, and/or visual communication, A&M-Commerce students will communicate in a manner appropriate to audience and occasion, with an evident message and organizational structure.
- Students will understand and practice academic honesty.
- Students will demonstrate an understanding of societal and/or civic issues.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- To acquire an overview of the various approaches to understanding ethics in the discipline of philosophy.
- to acquire an overview of the various cultural and social influences on thinking about ethical behavior.
- to formulate articulate responses to the reading assignments and ensuing discussions.

ASSIGNMENTS

Exams: You'll have a mid-term and a final, each covering roughly half of the semester. These exams will solicit short answers of 3 or 4 sentences, as well as longer, more richly detailed essay responses. These will be in-class exams, and you will need a blue or green exam booklet for each one.

Response papers: In addition, you'll turn in four written responses (300-400 words each) to some of the reading assignments. These responses are not designed to test how well you've read the assigned material. Rather, they serve as opportunities for you to apply important features of each ethical approach to a given current situation. Specific assignments are forthcoming in the course shell.

Quizzes: You'll take six quizzes to test your comprehension of some of the reading. These timed quizzes will be given in class during the first dozen minutes or so and cannot easily be made up. Each quiz will be announced as the semester progresses, so be attentive to their deadlines.

Extra Credit: An extra credit assignment will be available near the end of the semester.

As a rule I do not accept late assignments, so please be attentive to deadlines. If you must miss an upcoming deadline, you will need to contact me to make prior satisfactory arrangements for submitting the assignment. Failure to make prior satisfactory arrangements will result in your forfeiting the right to turn in that assignment. An extra credit assignment to be named later will be an opportunity to restore points from a missed assignment or simply to add points to the total grade.

EVALUATION

Assignment Values	Final Grade Ranges
Midterm Exam 50 pts.	A=180--200
Final Exam 50 pts.	B=160--179
Response Papers 40 pts. (4@ 10 pts. each)	C=140--159
Quizzes 60 pts. (6 @ 10 pts. each)	D=120--139
Extra Credit 10 pts.	F=0--119

ATTENDANCE

Regular attendance is important for several reasons, but it is especially important for you to keep up with the assignments in this class. The tentative calendar below offers only the most general description of activities; more detail will be provided in class as the semester goes on. If you are absent the day an assignment is due, you must contact me and make satisfactory arrangements for turning in the assignment. In most cases, such arrangements will uploading or emailing to me the assignment by the deadline. Failure to make prior satisfactory arrangements will result in your forfeiting the right to turn in that assignment. As per university policy, excessive absences (three weeks' worth) may result in your being dropped from the course.

PLAGIARISM/ACADEMIC DISHONESTY STATEMENT

Instructors in the Department of Literature and Languages do not tolerate plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty. Instructors uphold and support the highest academic standards, and students are expected to do likewise. Penalties for students guilty of academic dishonesty include disciplinary probation, suspension, and expulsion. (Texas A&M University-Commerce Code of Student Conduct 5.b[1,2,3]).

AI use in course [Draft 2, May 25, 2023] Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course. Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism). Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed. In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
