Course Instruction Methods and Student Expectations:

This course will require both reading material located in the D2L classroom, weekly reading assignments from the course textbook, and viewing of online videos. Assignments will include writing assignments, creative projects, and quizzes.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Grading

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or below

Assessments

3% Syllabus Quiz (Extra credit) Due Feb. 2nd D2L

15% Online Discussion Due Feb. 9th D2L

20% Mid-term Exam (taken online) March 1st D2L.

20% The Formal Analysis Assignment Due March 22nd D2L

20% Museum Tour Assignment Due April 19th D2L

25% Final Exam (taken online) April 29th D2L.

The Online Discussion: What is Art for?

In the first few modules in the course, you'll explore different definitions of art and how these definitions have changed throughout centuries. You'll also explore varying opinions from curators, artists and academics who have thought about the significance or purpose of art throughout time periods and cultures. As you make your way through the module videos and chapters, consider what you believe about art and its purpose in society. Do you believe art is merely aesthetic or meant to be beautiful? Should art serve a function or purpose for people in a community? (For example, the difference between an ancient vessel for drawing water vs an abstract sculpture in a museum). Who gets to decide what art is and what it looks like? Critically consider these questions as you answer the discussion prompt located on D2L.

Helpful readings/videos to get started:

Chapter 1 from the textbook, specifically "1.6. Why do we make art?" lined in Week 1.
"What is Art For" video linked in Week 1.

The formal analysis assignment

Form refers to the appearance of a work of art. We also call it the visual structure or style of the work of art. When we analyze form, we conduct a formal analysis. Form consists of how the artist uses the materials to create visual expression. This expression comes through the building blocks of the work of art known as the visual elements and principles of design. For this assignment you will be asked to write a formal analysis on a work of art from the Dallas Museum of Art's permanent collection (available online). Your formal analysis should be 250 words double spaced and should address what you see (not the iconography or context of the work of art).

The Museum Exhibition Assignment

Imagine that you are a museum curator or educator and you've been tasked with putting together a museum exhibition or tour of different works of art. For this assignment you will develop a thematic museum tour with 5 works of art (3 of which must not be featured in the content modules for the course). Your museum tour must include an introduction paragraph explaining the theme of your tour and why you've chosen objects/works of art. For each stop and work of art in your tour, you must include the title of the piece, the medium, and a brief 100-word description of what the work is about and why it is featured in your tour. The template for this assignment is located on D2L along with other instructions.

Getting Started:

1. Think through some of the works of art and concepts you've explored in this course so far. What works of art stood out to you throughout the semester?
2. Is there a particular topic that interests you (for example, if you are an engineering major, maybe the intersection of math and art is interesting to you?)
3. Once you decide on a theme for the exhibition, start looking for works of art that illustrate this theme. You can do this by searching museum collections using artists or key words (i.e. patterns or food) ARTSTOR is a great resource for finding high-quality images!
4. Make sure your assignment has an introduction paragraph that explains your theme, 5 works of art that are relevant to the theme, each work possesses a title, artist, media and dimensions. Each work of art has a 100-word description.
5. MAKE sure to include citations in proper Chicago Style formatting!

COURSE POLICIES:

Attendance: The course takes place fully online. We will NOT meet via Zoom or in-person this semester. There is no attendance grade assigned, however, it is important that you stay on track with assigned readings/videos each week. Please consult the syllabus and the content page on D2L for a full schedule and due dates. It is expected that students will log in to the course each week and complete required reading/material.

Academic dishonesty: Instructors are required use of Turnitin.com for written assessment to help with plagiarism.

There is zero tolerance for academic dishonesty in this class. Be sure that you understand what constitutes academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism, cheating on exams, theft of instructional material or exams, representing the work of someone else as one's own, etc.).

Academic dishonesty is a severe transgression in college and may result in referral to the Dean of Students, dismissal from class, expulsion from the University, and a failing grade.

Interaction with Instructor Statement

If you have questions about the course content or assignments, please email me, and I will do my best to help.

Every effort will be made to answer emails within 24 hours from Monday to Thursday. Please expect that if you send an email on Friday, it may only be answered the following Monday.

Make sure to log in to the course on a weekly basis and turn on notifications so that you don't miss regular weekly announcements, clarifications and tips on how to complete assignments throughout the semester.

Late Work Policy

Late submissions will receive a ½ letter grade deduction for each day submitted late and will not be accepted after three (3) days past deadline. See course schedule and the course schedule below for deadlines.

All exams and tests must be completed during the designated time (BEFORE 11:59pm on their respective dates). In the event that you experience an emergency, or something prevents you from taking a test, email notification must be sent to the instructor BEFORE the test/exam deadline and documentation of circumstance may be required. See course schedule for test/exam and assignment deadlines.
