BSCJ WITH EMPHASIS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT LEADERSHIP DESCRIPTION

The Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice with an emphasis in Law Enforcement Leadership (BSCJ-CJCB) at Texas A&M University-Commerce is a 100% online, competency-based program designed specifically for first responders: law enforcement, peace officers and military personnel with existing work experience, police academy training, or other certifications. Courses are offered in an accelerated format, so students can move swiftly through material they already have mastery over and focus more attention on topics that are new and challenging to their existing knowledge base. The courses are self-paced, so students can work according to their own schedules. Students in the BSCJ-CJCB program develop practical workplace competencies that meet current and future challenges facing first responders today.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This competency-based course considers organizational culture in the context of law enforcement organizations, examining the factors that influence culture. Students will consider the ways that culture develops within an organization and how it influences communication and police/community relations with an emphasis on the relationship between leadership development and organizational culture. Students will develop a conceptual framework for their own leadership philosophy in the context of a dynamic public safety culture.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Completion of this course provides the student with the knowledge to:

1. Students will be able to articulate what organizational culture is; how it develops; and what factors influence it.
2. Students will be able to apply their knowledge of organizational culture to explain how it influences communication and leadership.
3. Students will be able to explain the ways that organizational culture influences internal criminal justice agency functions, as well as police/community relations.
4. Students will articulate what the role of leadership is in organizational culture, and specifically how their own leadership philosophy can influence organizational culture.

Regular and Substantive Course Interaction

As a general guide, students enrolled in a three-semester hour course should spend one hour engaged in instructional activities and two to three hours on out-of-class work per week in a traditional semester. Students are expected to double this effort of engagement given that this course is being delivered in a seven-week term. Educational activities in this course are designed to ensure regular and substantive interaction between students and faculty to ensure that students can demonstrate competency.
