COURSE INFORMATION

Texts and/or Materials

Materials the student is working with are in New Mexico state juvenile court justice archives, both online and at physical locations. The student is undergoing a review of such archives to produce an honor's thesis, tentatively titled, "A Historical Overview of Crime & Justice in New Mexico: From Billy the Kid to the Cruces Boys."

Course Description

This course generates credit hours for student research and subsequent Honors thesis.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. The student understands the process of archival research, and how to formulate a research question and thesis statement pertaining to their project.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
