Course Description

Project Management is the discipline of defining and managing the vision, tasks, and resources required to complete a project. This course covers management techniques to plan, execute and control software development projects. It will provide an introduction to the project management knowledge areas of scope, resource management (time, money, and people), quality control, risk, and communications as well as software specific areas such as estimation and metrics.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the course, student should be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of key project management success factors.
2. Demonstrate knowledge of the project life cycle.
3. Apply project management concepts by working on a project as a project manager.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

This is a capstone class to complete the degree. Students should have data analytic skills (data mining, time series analysis, regression analysis etc.) and research skills (data collection, survey design etc.).

Instructional Methods

Each week learning materials are opened on Monday at 12:00 am in D2L. Online discussion will be conducted based on class schedule. Students will receive a link to vote for the time to meet for online discussion, and the meeting will be held on the day that most students vote to meet. Recorded video will be provided for students who can't attend the online discussion. Questions can be asked via email or during online discussion.

Student Responsibilities/Tips for Success in the Course

1. Students are expected to:
  - a. Read text assignments as scheduled
  - b. Watch tutorial videos as scheduled
  - c. Attend online discussions or watch recorded videos as scheduled

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- d. Collaborate with teammate to finish a group project by the end of semester. Submit your group project in each phrase in the appropriate D2L assignment submission folder.
2. This syllabus is tentative for the semester. Certain topics maybe stressed more or less than indicated in schedule. Depend on class progress, certain topics may be omitted or added.
3. Feedback for each project phrase will be given the next week after its due date. It is highly recommended for all teammates to meet me individually to ask questions.
4. Feel free to ask questions through email or during online discussion. I am accessible 24/7 through these channels even during weekends or holidays. You can ask any questions related to course topics, group projects, and exams and I try to answer them within few hours (maximum 24 hours). In online discussion, you can also try to answer others' questions. But you are expected to maintain etiquette and decency in your responses.
5. Behavior: "All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment." (See Student's Guide Book). During your collaboration with me and your fellow students online or in class, professionalism and respect will be expected. I encourage you to assist one another, but always respect one another's opinion and communicate professionally with each other and with me.
6. Any form of cheating – copying, sharing files, submitting the work of another as your own – is not permitted. Students who participate (as givers/receivers) in any form of cheating will fail the course.
7. Attendance Policy: regular attendance will be taken. There is no penalty for absence but opportunity for any grace points based on class participation will lost if there is too much absence. You are yourself responsible for getting class notes from friends for missed classes due to unavoidable circumstances. However, exams have corresponding due dates which will not be extended for your personal excuses or software issues.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Assignments/Projects	Percentage
Group Project	60%
Midterm Exam	20%
Final Exam	20%

Assessments

Exams: There will be 2 exams during the semester. The exams will be counted as 40% of your final grade. These exams will be open-book, open-note, and open-internet. However, they are not open-neighbor, and you can't discuss with your friends including people who are and aren't taking the class. No late exams will be accepted.

Group Project: You're required to design, implement, and complete a group project in this class. The project can be any business analytic project that you are interested in, but you must make sure that you are able to complete the project with your knowledge and available resources before this semester ends. For instance, if you want to understand what factors lead to individual mobile coupon adoption, you can do so as long as you can provide final results by the end of this semester. On the other hand, if you are interested in understanding the impact of different IT announcements to stock market, but don't have enough data to analyze by the end of this semester, then you should not consider this as the project for this class. No late group projects will be accepted.

AI Use Policy

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in anyway. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
