Program Description

Courses with the “CID” prefix are competency-based courses which can fulfill elective credits within other competency-based degree programs. Students should check with their advisor about the applicability or need for elective courses in a student’s major or support courses.

Regular and Substantive Course Interaction

As a general guide, students enrolled in a three-semester hour course should spend one hour engaged in instructional activities and two to three hours on out-of-class work per week in a traditional semester. Students are expected to double this effort of engagement given that this course is being delivered in a seven-week term. Educational activities in this course are designed to ensure regular and substantive interaction between students and faculty to ensure that students are able to demonstrate competency.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Using the learning management system, using Microsoft Word and PowerPoint, using presentation and graphics programs, ability to watch and listen to video presentations or view through assistive technologies.

Instructional Methods

On the left-hand side of the course, you will see a table of contents view of the course. Before beginning with the content in each module, there is a pre-test available for you to take. This test must be completed before you can continue in the course. This test will help us in several ways, as it provides a potential learning path based on your current knowledge of the subject matter, it allows us to evaluate the effectiveness of our content, and it provides you with a look at what test questions will be like for this course. If you don't know the answer to a question, please do not hesitate to leave it blank. This test will not count for or against you.

The content for this course is divided into multiple modules. Each content module specifically addresses a desired learning outcome for the course.

Please start with the first module CLO1. In each learning outcome, you will find a reading and additional resources for the outcome along with an assessment called a posttest.

You must score an 80 percent or higher on each posttest and project to complete this course. Your first draft of the course project is due 3 days prior to the course end date to allow for review and ratification.

ASSESSMENT

Students must achieve 80% or higher for the both the unit posttests and culminating project to demonstrate competency and pass the course.

Course Pre-test

The purpose of the pre-test is to provide a baseline understanding of your knowledge in this competency. The pre-test is required before you begin studying course materials. If you do not make at least 80% on the pre-test, students will be expected to complete assignments, quizzes, and other course content to prepare for the post-test and culminating project.

Content	Description	Value	Notes
Pre-test	This is the initial assessment for each part of the course to provide a baseline understanding of a student's knowledge of the content and competencies.	0 points	Required before completing any other work in the course. The grade on the pre-test does not count in the final grade for this course.

Unit Post-tests

A brief assessment at the end of each module is intended to emphasize key concepts, theories, processes, etc., introduced in the Learning Objective Module. These end of module post-tests are part of your final grade. Your post-test grades and culminating project are averaged to calculate your final grade. A score of 80% or higher is required on each post-test and project to demonstrate competency.

Content	Description	Value	Notes

If the posttest score is less than 80% within three attempts, students will receive a grade of “F” in the course and will be required to retake the course in the new term. Students who fail the posttest should review feedback from the instructor before reattempting the posttest.
