COURSE INFORMATION

Dates and Times:

This course is 100% online and asynchronous but will require students to meet online together in small groups at mutually agreeable times.

Materials, Textbooks, Supplementary Readings:

The texts are freely accessible through the library. Links will be provided in the course shell.

Course Description:

The purpose of this course is to note how various philosophies have influenced the development of the elementary curriculum in order to meet the changing social and economic trends. Research articles will be studied in order to evaluate a selection of procedures and materials. Practical experiences will be provided in curriculum redesign projects.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Overall Objective: The primary objective of this class is for students to: (1) become more fully aware of best practices in curriculum design and teaching the primary subject areas in elementary schools; (2) employ best practices in their classrooms not previously used; (3) develop an in-depth awareness of one curriculum area in support of the primary curriculum; (4) contrast currently used curriculum design and teaching practices with those recognized as best practices; and (5) recognize how to adjust instructional practices accordingly.

By the conclusion of the term the students will:

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

1. Be knowledgeable of the TEKS/curriculum taught in elementary schools, where they are found, and how they align with state and national standards.
2. Become acquainted with best practices in the major subjects taught in elementary schools.
3. Be familiar with some of the important literature on curriculum development.
4. Develop competencies to teach learning strategies and curriculum for a classroom based on the learning acquired in this course.
5. Develop competencies in planning, writing, and presenting results of research.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Instructional / Methods / Activities Assessments

This course consists of a series of activities and assessments to assist you in achieving the outcomes/objectives for the course and instructional units/modules. During each unit, you will work on various combinations of assignments; worksheets, activities, threaded discussions, readings, literature searches, etc.

1. Adhere to the Code of Conduct. "All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment." (See Student's Guide Handbook, Policies and Procedures).
2. Class Attendance & Participation. You are expected to participate and complete all course assignments and activities during the semester as outlines in the Course Calendar. Assignments submitted late without documentation of an excused university absence will not be accepted.
3. Reflections & Discussions
You will complete your course reading assignments and activities according to the Course Calendar and participate in discussions about your learning. Threaded discussions are designed to encourage communication about your learning and to share your personal experiences. Threaded discussions will be evaluated against a rubric designed to assess both the quantity and quality of your contributions. Your responses will be evaluated using the following rubric: (1) Quantity of your initial response; (2) Quality of your initial response; (3) Quantity of your responses to your team members and (4) Quality of your responses to your team members.
4. Curriculum Redesign. You will redesign a unit of study either 1) using backwards design with the end in mind as developed by Wiggins and McTighe or 2) addressing the hidden curriculum in your current curriculum. You may complete this project based on the curriculum used in your current district. This curriculum redesign needs to be of a quality that you can present to a school or district in order to explain the Understanding by Design concept or to explain how to identify and address the hidden curriculum in the written curriculum your district currently employs.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

GRADING

The following rubric guidelines will be used for wholistic grading for most assignments for the course.

Category	Full Credit (A)	Partial Credit (B/C)	No Credit (F)
Supporting information	Information is clearly stated, comprehensive, and includes required supporting information.	Information is stated, but is unclear.	Information presented does not specifically or comprehensively address the topic.
Evidence and Examples	All responses and examples provided are specific and relevant to the topic.	Most of the responses and/or examples are present, specific and relevant to the topic.	Responses and/or examples are not specific or relevant to the topic.
Sentence Structure	All sentences are well-constructed and information well-organized.	Most of the sentences are well-constructed and organized.	Most sentences are not well-constructed and/or organized.
Capitalization, punctuation and grammar usage	There are no errors in capitalization, punctuation, or grammar usage.	There are one or two errors in capitalization, punctuation, or grammar.	There are several (two or more) errors in capitalization, punctuation, or grammar.

FINAL GRADE IN THE COURSE

Your final grade in this course is based on your performance on all of the requirements and expectations for the class. Some assignments carry more weight than others. Grades on individual assignments are numerical and based on the table below. Grades are recorded in the online grade book.

Activity	Percentage of Final Average
Discussions & Responses to Classmates	15%
Written Assignments/Activities	35%
Final Project: Written Curriculum	30%
Final Project: Presentation & Feedback	20%
Total	100%

Students are responsible to alert instructors of any errors seen in the Gradebook as soon as possible.

Typically, holistic grades are awarded for assignments in this course. The final course grade is converted to a percentage based on the total assignments for the semester. Percentage scores will be used to calculate a final grade on a scale of 91-100% (A), 81-90% (B), 71-80% (C), 61-70% (D), etc.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Master's level writing is expected. If that is a problem for you then email me and we can discuss some links that will help you with your writing.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Late Work.

Specific dates and times are established for every assignment. No late work is accepted without extenuating circumstances approved by the instructor. Students who feel they have an extenuating situation must contact the instructor prior to or during the due date about the circumstance. Work cannot be made up and extra work is not allowed to compensate for missing or later work.

Technology Failure is not an automatic approved excuse for submitting late work. If you experience a technology issue you should: 1. Contact the Tech Support Team and send a copy of the “trouble ticket” to the instructor to document your efforts; 2. Email the assignment directly to the instructor before the due date to document your efforts.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner.
