Course Description:

A study of human musculoskeletal anatomy and principles of biomechanics. Prerequisite BSc 251, or consent of instructor. This course emphasizes the effects of joint structures and muscles on movement while providing an introduction to the principles of biomechanics.

Student Learning Outcomes:

By the end of the course, the successful student should be able to:

1. Explain the importance of biomechanics in the analysis of sport and exercise.
2. Describe Newton's laws of motion and how they apply to exercise and sport.
3. Differentiate between kinetic and kinematic quantities for both linear and angular motion.
4. Apply the correct kinetic or kinematic equation to solve basic word problems in biomechanics.
5. Detail the factors that affect technique improvement and injury development in human movement.
6. Compare qualitative and quantitative techniques for analyzing human movement.
7. Demonstrate how the neuro-musculoskeletal system functions to affect human movement.
8. Apply the biomechanical principles essential for improving performance and reducing injury.
9. Describe how improper technique limits the ability of the human body to produce effective movement.
10. Explain the importance of research in analyzing human movement.

Course Requirements:

Class Participation, Group/ Homework Activities, Quizzes

The student will participate in several class, group, and homework activities throughout the semester. There will be weekly quizzes, typically on Monday, during the first 10 minutes of class. If you are later than 10 minutes to class, you will receive a zero for the quiz. Student participation will be averaged into this category. All attendance and activities will be worth 250 points (or 25% of your final grade).

Late Work / Absences

No late work will be accepted without University accepted exceptions: documented illness, documented death in the family, documented court date. This includes missing classes, quizzes / tests.

Exams:

Students will take 2 tests throughout the semester worth 150 points each. Tests will cover lectures, class activities, and the book. Makeup tests (even for excused cases) will be all essay.

(300 points, 30% of final grade)

DARI Motion Analyses:

DARI Motion equipment and software is used for comparison of motion pattern differences to an existing sport for biomechanical properties of the sport. Many more details will be given regarding this assignment.

(20% of your grade) DARI Motion Analysis Project DUE November 15th, 2024

Laboratory Experiences:

You must attend all labs. All lab write-ups are required and are due dates as indicated by the GTA.

One of our departmental graduate assistants will conduct labs and grade all lab write-ups. Laboratory write-ups will consist of 25% of your final grade in lecture.

Course Grading:

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTSBrowser support

D2L is committed to performing key application testing when new browser versions are released. New and updated functionality is also tested against the latest version of supported browsers. However, due to the frequency of some browser releases, D2L cannot guarantee that each browser version will perform as expected. If you encounter any issues with any of the browser versions listed in the tables below, contact D2L Support, who will determine the best course of action for resolution. Reported issues are prioritized by supported browsers and then maintenance browsers.

Supported browsers are the latest or most recent browser versions that are tested against new versions of D2L products. Customers can report problems and receive support for issues. For an optimal experience, D2L recommends using supported browsers with D2L products.

Maintenance browsers are older browser versions that are not tested extensively against new versions of D2L products. Customers can still report problems and receive support for critical issues; however, D2L does not guarantee all issues will be addressed. A maintenance browser becomes officially unsupported after one year.
