Keep in mind the following: If you are considering purchasing an eText only, you need to remember that our online quizzes are 'open book' quizzes, and you may not be able to access your eText while taking a quiz. You will need to have a printed version of the textbook if you wish to be able to access your textbook while taking a quiz.

VERY IMPORTANT NOTE: If, for whatever reason, you are unable to lease or purchase your required textbook (your own copy) AND HAVE IT IN YOUR POSSESSION before the first day of class, you will need to drop this course and take it during a term when you will be able to have the textbook at the start of the semester. You are expected to have the textbook on the first day of class, and you will be using it immediately.

Course Description

This course will examine the variables which affect the perceptions, beliefs, and behaviors of the microcultures which comprise our population. This course will include, but will not be limited to, culture as a function of socioeconomic status, religion, gender, language, age, exceptionality, geographical origins, and ethnicity. Additionally, as a Global Course, this course will include information relating to these issues in a global context.

Student Learning Outcomes

The following are the standard course objectives: The student is expected to be able to:

1. Identify and explore educational and social assumptions, issues, and initiatives relating to cultural diversity.
2. Apply information related to psychological and sociological research on diversity to decision-making and best practices in educational and other settings.
3. Extend concepts learned in this course to global issues, and describe the relationship between domestic concepts of diversity (racial, ethnic, gender, sexual orientation, religious, language, geographical, socioeconomic status) and global issues such as population growth, economic systems, ecology and the climate, immigration, international and civil conflicts, terrorism, communication and technology, manufacturing and industrialization, weapons containment, etc.
4. Practice research methods using available electronic databases to seek and access research-based information relating to multicultural awareness.
5. Develop writing skills using APA Writing Style, including the correct usage and formatting of APA Style citations and references.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Research Participation

A goal of this class is to help you become familiar with psychological research. One way to obtain this goal is to have you participate in research studies. Participating in research studies contributes to students and faculty at A&M - Commerce, your understanding of how research is conducted, and human knowledge in general. All students in this class will be required to participate in the psychology department's participant pool or complete alternative assignments (see me for more information on alternative assignments).

Students must complete a total of 6 experiment credits. However, if you complete your first 4 experiment credits without any "no-shows" you will receive 2 free punctual participant credits. In other words, if you show up to your experiments on time you will only need to complete 4 experiment credits. When you first sign into the experiment management system (EMS) you will be asked to take a prescreen. The prescreen takes about 20 minutes to complete. If you complete the prescreen in the first two weeks of the semester you will receive ½ free experiment credit. This can be combined with later experiments that are worth ½ credit. If you fail to complete this portion of the class your grade will be lowered by one full grade. In effect, if you have an 'A' in the class but fail to complete your research participation (either through participating in research studies, alternative assignments, or a mixture of both) your final grade in the class will be a 'B.' More information about participating in research, such as how to log in to the EMS, is given at the end of this syllabus.

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

- Using the learning management system (D2L)
- Using Microsoft Word and PowerPoint
- Using general Internet search engines (i.e. Google.com, Yahoo.com) to locate research related to topics
- Accessing and using the Texas A&M University-Commerce Library electronic databases

Instructional Methods

Your course is delivered to you fully online, using the LMS (MyLeoOnline/D2L/Brightspace) instructional system that is available to you through Texas A&M University-Commerce. There are no on-campus meetings of this class. "LMS" refers to learning management system, and the names "MyLeoOnline", "D2L", and "Brightspace" are all names that refer to the one online learning management system that TAMUC is currently using for all web-based courses. In this syllabus, sometimes you will see the LMS referred to as MyLeoOnline, and sometimes it will be referred to as D2L or Brightspace or your LMS website.

Video and textual lecture summaries and other supplemental course materials will be posted in D2L. Students will use these materials with the assigned reading to prepare for course assessments. Assessments will include quizzes, exams, and participation in online discussions. This online course contains the same content you'd expect in a traditional 15-week face-to-face version. You should plan on spending approximately 6-10 hours per week reading, viewing course content, completing course assignments, and participating in discussions.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Student Responsibilities

This is not a self-paced course. There is a very specific and scheduled format that you will follow for the course. All assignments and quizzes are to be completed according to the posted schedule. You are required to complete all assignments, quizzes, and other course requirements. You may not skip any assignments. Assignments that are submitted past the deadline dates that are listed in the D2L topic assignment guidelines must still be submitted; however, they will be submitted for partial credit, or no credit if they are submitted very late.

You will need to sign online daily to check your campus email.

You will need to sign onto your PSY 310 D2L website almost every day to work on this course.

New topics will generally open every few days, and the schedule for the topics is on the last page of this syllabus. Posting topics may vary some at the instructor's discretion. Basically, you need to sign on almost every day, and will be addressing new topics/discussions/assignments every few days. A more detailed day-by-day schedule appears later in this syllabus. Print out this syllabus and make several copies of the last page, so that you will know exactly what we are doing, and when we are doing it, throughout the semester. There is no reason to ever feel uninformed or 'lost' about your schedule of assignments and quizzes.

All class components are completed online on our course website, or via email with other students and the instructor. There are no face-to-face class sessions, nor are students required to go to one of our campuses. Students are required to have access to a computer with internet access and email, and are required to have in their possession at all times the course textbook (purchase or lease).

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

We cover a tremendous amount of information each week, therefore, participation at a high level is very critical to your performance in this course. ALL students are expected to be 100% active in participating throughout the course. You will not have the option of "going AWOL" for a few days. When it relates to attendance and participation, it's as simple (and demanding) as this:

- Check the PSY 310 D2L website regularly.
- Interact with your classmates regularly.
- Get your assignments done early and on time.
- If you are "absent"/not participating for a couple of days for an excused reason (see student handbook or instructor for detailed explanation of excused absences), you will be able to make up your work (daily participation assignment, projects, or exams). You will have to produce documentation for your excused absence, and make arrangements immediately upon missing class. You will have a few days to make up any missed work if it's an excused absence and approved by the instructor.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Assignments, projects, or exams that are missed due to an unexcused absence may not be made up.

It is each student's responsibility to communicate honestly and frequently with the instructor about any circumstances that prevent the student from participating, and result in a temporary period of inactivity. Do NOT simply stop participating or drop out of the course. If you are not actively involved, it needs to be for reasons that are serious and cannot be avoided, and when that occurs, communicate immediately with your instructor by email.

IMPORTANT NOTE: ALL STUDENTS MUST COMPLETE ALL ASSIGNMENTS, and ALL PARTS OF ALL ASSIGNMENTS, TO REMAIN ENROLLED IN PSY319! If you turn in an assignment after the stated deadline for that assignment, you will be submitting it for partial credit only, but it must still be submitted. Partial credit is better than a grade of zero. There are no assignments that are "optional". The sooner you submit the assignment after the deadline, the fewer points deducted for late submission. It is very important to submit every assignment before the stated deadline. If you are submitting an assignment more than a week after the original due date, then the assignment might not be accepted for any credit, and you will be at risk of being dropped from PSY319 for lack of participation. If you are submitting an assignment past the deadline, it is REALLY IMPORTANT to communicate with the instructor right away, at the point at which you realize that the assignment will be late, and then make arrangements for submitting it as soon as possible.

Excessive 'absences'/lack of participation can result in being dropped from the class, whether those absences or excused or unexcused.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS IN THIS COURSE

1. Be sure to always read all the emails that you receive from your instructor.
2. Keep a calendar in a location where you check it each day. On your calendar, write the course quiz dates and other topic assignment deadlines as you learn them each week.
3. Purchase a spiral notebook and keep it near your computer as you work. Take notes as you read online lectures. Take notes as you read your classmates' posts. No one can reasonably expect to keep all of the information and names and content in the memory--that would be a very poor study habit, and will keep you from doing well. Instead, use that spiral notebook as a study tool for success. Make notes as often as possible. Then, before and after each online session (an online session refers to each time you sign online), review what you have written in the spiral notebook, reminding yourself of what you have covered, posts to which you wish to respond, information that you have found on various course-related websites, etc. Your spiral notebook will then become a valuable resource for down the line as well...long after you have completed the course. If you pursue a career in teaching, then the spiral notebook is something to which you may refer for years to come.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

C = 70%-79%

D = 60%-69%

F = 59% or Below

Weights of the assessments in the calculation of the final letter grade:

Research Participation = 100 pts = 10%

Quizzes- 3 quizzes x 200 pts = 600 pts = 60%

Discussions = 6 topic discussion grades x 50 pts = 300 pts = 30%

TOTAL = 100%

Assessments

QUIZZES (200 pts each)

There are 3 non-cumulative quizzes, each worth 200 points, for a total of 600 points (60% of your grade). Quizzes will contain objective questions over material that is presented in the textbook and online lectures. Multiple choice format will be used. You will take these quizzes online, on our course website, and they will be timed. You will have a certain period of time in which you are able to take the quizzes, and you will have to complete each quiz in the designated period. You will be able to use your textbooks when you take each quiz; however, because they are timed, you will find that you MUST read and learn the material thoroughly prior to taking the quizzes. If you try to take a quiz without having read and studied the material, you will run out of time as you try to look up each answer. You will find that you will fail the quizzes if you try to do that. The requirement to read and study the material is the same for both web-based courses and face-to-face classes. Even though the quizzes are "open book", they will be challenging, and you will not have much time to answer each question. Don't make the mistake of ignoring this requirement (to complete the readings prior to each quiz), or you will find that you start the semester with a low grade, and that will impact your overall semester average.

Each quiz is open for 24 hours on the day that they are due. The quizzes open at 12:00 am CT and are due at 11:59 pm CT on the due date (see topic schedule).

Research Participation (100 pts)

Students must complete a total of 6 experiment credits. However, if you complete your first 4 experiment credits without any "no-shows" you will receive 2 free punctual participant credits. In other words, if you show up to your experiments on time you will only need to complete 4

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

experiment credits. If you do not complete the full research participation requirement, your grade will be docked 1 full grade letter grade.

Discussion Posts (50 pts each)

There will be 6 discussion posts, worth 50 points each, for a total of 30% of your overall grade in the course.

Discussion posts will be submitted under “Discussions” in D2L. This means you will be able to read and comment on other students’ essays, but you are not required to comment on them. Posts should include insightful ideas and comments that are complete and well explained as well as defended by specific evidence. Carefully read the discussion Assignments for each Topic before submitting your post. Some assignments require a reply to a classmate as well.

Posts must demonstrate that the student has reviewed, understood, and contemplated the material from the chapter and other assigned readings. You may include information from other chapters and outside knowledge but it must be cited appropriately. However, if you ONLY cite outside sources, then I will assume that you have not read the required readings for the course. In short, outside info is encouraged but not required. You must show me what you learned in THIS course too.

If the discussion post contains multiple parts, be sure to address each. All Discussion posts are due at 11:59 pm CT on the due date (see topic schedule).

Essays will be graded using the following rubric:

5 = Excellent: well written with lots of good ideas that are all well-defended by references to the course content.

4 = Good/complete: essays with some good ideas and references to the course content. Note that this is a passing grade and not one you should be upset about. However, it means that I think you can take your essay to the “next level” if you add more content and dig deeper into your ideas. You will receive feedback on this and typically some examples or pointers to how you could accomplish this.

1-3 = Insufficient: essays with incorrect or insufficient information. Missing or minimal references to the course content. Note that this is a failing grade and beneath the expectations of a graduate student. You will receive feedback on why your essay did not meet the course standards.

0 = Missing: you did not complete the assignment by the due date.

Grades in between these categories (e.g., 4.5) may also be used if warranted.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

Attendance: The course attendance policy has been described in detail in this Syllabus.

Missing a quiz: The three quizzes must be taken on the dates on which they are scheduled. See the Course Syllabus timeline on the last page to note the quiz dates. Make up quizzes will ONLY be administered to students who miss the quiz for a university-approved reason (i.e., extreme illness requiring a visit to the doctor or hospital, death in the family, court-mandated appointment). Official documentation (i.e., doctor's or hospital note, funeral notice or obituary, court document) must be submitted to instructor before a makeup quiz will be administered. If you miss a quiz, you are responsible for contacting the instructor on the day of or before the day of the quiz. Not feeling well, having a child who is not feeling well (except for extreme illness requiring doctor's visit, of course), having to work, having other course work or other course exams, forgetting to take the quiz, having technical or computer issues (always have a backup plan for computer and internet access), etc. are not university-approved reasons for missing a quiz, and a makeup quiz will not be administered for these reasons.

Extra credit: "Extra credit" is not offered for PSY 310. During the semester, every student will have the opportunity to receive "bonus (or "freebie") points" for various assignments and on each quiz. Sometimes there are requirements to be eligible to receive "freebie points". Always be sure to read each topic's Assignment Instructions very carefully. Please do not contact the instructor to request individual extra credit assignments or opportunities over and beyond those that are made available to all students during the semester.

University Specific Procedures

Academic Integrity

Students at Texas A&M University-Commerce are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all of their scholastic work. For more details and the definition of academic dishonesty see the following procedures:

INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT RELATING TO ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic Honesty and Integrity: I cannot emphasize the following enough or too much. Far too many students are "finding out the hard way" that instructors and the university are extremely serious about our policies relating to academic integrity and honesty, and this is true in both web-based and face-to-face classes. Each environment has its own set of security needs, and these are addressed by instructors in various ways. In the simplest of terms, NEVER engage in any behavior or practice that is dishonest or misleading in any way. You must ALWAYS do your work and only your own work. NEVER have another student do work for you and then present it as your own. NEVER agree to do another student's work, and NEVER do another student's work. NEVER copy information from an internet source or another source, online and otherwise, and present it as your own.

NEVER take an online quiz/exam with another student or individual present (in person or by phone, cell phone, online, or in any other way!). You must take your exams by yourself, alone. You are NEVER to be in communication with another person during the time when you take a test, by any means (in person, or by any other method). NEVER have another student take part or all of an online quiz for you. You must always do your own work, no exceptions.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

NEVER have another student complete a part or all of an assignment for you. This is academic dishonesty, and you will not only be removed from this course, you will have additional consequences in terms of your enrollment, etc. What most students do not understand, but are beginning to understand, is that web-based instructional technology is advancing at a rapid rate, and the instructional software/delivery systems (such as MyLeoOnline/D2L, what you are using right now) are VERY sophisticated in terms of being able to monitor student involvement, practices, etc. There are many "check systems" that exist within this learning environment, and therefore, you will want to take seriously the guidelines relating to academic honesty. This course is built so that, if you take your commitment to the course seriously, and read and study the required material, as well as participate in the online discussions, you should do very well in acquiring the information that you need not only to do well in this course, but also to prepare you for a career in teaching or elsewhere.

There is absolutely no room for unethical and unprofessional conduct in this class, and it will not be tolerated. Keep in mind that your quizzes in this course are open book, and therefore, you will be able to complete the exams on your own, with the help of your textbook (not another person!).

TAMUC Attendance

For more information about the attendance policy please visit the Attendance webpage.

Artificial Intelligence

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, Chatbots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.
