Course Description

A survey of the visual arts throughout the Western and Non-western world from prehistory to the fifteenth century. Both the form and content of major works of art will be examined in relation to their social and cultural contexts.

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. To gain an understanding of the visual arts as an expression of human insight, imagination, and technological achievement.
2. To see the ways in which art reflects or communicates social, political, ideological, and religious values and constructions.
3. To understand the development of the visual arts against the patterns and chronology of human history.
4. To learn themes and meanings embodied in works of art.
5. To recognize the interconnections between art and other expressions of human activity, such as literature, science, economics, music, and theatre.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed Using D2L Brightspace learning management system, Microsoft Word, Microsoft PowerPoint, or Google Slides.

Course Instruction Methods and Student Expectations: This course requires regular class attendance, completion of weekly readings/videos, and written assignments. Assignments include visual style guides and exams.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

In this course you'll be reading and engaging with works of art from antiquity to modernity across regions and cultures. While your primary text in this course will be the Gardner textbook, you will also read articles and watch videos from other websites to help supplement your understanding of a particular work of art or place/time-period. You are expected to engage critically with the ideas and themes you encounter in the readings and class discussions. As you make your way through the modules and class discussions, consider how art historians make sense of works of art, how cultural context and historical background play a role in how we understand and relate to art today.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Here are some tips for actively engaging with the reading each week:

-Pre-read and look for the organization of ideas first. You can do this by scanning the text, chapter subheadings and specific topics discussed in text boxes.

-Underline/Highlight passages you find interesting or important.

-Circle words you want to look up or people who seem important- look at the citations and find artists/researchers/educators researching similar topics.

-Write thoughts or questions in the margins (unless it's a library book).

-After reading the chapter or article, look through again to reflect on the case author made.

-Do you agree or disagree with argument or theory?

-Write down questions you still have or thoughts that are fresh in your mind.

Please communicate with me if you have questions about the course or you are confused about assignments/expectations throughout the semester. My goal is to support you to be a thoughtful, critical student and artist. Please feel free to email me or stop by office hours on Tuesdays. I will do my best to address emails within 24 hours from Monday to Thursday. (See interaction with instructor statement).

GRADING

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 89.5-100%

B = 79.5 -89%

C = 69.5-79%

D = 59.5-69%

F = 59.5 or Below

Assessments

Comparative Analysis Paper- 20% - Due Oct. 8th

Contextual Analysis Paper- 20% - Due Dec. 5th

Art History Test #1- 20% -Due Sept. 26th

Art History Test #2- 20% - Due Oct. 22nd

Art History Test #3- 20% - Due Nov. 26th

Optional Make up Test to replace the lowest grade = 20%

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

The Comparative Analysis Paper:

In this paper, you will choose two works of art and evaluate how subject, and style were used together to reflect the beliefs and values of the cultures in artworks and architecture of the time. In your response, discuss how the subject and style of specific works of art or architecture reflect a culture's beliefs and values. Compare and contrast specific examples from 2 of the following cultures:

- Pre-historic
- Ancient Near East
- Egypt
- South & South Asia before 1200
- China to 1279
- Japan before 1333
- Native American Art before 1300
- Africa before 1800

(SEE D2L Module for more specifics on formatting)

Tips for getting started:

-Review The Introduction chapter in Gardner's Art Through the Ages (see definitions of subject matter and style).

-Consider some of the works (in lecture and in videos) we've discussed in class. How have art historians analyzed these works on the context of the cultural beliefs and values where they were created?

-Choose a work of art from the following chapters above.

-Review: https://smarthistory.org/introduction-to-art-historical-analysis/#:~:text=Subject%20matter%20%2F%20iconography&text=Much%20art%20is%20representational%20\(i.e.,the%20interpretation%20of%20its%20meaning.

The Contextual Analysis Paper:

It is important to understand the cultural environment in which a piece of art is produced, your thematic essay we will explore the importance of cultural context. See What is Contextual Analysis? Select one (1) work of artwork or structure that dates from Antiquity to the Gothic or a Non-Western before 1200.

- Include the image, title, date and artist if known of the artworks and/or structures you select.
 - Double-check that the dates of creation for the artworks/structures you choose date from the eras covered in class.
 - Include images at the end of the document.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

- Discuss the history, politics, society, religion, education and/or economics of the time that inspired and/or influenced the artwork you selected. You may want to consider who commissioned the artwork and why.
- Identify specific elements of the selected artwork that provide visual evidence to support claims made about its historical context.
- In each essay, incorporate vocabulary terms in your analysis making sure to point out and explain how the artwork exhibits that characteristic. Make sure to discuss the formal properties of each artwork (line, color, pattern, media, etc.) and how those design features relate to the historical context of the artwork.
 - See Formal Analysis - Elements of Art/Principles of Design
 - See Writing About Art

Art History Tests:

You will have four art history tests in this course that will assess your knowledge and understanding of the content from textbook chapters and lectures. (all will be administered online on D2L). The tests will remain open on D2L only for 12 hours on the class day they are assigned. We will not meet for class on test days, which means you can take the test from home or the testing center (as long as you have WIFI and Internet access).

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Course Specific Procedures/Policies

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Academic dishonesty: Instructors are required use of Turnitin.com for written assessment to help with plagiarism. Please note that all assignments (except for the presentations) will be submitted via D2L.

PLAGIARISM: Taking credit for someone else's words, ideas, art works and lesson plans etc without giving them credit constitutes plagiarism. Plagiarism is a serious matter at this university and will be treated as such. Plagiarized work will receive a zero, a warning and may be reported to the department.

There is zero tolerance for academic dishonesty in this class. Be sure that you understand what constitutes academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism, cheating on exams, theft of instructional material or exams, representing the work of someone else as one's own, etc.). All work submitted in this course must be original to you and to this semester. You may not re-submit previous assignments or work with other students on assignments (submit the same or similar work via Turn it in). All work must be paraphrased and properly cited using APA or Chicago Style citations. Please do not copy and paste from outside sources.

Academic dishonesty is a severe transgression in college and may result in referral to the Dean of Students, dismissal from class, expulsion from the University, and a failing grade.

Academic Integrity

Students at Texas A&M University-Commerce are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all of their scholastic work. For more details and the definition of academic dishonesty see the following procedures:

Late Work Policy

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Late submissions will receive a 1/2 letter grade deduction for each day submitted late and will not be accepted after three (3) days past the deadline. See course schedule and the course schedule below for deadlines. If assignments are submitted three days past the deadline, they will NOT be graded for credit. All assignments must be completed and turned in before 11:59pm on the day it is due.

If you experience an emergency, or something prevents you from completing a discussion or submitting an assignment, an email notification must be sent to the instructor BEFORE the deadline. documentation of circumstance may be required. See course schedule for assignment deadlines.

University Specific Procedures

Student Conduct

Classroom Etiquette: CELL PHONE USE IS NOT PERMITTED IN THE CLASSROOM. Please do not use headphones or earbuds while class is in session. If you need to take an emergency phone call or text, please excuse yourself and take this out in the hallway or after/before class time.

Please be mindful and respectful of others in the classroom, this includes listening quietly and attentively to others when they are speaking, not interrupting another student or the professor. While the freedom to express yourself is a fundamental human right, any communication that utilizes cruel and derogatory language based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex and sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, veteran status or any other characteristic protected under law will not be tolerated.

In all communication including email and discussion groups please adhere to the following guidelines:

Use of profanity, slang or racial slurs is unacceptable and NOT permitted.

Ask for and use the correct pronouns when addressing other students and instructor. Speak from personal experience using "I think" statements. Try not to speak for entire groups of people or on behalf of other's experiences.

Be mindful of tone, keep it professional and respectful of others.

Avoid jokes, as they may not come across as such by others. Any behavior that is deemed disruptive by the instructor may result in a student being asked to leave class, and continued disruptions may also result in expulsion from the class.

All students enrolled at the University shall follow the tenets of common decency and acceptable behavior conducive to a positive learning environment. The Code of Student Conduct is described in detail in the Student Guidebook.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

TAMUC Attendance

Attendance: This class takes place in-person on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:00-3:15PM. Regular class attendance is expected. It is the responsibility of each student to monitor their attendance. Each student in this course is allowed five (5) absences. If you will be absent, please email the instructor and let them know you will not be attending class. You do not need to explain why you will be absent or to provide a formal accommodation for three absences throughout the semester.

When a student accrues more than five (5) absences the instructor has the prerogative to drop the student 1 letter grade for each absence exceeding 5.

For example, 6 absences will drop an "A" to a "B" and so forth. Note: It is the student's responsibility to sign the attendance sheet each class and keep track of your absences. If your signature is not on the sign-in sheet, you are considered absent. If you forget to sign in or come in more than 15 minutes late for class, you are absent. No, you cannot show the professor you were in class on a later date if you forgot to sign in. NO EXCEPTIONS. The only exception where additional absences beyond 5 may be excused: (1) participation in preapproved University activities such as athletic events, sponsored field trips, and travel for specific University-related academic reasons; (2) verifiable legal proceedings; and (3) cases of severe illness, injury, or emergencies. Documentation will be required.

AI use policy [Draft 2, May 25, 2023]

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
