Course Description

Concepts and principles of breeding, feeding and management of beef cattle in the United States. A survey of the past, present and future ideas of the beef cattle industry.

Prerequisites: ANS 1319 Introduction to Animal Science and Junior standing

Student Learning Outcomes

Students successfully completing the course should be able to:

1. Recognize the major beef breeds, how they could be classified according to biological types and consider how their strengths/weaknesses could be used in both straight bred and crossbreeding program.
2. Know definitions of the most common EPDs used in beef cattle breeding and know how to properly use them.
3. Understand estrous cycle and how synchronization protocols control or manipulate the cycle.
4. Describe the key components or considerations of a beef cattle diet or ration during different phases of beef cattle production.
5. Know common diseases/parasites of beef cattle and how to control or prevent through vaccinations and deworming.
6. Know the characteristics and qualities of a beef carcass that determine carcass value.
7. Complete Texas Beef Quality Producer Program.

COURSE OVERVIEW

Course material

Course material will be provided in lecture and lab. Lecture notes and supplemental material will be provided in the course shell online (D2L).

Lab

We will try to work with beef cattle as much as possible through the semester according to the farm schedule. This may include vaccinations, deworming, branding, etc.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Calf watches which have traditionally been offered to ANS 317 students will be made available to students in ANS 412 this semester.

COURSE SPECIFIC PROCEDURES/POLICIES

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

General Guidelines

1. Attentiveness in class is suggested but not required. However, if you choose otherwise, do not:
 - a. Talk to your neighbors
 - b. Use an electronic device or text

Attendance/Lateness

Attendance is expected and will be taken at the beginning of class. Future opportunities such as potential extra credit assignments may be based on attendance.

Lab attendance is required and points will be given or earned for each lab.

Exams

3-4 exams will be given throughout the semester including the comprehensive final. Questions will include T/F, multiple choice, matching, short answer, and fill in the blank. In addition, each exam may include a "take-home" or project based section. Instructions and due dates for the additional work will be provided. Any take-home or project section for the final will be given at a minimum of 7 days prior to the due date for the final.

All students are to take the in-class exams at the time they are scheduled unless you have a great excuse. If a makeup is written it may be more difficult, not easier, for the student.

Tentative Dates:

- 1) Wednesday September 18th
- 2) Monday October 14th
- 3) Monday November 11th
- 4) Final: Wednesday December 9th 8:00 A.M.

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

Quizzes

Online quizzes will be given regularly throughout the semester both in class and online. At a minimum, it is expected a quiz will be given every week.

Assignments

Homework Assignments may be given occasionally throughout the semester. Labs may have additional homework preceding or following a lab. Lab reports may also be given depending on the lab.

In addition, all students will be required to complete the Texas BQA.

Texas Beef Quality Producer Program

- Every student will take the Texas BQA training online and become certified by the end of the course.
- <http://www.texasbeefquality.com>
- Completion of the program will result in a certificate that will be sent to the instructor for credit.

Due Dates/Late or Missing Work

Due dates for exams/quizzes/assignments will be given during class, posted on the D2L course page, and by email. If a student is unable to meet the due date, they must contact the instructor prior to seek accommodations.

All students are to take the in-class exams at the time they are scheduled unless you have a great excuse or made prior arrangements with the instructor. If an exam is given at a different time, an alternative makeup exam may be more difficult, not easier, for the student.

The student must take responsibility to notify the instructor in a timely matter for consideration and accommodation due to school activities, emergencies, or other circumstances. Validation may be required.

Late Work: Late work may be turned in before the following class period for 50% deduction.

Grading

Final grades in this course will be based on the following scale:

A = 90%-100%

B = 80%-89%

The syllabus/schedule are subject to change.

C = 70%-79%
D = 60%-69%
F = 59% or Below

COURSE SPECIFIC PROCEDURES/POLICIES/REQUIREMENTS

University Pandemic Statement

A&M-Commerce requires the use of face-coverings in all instructional and research classrooms/laboratories. Exceptions may be made by faculty where warranted. Faculty have management over their classrooms. Students not using face-coverings can be required to leave class. Repetitive refusal to comply can be reported to the Office of Students' Rights and Responsibilities as a violation of the student Code of Conduct.

Students should not attend class when ill or after exposure to anyone with a communicable illness. Communicate such instances directly with your instructor. Faculty will work to support the student getting access to missed content or completing missed assignments.

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

Students will need to be able to access and use the course online platform for the University, D2L. They may also need to have access and be able to use Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, or comparable programs.

Instructional Methods

The material for this course will be primarily given by both recorded video lectures and lecture handouts typically in PDF format.

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

AI use policy

Texas A&M University-Commerce acknowledges that there are legitimate uses of Artificial Intelligence, ChatBots, or other software that has the capacity to generate text, or suggest replacements for text beyond individual words, as determined by the instructor of the course.

Any use of such software must be documented. Any undocumented use of such software constitutes an instance of academic dishonesty (plagiarism).

Individual instructors may disallow entirely the use of such software for individual assignments or for the entire course. Students should be aware of such requirements and follow their instructors' guidelines. If no instructions are provided the student should assume that the use of such software is disallowed.

In any case, students are fully responsible for the content of any assignment they submit, regardless of whether they used an AI, in any way. This specifically includes cases in which the AI plagiarized another text or misrepresented sources.
