Course Description: Theory III is the third in a four-semester sequence which examines the notational, harmonic, and compositional practices of the Western art-music tradition. This course emphasizes the development of analytical and compositional skills, with particular focus on the music of the Common Practice Era (CPE), specifically music of the Romantic era.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to accomplish the following in each category:

Chromatic Principles

- Construct and identify secondary dominant chords, leading tone chords.
- Diatonic Modulation to closely related keys
- Binary Form, Ternary Form, Fugue and Invention
- Modal Mixture
- Neapolitan Sixth Chords and Augmented Sixth Chords

- Chromatic Voice-Leading, Chromatic Modulation
- Sonata Form, Rondo Form, Fugue, Sonatina, Vocal and Popular Forms
- Demonstrate, through composition and analysis, an understanding of chromatic harmony and form.
- Demonstrate, through composition and analysis, an understanding of common-practice functional harmony and form.

Composition

- Compose original works in a chorale style, and simple keyboard style

Course Requirements:

All Homework needs to be

- Completed in pencil
- Use Legible, readable, tidy handwriting
- Scanned AS A SINGLE PDF
- UPLOADED to D2L
- By the due date listed in D2L.

Homework is to be turned in during class on the day on which it is due.

Late assignments will not be accepted for credit unless a previous arrangement (more than 24 hours) has been made with the instructor. Homework not meeting the guidelines above will be graded as a zero.

Cheating will result in failure of the course. Often it may be helpful for students to work on homework assignments with a partner, or in groups. When done correctly, this can serve as a proven method for success for students who may be struggling with a particular concept in class. However, take care that the completed assignment reflects your own understanding of the material, and is not merely a copy of a classmate or colleague's work. Doing so will help to ensure that your work efforts in the class are both fruitful (reflecting the very purpose of homework) and intellectually honest.

Several Exams will be given during the semester – usually three, but sometimes four. Specific information as to exam content will be provided at least a week before the exam is administered.

Quiz content is assigned and completed online using Inquisitive.

Failure to do Inquisitive by the due date will result in a zero on the quiz.

Failure to complete Inquisitive is often the number one reason students perform poorly

The Final Project for this course will consist of a short, original composition for solo piano. The composition will make use of the periodic phrase structure discussed in class in addition to the standard harmonic and voice-leading practices of the CPE. Additional information regarding length and specific content will be provided during the semester.

As a student, you are fully responsible for knowing and finding the content of every class that has been delivered in a lecture by an instructor, no matter what.

Unless they are the result of a medical or family emergency, excused absences (as defined by the Catalog) need to be arranged beforehand with the instructor. Each student is allowed up to three unexcused absences over the course of the semester.

Additional unexcused absences result in the lowering of the final grade until being dropped from the course due to absences. (6 TOTAL ABSENCES ALLOWED, excused and/or unexcused)

Cell Phone/Laptop Policy:

Cell phones in your bag, on silent.
No computers in class

Why? Academic Research continues to show that, despite the myriad of benefits that technology offers, using your hands to take notes is the best way to facilitate memory, attention, and learning. We will follow this research in the classroom.

Note Bene: The study of music theory is an essential and important component of the developing musician's education. Far from being just another "required course," music theory forms the foundation of nearly all higher-ed courses in music, which is a reason for its placement at the very start of undergraduate music studies. Theory is also a subject where the concepts are presented sequentially, each leading to the next. As such, it is imperative that you, the student, be proactive if you are having issues with a particular topic. Do not wait in frustration; ask a question in class, seek me out before or after class, or e-mail me to set up a time to meet individually.
