Course Description

Marketing Research. Three semester hours. This course emphasizes the analysis of marketing research information as an aid to decision making. It will provide students with a working knowledge of the analytical tools available to market researchers and managers. Techniques of data collection, evaluation of alternative sources of information, and the methods for evaluating data and presenting results are covered. The course also deals with how to define information needs, the use of test marketing procedures and the role of models in decision making.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLO)

1. Identify the strength and weakness of three types of research design: exploratory research, descriptive research and causal research.
2. Design survey questionnaire.
3. Identify the appropriate sampling frame and collect data.
4. Apply basic univariate and multivariate data analysis techniques.
5. Translate a marketing problem into a feasible research question and use statistical methods to test your research hypotheses.
6. Interpret the results based on statistical tests.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Minimal Technical Skills Needed

The course requires the use of the learning management system (D2L), and the use of Microsoft Word, Excel and PowerPoint to conduct assignments and presentations.

Instructional Methods

The course will use a combination of lecture ppts, videos and online discussions. All course materials are put under doc sharing in D2L.

Student Responsibilities or Tips for Success in the Course

Regularly logging into the course website is required. Students should check their emails frequently to receive notifications and updates of course processes. Although the professor will send reminder emails when an assignment is due, it is your responsibility to meet all deadlines. It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that all notifications and materials sent to the professor are received by the professor. You should plan your time carefully.

Deadlines are absolute:

Deadline is absolute. Missed assignments and exams will result in 0 points. Under exceptional conditions, a late assignment maybe accepted with the permission from the professor. However, under no circumstances will an assignment be accepted more than one week late.

Email Policy:

When you send me email, be sure to include the course title (MKT436) and section number in the subject line. I receive more than 50 emails a day. To ensure that your email reaches my inbox and reduce confusions, do include your course title and section number in your email subject line.

Students are required to check their email at least once a day. The eCollege environment will be used for class related material and document posting so the students are expected and required to have access to that platform.

Academic Honesty Policy

Students are required to sign and return the academic honesty policy document during the first week of the class. Any form of cheating is not allowed or tolerated in this class and will be reported to the college and graduate school. The cheating includes but is not limited to: copying, lying, copying from another's assignment or test, changing the answers on an exam or assignment for re-grade, assisting another student in doing dishonest behavior.

GRADING

Your grade will be determined by your performance on two exams, one individual assignment, class participation, and group projects. The point distribution for the course is as follows:

Assignments	Points	Relating to Outcome
Academic Honesty Policy	Pass/fail
Class attendance @10 points each	40	1,2,3,4,5,6
5 Discussions @ 40 points each	200	1,2,3,4,5,7
Exam 1	130	1,2,3,4,5,6
Exam 2	150	1,2,3,4,5,6
Exam 3	120	1,2,3,4,5,6
2 Individual Assignments @50 points each	100	1,2,3,4,5,6
Group Projects @ 120 points each	120	5,6
Total Points	880

Your final grade is your total points earned divided by the course's total points. The following scale will be used to assign final grades:

SCORE	$\geq 90$	80-89.9	70-79.9	60-69.9	$< 60$
GRADE	A	B	C	D	F

Introduction and Academic Honesty Document

Please sign the academic honesty document and introduce yourself to your classmate in student lounge by week 1. You should include at least the following information (not exhaustive though): your name, major, your school status (full/part, year). This is to help you get familiar with your classmates.

Class participation

Class participation contributes 40 points to the course grade. Students should come to class prepared to discuss the required readings and assignments.

Class participation includes both attendance and participation. For presence, if a student misses more than 3 classes, the participation grade will be zero. And students who repeatedly arrive late to the lecture will lose up to 60% of points.

For participation, it is understandable that students have different levels of comfort regarding speaking in class. Therefore, participation will be counted as speaking to the whole group, in smaller groups, and completing in-class activities. If you are fully engaged in at least two of those three activities, you will earn full points.

Group Work

Please follow the group project instructions carefully. Please form your group at your earliest convenience. By the end of week 6, you should find a group to join in. If not, I will assign you randomly to a group. Each group can have at most 3 group members.

The grade is based on the final report regardless how many students do the project. If your group has any issues regarding the performance of any group member, please notify me at least one week ahead of deadline so that I can eliminate certain group members.

Exams.

Three exams will be given during the semester. These exams will cover textbook readings, lecture material, videos, and even possible guests' lectures. Basically, you are responsible for all of the material presented in the class. There is no make-up exam. Each exam time limit is approximately 2.5 hours. You will not be able to print exams. Exams are not resettable. Access to the exams will be restricted after the due date.
