Course Information

Course Description

MUS 152 Principal Applied. One to four semester hours (but 2 credits for 50-minutes of instruction weekly is typical for music majors). Private instruction for music majors in keyboard, voice, instruments, or composition. This course includes recitals and performance forums with teacher-directed student evaluations and instructions. May be repeated for credit.

MUS 352, 353, 453 Principal Applied. One to four semester hours (but 2 credits for 50-minutes of instruction weekly is typical for music majors). Private instruction for advanced music majors [post JLPE completion] in keyboard, voice, instruments, or composition. This course includes recitals and performance forums with teacher directed student evaluations and instructions. All students must pass the upper division barrier examination prior to enrollment. May be repeated for credit. Recital sections (353, 453) also require the completion of recitals.

MUS 552, 553 Principal Applied. One to four semester hours (but 2 credits for 50-minutes of instruction weekly is typical for music majors). Private instruction for graduate music majors in keyboard, vocal instrumental, conducting, or composition. May be repeated for credit. Recital section (553) also requires the completion of recital.

Goals and Objectives

This course will provide instruction in standard performance practice for the clarinet as well as for pedagogical techniques and standard literature. Students will improve technical proficiency and musicality through the study of basic repertoire and exercises for the instrument. This course will also instruct students in the areas of music history and theory by the study of music and composers. It will present students with the opportunity to show progress on the instrument through performance.

Student Learning Outcomes

In this course, students will:

Majors

MUS 152: In level one principal applied lessons, students will perform selected repertoire suitable to the student's musical development with intermediate technique and musicianship in preparation for the upcoming junior level proficiency exam.

MUS 352, 353, 453: In level three principal applied lessons, students will perform selected repertoire suitable to the student's musical development with advanced technique and musicianship in preparation for the upcoming junior or senior recital.

MUS 552, 553: In level five principal applied lessons, graduate students will perform selected repertoire suitable to the student's musical development with professional level technique and musicianship in preparation for the upcoming graduate recital.

Course Requirements

Students are expected to actively participate in all assigned private lessons, studio classes, clarinet recitals, and guest artist events. Notification for excused absence must be received in advance. For excused absences students must access and watch available recorded recitals, studio classes and guest artist sessions. Students enrolled at the university as 'part-time' will have a reduced expectation for extra event attendance (50%) and may choose which of the required events to attend but must communicate with the professor(s) about their attendance in advance.

Students are expected to actively participate in all lessons by coming prepared and with all assigned materials. Practice preparation for undergraduate music majors should be a minimum of 60-90 minutes daily with increased expectations around the JLPE, all degree-required recitals, competitions, and graduate study. Practice logs are sometimes required so that faculty can better guide students in time management and effectiveness in the practice room.

All students must perform for a final jury exam unless substituting a required/adjudicated recital for a jury grade. Literature with piano accompaniment must be accompanied for jury and recital performance. This performance requires a piano rehearsal and a piano coaching with your professor prior to the performance. All music majors must also perform in public at least once during each semester of applied study. All stage performances must be preceded by a PASSED coaching and/or hearing. Depending on university and School of Music guidelines and best practices, this may be accomplished through either live or video performances. Please communicate frequently with your professor about your piano rehearsal, coaching, hearing, jury and public performance requirement.

Secondary applied and lower classmen are often expected to play less music and/or less demanding music. Lower classmen (152) are expected to perform a solo jury of minimum 7-minutes duration and as they progress through 4 semesters of study may be asked to perform more music and/or more complex music. Upperclassmen (352) are typically expected to be preparing enough music for either a junior-level 353 recital of 25-minute duration and some continue to a senior-level (performance major) 453 recital of 50-minute duration. Graduate students are expected to learn more music and often more demanding music in preparation for a minimum of one 50-minute 553 recital and may additionally be encouraged to compete, audition and perform more frequently. The professor will work with each individual student to determine level-appropriate expectations.

Students will be expected to purchase their own books and solo literature for this course. Copies of assigned copyright-protected literature are not permitted. Students are also expected to pay for their own piano accompanist.

Students are expected to demonstrate skills in pedagogy through their observation, analysis, and feedback of the performances of other students in Studio Class. This pedagogy requirement is guided by Dr. Druhan and/or Dr. Webb. Students are expected to gain skills in this area by the observation of teaching techniques in their own private lessons and through the observation of teaching techniques of other students in studio class, guest artist classes on campus, and optional conference attendance or optional observations of master teachers online. Graduate students may have specific pedagogy assignments and projects throughout their course of study.

Failure to meet the student expectations of this course may result in lowering of the final grade or dismissal from the course.

Required Textbook

Required materials are completely dependent on student level. As a general rule, every student is expected to have at least one scale book per semester, one etude book per semester, one unaccompanied solo per semester, and one accompanied solo per semester. This expectation is expanded for long performances and competitions. Please communicate often with your professor about necessary music.

Recommended Course Materials

Students are expected to have all materials necessary to perform for their lesson and studio class. This includes pencil, swab, all parts of the instrument(s), many reeds, reed working equipment, scale and etude and excerpt books, solo repertoire, notebook, metronome, tuner, computer/monitor/tablet, (for distance learning, if permitted) quality speakers/headphone, internet/WiFi access, and video capabilities (zoom, skype or facetime), etc.

For your first lesson, please arrive with your instrument ready-to-play, a notebook for assignments, your assigned scale book/assignment, the TMEA and ATSSB etudes for your instrument (if applicable), a solo(s) you plan to perform this semester, and your audition music for ensembles. If you have questions, please ask your instructor in advance and come prepared.

All course sections offered by Texas A&M University-Commerce have a corresponding course shell in the myLeo Online Learning Management System (LMS). You can access through Brightspace and/or MyLeo. You will need your campus-wide ID (CWID) and password to log into the course. If you do not know your CWID or have forgotten your password, contact the Center for IT Excellence (CITE) at 903.468.6000 or helpdesk@tamuc.edu. If you are having technical difficulty with any part of Brightspace, please contact Brightspace Technical Support at 1-877-325-7778.

Note: Personal computer and internet connection problems do not excuse the requirement to complete all course work in a timely and satisfactory manner. Each student needs to have a backup method to deal with these inevitable problems.

Grading

Average of the following semester grades weekly preparation lesson grades with Dr. Druhan and/or Dr. Webb grades will be determined over weekly lesson assignments all assignments have potential grading each week depending on time available gradesheet items include but are not limited to: warmups, fundamental exercises, drills, etudes, literature assigned, sight reading, and individual assignments. Ask your professor if you have any questions.

Hiring accompanist if applicable before September 19

If Applicable - Piano rehearsal before October 19

If applicable - Piano coaching before November 16

(1 averaged grade)

Students performing on the studio recital will have to move up their timeline for piano rehearsal and coaching dates or risk losing that performance opportunity.

written assignment:

Submit an updated resume before October 15

*Incomplete Semester Grade without this written assignment

(no grade)

NOTE: in the Recital Sections 353, 453, and 553 Applied Clarinet, the student will be assigned additional grade components which REQUIRE that the student pass the juried hearing and the juried recital in order to proceed to the recital. For D2L purposes, these course shells will have “pass/fail” requirements and grade points for the following to track progress:

successfully scheduling the recital	20 points
passed piano rehearsals	20 points
passed faculty coachings	20 points
passed recital hearings	20 points
passed recital grades	20 points the recital must pass in order to pass the overall course

If these requirements are not met, the recital section course grade will be assigned as a failing grade, regardless of the grade in the regular applied clarinet lessons. If the requirements are met, the regular applied lesson grade will be applied to the recital section to be averaged into the overall recital section as 90% of the overall grade 900 points. The final 10% comes from the 100 points outlined above.

See the Music Student Handbook for details on the degree-required recital process. See the D2L grade book for clarification on your recital section grading or come ask me in lessons or office hours.

Final grade assignment:

90 - 100% = A

80 - 89% = B

70 - 79% = C

60 - 69% = D

0 - 59% = F

Scheduled activities:

Studio classes are Mondays at 4 pm

Other dates will be announced on the 217 bulletin board and in studio class.

Course and University Procedures / Policies

Syllabus Change Policy

The syllabus is a guide. Circumstances and events, such as student progress, may make it necessary for the instructor to modify the syllabus during the semester. Any changes made to the syllabus will be announced in advance

Attendance Policy

See above. Excused absences (illness, injury, emergency) must be communicated in advance in order to qualify to be rescheduled. Rescheduling is very limited due to faculty and student schedules. Office hours may be used to meet with faculty for make-up time.

Late Assignments or Work

Every Passed school day [Monday through Friday] on late assignments results in lowering of the assignment grade by One full letter grade [10 points].

Academic Integrity

Students at Texas A&M University-Commerce are expected to maintain high standards of integrity and honesty in all of their scholastic work. For more details and the definition of academic dishonesty see the following procedures: Undergraduate Academic Dishonesty 13.99.99.R0.03
